U.N. Observers May Go to Suez

PEACE PICKET ARRESTED ... Houston Police arrest peace demonstrator Daniel J. Schacht, 22, one of some 30 peace demonstrators who grappled with 150 off-duty Marines in an American Legion back-the-war parade Sunday in Houston, Tex. Charged with failure to move on and released on $100 bond, Schacht was the only person arrested by police, who arrived five minutes after fighting began. (AP Photofax)

Reservists Tangle With Peace Marchers; No Discipline Seen

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — The commander of Marine reservists who battled peace demonstrators in a Houston park says no disciplinary action is planned against his men.

"I've had no complaints about them," said Lt. Col. Karl E. Moore, their commander.

About 150 men of his unit, uniformed and headed home after weekend drill, slugged it out for five minutes Sunday with 30 peace pickets, who brought up the rear of an American Legion back-the-war parade through Hermann Park.

No one was hurt badly but there were numerous cuts and bloody noses.

Police arrived as Marine officers were ordering the reservists to retreat.

The pickets were members of the Houston Committee to End the War in Vietnam. Students for a Democratic Society and the local chapter of the Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee. They fell in behind members of the John Birch Society marching with some 5,000 flag carrying war backers.

Marine Maj. Bill Sherburne, a reserve officer from a separate unit, said he told the fatigue-clad Marines to fall in between the Birchers and the pickets.

"I told them, 'Don't let anyone move through you,'" he said.

Reuther Asks Bonus Plan, Sure Income

By A. F. MAHAN

DETROIT (AP) — Walter P. Reuther indicated today his United Auto Workers Union would demand a bonus based on profits and payable on top of a guaranteed annual income in new contracts with the automotive industry this year.

Reuther's disclosure came in a news conference just before the first of the 1967 bargaining sessions began, this one at the nation's largest automaker, General Motors Corp.

Shortly before, Louis G. Seaton, GM vice president for personnel, hinted the corporation was agreeable to a wage increase but added that "this appears to be a crucial economic year—for GM and for the nation."

Asked if he were going to talk about profit sharing in this year's negotiations, Reuther told a news conference, "We're going to talk about 'equity sharing.'"

He then explained an attempt would be made to win a basic salary for workers, just like executives, and that "after the year is over and we know exactly what the size of the profit pie is, the worker shall be entitled to a second increment" in pay.

Reuther has made a guaranteed annual income a top priority in this year's negotiations and says a worker must know at the beginning of a year what his income will be for the next 12 months, any layoffs notwithstanding.

The Detroit News reported, meanwhile, that a poll of UAW members showed they placed the guaranteed annual income proposal a poor third in their preferences in this summer's contract talks. Wages ranked first, with retirement program improvements—earlier retirement—emphasized a distant second.

Seaton said earlier the auto industry's cost-of-living clause, which increased wages 68 cents hourly during the current three-year pact, "must be given full recognition in negotiating a new contract."

GM workers were described by Seaton as being in the top third income group in the United States with an average wage, "including cost-of-living allowances and many fringe benefits" of $4.98 per hour.

"Furthermore," he added, "their straight-time wages are 30 per cent above the average for all manufacturing employees throughout the country."

Negroes Riot in Waterloo

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A wave of destruction—window smashing, looting and rock throwing—grew into major proportions early today in the predominantly Negro North End of Waterloo, Iowa, before police dispersed the crowds.

Several persons were injured including two Negroes and three whites cut by flying glass when rocks struck their cars.

Cause of the outbreak in the northeastern Iowa city of about 75,000 population, including some 6,000 Negroes, was not known, said police chief Robert Wright. He noted there had been minor disturbances there the previous two nights.

Dr. Warren Nash, a Negro physician, said Negro dissatisfaction in Waterloo is caused by "the usual things—housing, employment."

A new disturbance broke out Sunday in Tampa, Fla., where rioting began last month. A white helmet patrol, formed of about 150 Negro youths, manned the streets of Negro areas where the police had imposed a curfew to stop the racial violence.

A quiet night was reported today by police with no recurrence of the window smashing, looting and firebombing that had erupted early Sunday.

Tampa Mayor Nick Nuccio charged that the outbreak was not a racial matter, but was caused by "a bunch of young hoodlums trying to go and steal."

Another racial disorder was reported in Kansas City, Mo. More than a dozen arrests were reported by police in one section of Swope Park, a public recreation area on the city's east side.

The incident reportedly began with the arrest of a Negro on a charge of illegal sale of liquor in the park.

The outlook of Negroes on the civil rights revolution is to be debated in Boston during the 5th annual convention of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

Criticism of the black power movement was reiterated Sunday by Roy Wilkins, executive director of the 441,000-member organization. However, he also told a news conference there will be more racial riots unless the white community does more to help Negroes with jobs, housing and economic security.

LBJ Back From 'First' Vacation

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson returned to the White House early today from his first acknowledged vacation since becoming chief executive.

Johnson and wife Lady Bird spent nearly 11 days at their Texas ranch. The President handled a daily flow of office routine but still managed to devote much of his time to relaxation—to auto tours of his hill country cattle-and-deer properties and to boating excursions on Lake Lyndon B. Johnson.

During past Texas stays, the White House invariably pictured Johnson as hard at work on official chores much of the time—and this often was the case. This time, however, aides readily acknowledged even volunteered, that the President was trying to get as much rest and relaxation as possible.

LeVander Picks Law Study Unit

ST. PAUL (AP) — A Governor's Commission on Law Enforcement, Administration of Justice, and Corrections was named today by Gov. Harold LeVander.

The governor told a news conference the purpose of the commission "will be to consider and make recommendations on new techniques dealing with crime. That means in prevention, apprehension, courts and corrections."

Stronger law enforcement was among LeVander's major campaign planks last year.

The commission is to have three committees — law enforcement, with Atty. Gen. Douglas Head as chairman; courts, headed by Supreme Court Justice James C. Otis, and corrections, with Corrections Commissioner Paul DeVe as chairman.

More than 60 other law enforcement and court officials, professors, lawyers and citizens were named to the committees. "We have not yet fully applied scientific technological methods to fighting crime on a statewide basis," LeVander said.

He said he wants the commission to make recommendations for legislation in the 1969 Legislature and for programs that can be undertaken without new laws.

A somewhat similar commission was named by LeVander's predecessor, Gov. Karl F. Roalvaag, but Otis said today that it did not function before the change in administration.

Cruisers Hit Gun Positions

SAIGON (AP) — Three U.S. Navy cruisers pounded Communist gun positions in the demilitarized zone Sunday as the Red guns kept up their lethal artillery and rocket barrages on sandbagged Marine positions just below the zone.

The U.S. Command also reported that photographs of a bombing raid near Hanoi showed the Communists may have lost 68 of their antiaircraft missiles to one devastating naval air strike.

Off the demilitarized zone, the heavy cruiser Boston joined the heavy cruiser St. Paul and the light cruiser Providence and the three moved close inshore to pound Red positions with 15 8-inch guns, 6 6-inch guns and 5 5-inch guns. The 8-inchers can reach almost 15 miles inside the zone.

The heavy blow at the Soviet-built missile base came two days ago when Navy fliers hit a barracks area and missile storage site at Ban Yen Nanh, 14 miles southeast of Hanoi. It was the first raid against the area which apparently had been well scouted by reconnaissance planes.

A spokesman said pilot reports and photos after the strike disclosed that 68 canisters in which missiles are stored were hit by the raiding planes and the area was dotted with flames, explosions and broken wreckage.

The spokesman said the photographs did not disclose whether missiles were actually inside the canisters but it was likely they were loaded. However, the canisters were not believed to have contained the explosive warheads of the 37-foot-long missiles.

Amid the continuing artillery and rocket attacks on the Marines, seven Red rockets ripped up the runway at the Dong Ha airstrip 11 miles below the zone.

Thant Plan Still Subject To Acceptance

By WILLIAM N. OATIS

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The U.N. Security Council decided today to send military observers to the Suez Canal cease-fire line, scene of Israeli and Egyptian troop clashes the past two weeks.

The Israeli Cabinet met in Jerusalem to consider whether it will permit the U.N. force to take up positions on the eastern side of the Canal. Authoritative sources indicated Israel would have no objection as long as the arrangement was temporary.

Secretary-General U. Thant also will seek the approval of Egypt for stationing the observers on Egypt's west bank of the canal. Egypt wants more information on the plan before giving approval.

Cairo radio said King Hussein of Jordan arrived in the Egyptian capital to a hero's welcome to meet with four Arab government chiefs gathered there. He was welcomed by President Gamal Abdel Nasser.

Already in Cairo were President Houari Boumedienne of Algeria and Nouredin Atassi of Syria. Both are following a hard line toward Israel, and Algeria has refused to accept the U.N. cease-fire that halted the Israeli-Arab war June 10 after six days of fighting.

Already in Cairo was President Honari Boumedienne of Algeria. President Nouredin Atassi of Syria is expected. Both are following a hard line toward Israel, and Algeria has refused to accept the U.N. cease-fire that halted the Israeli-Arab war June 10 after six days.

President Abdel Rahman Aref of Iraq is expected to join the other four later in what will be a little Arab summit conference but not the kind envisioned by Hussein, who wants all Arab nations represented.

There was speculation that Hussein would urge moderation toward Israel, since he lost the Old City of Jerusalem, a source of tourist income, and the good farming land on the west side of the River Jordan in the war with Israel. If so, he will clash with Boumedienne and Atassi.

An Israeli army jeep hit a mine on a road east of the Suez Canal Sunday, killing one soldier and wounding two others, an Israeli military spokesman said. He said other mines were found and there were footprints between the canal and the road.

The Security Council met to hear Israeli and Egyptian countercharges stemming from a nine-hour battle of airplanes and artillery along the canal Saturday. The semi-official Cairo newspaper Al-Ahram said Egypt would need to know the observers' exact job and the extent of their authority before agreeing to accept them. These details were left to be worked out by Thant and Norwegian Lt. Gen. Odd Bull, chief of the U.N. Truce Organization in Palestine.

An authoritative Israeli source said Israel would agree to cease-fire observers but not to revival of the truce supervisory mission which supervised the working of the 1949 armistice agreements. Israel contends the June war wiped out that truce.

Nobel Prize Winners Plan Peace Effort

OSLO, Norway (AP) — A number of Nobel Peace Prize winners have agreed to make a joint effort to mediate in the war in Vietnam, the newspaper Verdens Gang said today.

It reported that the Rev. Domènec Georges Pire of Belgium, a Roman Catholic priest, and Philip J. Noel-Baker of Britain will leave for Hanoi later this month for talks with North Vietnamese leaders.

Father Pire, 87, won the prize in 1958 for his work with refugees in Europe after World War II. Noel-Baker, 77, won his in 1959 for his efforts as a statesman and author toward world disarmament.

McNamara Doubts Enemy's Troop Strength Increased

By PETER ARNETT

SAIGON (AP) — Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara completed spot checks of battle zones of South Vietnam today and an informant said he was not fully convinced the Communists had increased their troop strength significantly over the past six to nine months.

This report of McNamara's conclusion appeared to cast a cloud on a request by the U.S. Military Command in Saigon for more U.S. manpower. Gen. William C. Westmoreland, the U.S. commander, is said to have asked for an additional 100,000 to 140,000 men. The United States now has 486,000 men in South Vietnam.

McNamara, who is on his ninth inspection tour of South Vietnam, returned to Saigon from two days of field trips. He plans final talks with U.S. Command strategists before leaving Tuesday night.

The informant said McNamara is doubtful of U.S. intelligence reports of recent North Vietnamese troop buildups in the South. These reports say the North Vietnamese infiltrated 10,000 men — the equivalent of a division — in the past three months. McNamara was said to feel that this infiltration was an effort to replace troops lost in battles against U.S. forces.

The secretary toured the Demilitarized Zone area Sunday and saw U.S. Marines and North Vietnamese engaged in sharp artillery duels. The zone is the scene of the sharpest fighting of the war.

McNamara flew to the Mekong Delta today and said he found on his spot checks that the multimillion-dollar pacification program is "proceeding very slowly" but that large-scale military operations have been going well for months.

McNamara spent much of today getting briefed on the Mekong Delta region that sprawls south from Saigon and has long been the heartland of the Viet Cong movement.

He talked briefly to newsmen during a visit to the U.S. combined Army-Navy Mobile Riverine Force that operates in the northern waters of the delta.

"We must be realistic and recognize that the pacification effort is still proceeding very slowly," said the secretary.

"But I am encouraged by the improvement in the organization that has taken place in recent weeks and I hope to see more rapid progress."

He was referring to the recent placement of all civilian American agencies involved in the program under military control. Accompanying McNamara on his swing through the delta were senior men from both the military and civilian sides of the program.

McNamara said he had "noticed a tremendous change in both ground and air operations" since his last visit in October.

"The large unit operations have been going very well for the past four months," he said.

"These large unit operations have relieved enemy main force pressure on the regional and popular forces which are the backbone of the antiguerrilla effort."

He said it was "much too early to say" whether more troops are needed in the delta, a region of eight million people much of which is controlled by the Viet Cong.

WWII WACs Have Galesville Reunion

GALESVILLE, Wis. — Ever since the close of World War II in 1945 several of the 259 women who enlisted in the first women's service unit and went into training at Fort Des Moines, Iowa, in 1943 gathered for an annual reunion. Last weekend they were here.

In 1943 all 259 were sent from Des Moines to Eglin Field 60 miles from Valparaiso, Fla., a proving ground for Army and Air Force equipment and men which remained secret and was unknown by that name until after the war.

HERE MAJ. Jimmy Doolittle and his crew trained for the first bombing in Japan, made famous later by the motion picture, "Thirty Seconds Over Tokyo" starring Spencer Tracy as Maj. Doolittle.

The girls didn't know what really was happening at the field; they just did their work as Jeep drivers, secretaries, etc. Miss E. Gladys Dawson, now a realtor at Ingleside, Calif., and member of the board of directors of the California State Real Estate Association, became a first sergeant. Mrs. Gus Nevrel, Bellwood, Ill., was transferred overseas, serving in England and France, and there met the boy who had lived down the street from her in their home town, who she later married. Mrs. Nevrel is past commander of Helen J. Ross American Legion Post, Chicago, all composed of women. Mrs. Edwin Jeemen, Riverside, Ill., is post finance officer.

Mrs. W. A. Sexton, East Liverpool, Ohio, arrived at Galesville via Anchorage, Alaska, where she had visited friends, flying to the Winona airport, where their hostess, Mrs. Frank Dahlgren, Galesville, met her. Her husband, S. M. Sgt. Sexton, is due to arrive in the States soon and they will be stationed at Andrews Air Force Base, Md., beginning in September.

MRS. ROBERT DeVaney, Osprey, Fla., has received the Sarasota County, Fla., VFW citizenship medal of the year. The women spent Friday at Perot State Park, Trempealeau, Saturday morning at a business meeting they elected Mrs. Louise Turner Muse, San Antonio, Tex., as their new commander. Next summer's reunion will be at San Antonio during the HemisFair, scheduled in July.

Because of rainy weather a picnic scheduled for High Cliff Park here Saturday noon was moved indoors at the Dahlgren residence. A dinner at Watson's Supper Club Saturday night and breakfast at Dahlgren's Sunday morning closed the reunion.

Four women from Minneapolis, members of Chapter 20, National WAC Veterans, four from Portland, Ore., and a couple from Reedsburg, Wis., joined them late Friday and Saturday, bringing the attendance to 35, including husbands who are the "Auxiliary."

The old WAC unit has had a reunion somewhere in the U.S. every year. Their biggest reunions have been back at Eglin Field, Fla., where they meet every 10 years. The next one there will be in 1970.

Bar Employes Aid Servicemen In Hong Kong

HONG KONG (AP) — Bar employes and the U.S. shore patrol saved visiting American servicemen from injury in savage riots which killed three pro-Communist Chinese rioters and a Hong Kong policeman Sunday night and today.

While mobs rampaged through the streets, burning cars and buses, smashing store fronts and hurling acid, bottles, bricks and rocks at police, bar girls, doormen and managers pulled U.S. servicemen inside to safety and called the shore patrol.

"Good business, that's all," said a Chinese bar manager, adding that if a serviceman "gets beat up or killed by a mob on the street, the whole damn area goes off limits and we all go bankrupt."

Between 1,500 and 2,000 U.S. Army, Marine and Air Force men visit Hong Kong, on Red China's southeast border, each week on five-day rest leaves. A large flotilla may bring as many as 10,000 Navy men to the British colony at once. U.S. servicemen spend an estimated $40 million a year in Hong Kong.

Pro-Communist rioting and violent anti-British demonstrations plagued the colony in May. Communists since then have tried constantly to disrupt Hong Kong with labor strife.

Firefighters' Class Gets Practical Test

ST. CHARLES, Minn. — The summer fire school of the Southeastern Minnesota Regional Fire Fighters Association had no more started in St. Charles Sunday afternoon when the host fire department had an opportunity to put on an unplanned demonstration.

An alarm was received that a car was on fire three blocks from the fire station, where the men had assembled. Fire trucks had been moved to the street to make room for the 110 firemen attending, so within 30 seconds the truck was at the scene. The fire was extinguished but there was engine damage.

Some 40 wives also came with the 27 fire departments represented. They were taken on a tour of Home Produce here and on a bus trip to White-water Park, rejoining the men for a social hour and dinner catered at the fire station by Del's Cafe. Del Rubberg, proprietor of the cafe, was host at the meeting as he is St. Charles fire department chief.

THE CLASSES for firemen were conducted at the grade school. Cleo Kelper of the firemen's training division of the state Department of Education spoke on characteristics of fire; technicians with the John Bean Division and Waterloo Pump Co. discussed high pressure and volume pumps; Arnold Biederman and Everett Grinolds, Albert Lea firemen, talked on tornado follow-up, having had experience following tornadoes there this spring, and Bruce Johnstone, fire marshal with the Winona Fire Department and president of the Tri-County Fire Fighters Association, talked on hose handling and care.

A moment of silence was observed in memory of Eldon Wettlaufer, Albert Lea fire chief, who died last week. The next regional meeting will be in Rochester in early October. The Tri-County group will meet at St. Charles in mid-August.

Marine Recalls Nightmare in Viet Jungle

CORPUS CHRISTI, Tex. (AP) — Marine Cpl. Domingo Trevino was thousands of miles from the Vietnam war today but he will never forget the jungle ambush last Sunday near Con Thien. The 20-year-old San Marcos native, a radio operator, was struck in the left leg by sniper fire. That was only the beginning of a nightmare. "The North Vietnamese were in the jungle all around us — dug in," Trevino said. "We were pinned down in an open area along a trail. I thought they had killed everybody."

Trevino lost consciousness but awoke as the enemy fired a machine gun nearby. Instead of playing dead, Trevino opened up with his M16 rifle and fired a magazine of 17 bullets. The return fire struck him in the right shoulder. His flak jacket slowed one bullet. Then the North Vietnamese pounced on him and tied his hands. "I don't know how far they dragged me" through the jungle, Trevino said. "I passed out several times."

Finally his captors dropped him by a large tree and disappeared in the jungle. American soldiers found him and he was loaded aboard a tank. It struck a land mine and lost a tread. Infantrymen carried him to a clearing.

Artillery rounds landed nearby. Trevino was finally put aboard a helicopter that carried him to a hospital. The next day

Station Wagon Flips Over; 3 Escape Injury

At 2:30 p.m. Saturday, the Highway Patrol investigated a one car accident on Highway 61 six miles south of Winona. According to patrol reports, Wayne L. Albrecht, 18, 350 44th Ave., Goodview, driving south on the highway, skidded off the wet pavement after a blow-out in his left rear tire.

The vehicle entered the ditch backwards, hit an embankment, flipped over and landed on its wheels. Neither Albrecht nor his two teen-age passengers were injured. The vehicle, a 1957 model station wagon, was a total loss.

20,000 See Fireworks Cap Steamboat Days

Winona's 1967 Steamboat Days celebration ended on a successful and noisy note Sunday night as an estimated 20,000 people turned out for the gigantic fireworks display. Earlier a standing room only crowd watched the final Vaughn Monroe stage show. General Chairman Kurt Reinhard said Monday that Sunday afternoon's boat races were also attended by a crowd numbering in the thousands.

REINHARD added, "Crowd-wise, this year was one of the best, despite the disappointing weather on Saturday. Reinhard also said that more Steamboat Days buttons were sold this year than before, but that the exact amount won't be known until later in the week.

Wayne Valentine, one of the celebration's publicists echoed Reinhard's sentiments.

Valentine said, "I think everybody concerned feels this year's celebration was one of the best, although a lot of people were worried on Saturday because of the weather."

Three persons were killed and two critically injured in a car-truck crash and three pedestrians were also among the eight persons who died on Minnesota highways over the weekend.

Committee Votes 4-2 for Badger Car Safety Check

MADISON (AP) — A Senate Assembly compromise committee restored annual vehicle inspections to Gov. Warren P. Knowles, traffic safety package today in a shaky agreement still unassured of survival.

The committee's vote was 4-2, with two assemblymen objecting to the inspections.

Before a final package can be returned to the floor, all but one committee member from each house must agree to the contents.

The tentative vote on vehicle inspections came as the committee plunged into serious work to try to rebuild the safety bill shredded by the Assembly two weeks ago.

Traffic safety is the last remaining paramount issue to be solved before the legislature quits for the summer.

Area Man Who Fled Reformatory Back in Custody

CHATFIELD, Minn. — A 24-year-old Chatfield man who was one of six inmates who fled from the St. Cloud Reformatory farm colony last week is back in custody, officials at Sandstone Prison said this morning.

He is Jimmy Joe Sutherland, who pleaded guilty to forgery in Fillmore County District Court in March 1966, and following a pre-sentence investigation was sentenced to not to exceed 10 years to the state Commissioner of Corrections. He forged a $20 check.

Two left the minimum security farm colony Sunday afternoon, and four escaped Saturday night.

Two were picked up in a Minneapolis call by city police. Three of the Saturday night group were nabbed near Monticello.

Supt. Jack Young of St. Cloud Reformatory said one prisoner was still missing today. He said reformatory guards spotted Dale Evans, Brainerd, and three other escapees in a boat on the Mississippi River near Monticello Sunday. One of the four gave up immediately.

Two of the three who abandoned the boat were captured. The search for the sixth prisoner was called off Sunday night because of darkness and hordes of mosquitoes.

MILWAUKEE (AP) — A 14-year-old boy was turned over to juvenile authorities Sunday in connection with the fatal stabbing earlier of Mrs. Lucille A. Tushoski, 30, of Milwaukee.

Police said the woman was apparently stabbed as she lay in bed in her nightclothes, but she was able to make her way to the dining room, where she collapsed.

The medical examiner's office said Mrs. Tushoski died of a stab wound in the heart, inflicted with a knife or other instrument at least six inches long.

First Wabasha County Fatality

Girl Killed in Flaming Crash

MAZEPPA, Minn. (Special) — A 17-year-old Pine Island girl became a torch after the 1965 car in which she was riding went out of control and hit a tree one mile south of Mazeppa on Wabasha County Road 1 at 10:50 p.m. Saturday. Marjorie Stucky, however, died instantly of a broken neck before the car exploded and burst into flames, Coroner John Nehring said. She was thrown through the windshield. Members of the Mazeppa fire department found the front of her body hanging over the dash on to the hood and the lower part still in the car when they had extinguished the flames.

Two 18-year-old boys from Pine Island had been thrown from the vehicle as it failed to make a turn in the road, crashed through the railing on a bridge, hit a tree, and exploded into flames.

ROBERT Riess, reported as the driver, and David Tilbury were dazed and incoherent, firemen said, and apparently unable to answer when firemen asked them if there was anyone else in the car so the blackened body of the girl, her clothes burned off, wasn't found until after the fire was out.

The car hung over the bank below, the back wheels held by the cement culvert abutment.

The accident was witnessed by Ervin Sibley, Mazeppa. The Pine Island car had passed him and he was following when he saw the flash. Both vehicles were traveling south. The Pine Island young people apparently were en route home from Mazeppa, where they had been seen during the evening.

THE BOYS were taken by ambulance to St. Mary's Hospital, Rochester, where Riess was examined and dismissed. Tilbury was still in the hospital this morning with fractures of both wrists, abrasions and flesh injuries to one hand.

The Wabasha County sheriff's department is continuing the investigation today.

This is Wabasha County's first fatality of the year.

Tax Forms Being Sent To Merchants

Declaration of Owner of Personal Property forms are being sent out to merchants in Winona County this week by the supervisor of assessments office here.

"The 1967 Tax Reform and Relief Act passed by the 1967 Minnesota Legislature provides that a taxpayer may elect to have either his inventory or tools and equipment exempt from personal property tax for the 1967 assessment (taxes payable in 1968)," said David Sauer, county supervisor of assessments.

If a taxpayer wishes to have "tools and equipment" exempt from personal property tax, he must sign this form and return it on or before Sept. 1. If he does not return the form, the law provides that his inventory will be exempt.

All merchants will not receive the form. In some cases the inventory figure is so much higher than the tools and machinery that it's obvious that the merchant would want inventory exempt, and he does not need to file a declaration for this purpose.

"In other cases the equipment was not exempted by the 1967 Legislature, and so he can not file a declaration to have it exempted. This would apply to fixtures and equipment of trades and professions, and the Commissioner of Taxation has ruled that most of the equipment in a grocery store is taxable. As stated above it is not necessary to file a declaration to have the inventory exempted, and so those merchants who do not receive a declaration form would automatically have their inventory exempted," Sauer said.

Merchants in the city of Winona should send their declarations to Donald O'Dea, city assessor, and those in the rest of Winona County should send them to David Sauer, county supervisor of assessments.

The forms include a copy of the law regarding this exemption choice. A short explanation is also included.

HARRIS SURVEY

Majority Holds With Israeli View on Peace

By LOUIS HARRIS

By sweeping majorities — many of them over 80 percent — the American people support the principal arguments by Israel for a permanent peace in the Middle East. By 3 to 1 the public rejects the original Arab and Russian position in the United Nations that Israel first withdraw its troops from Arab territory before other issues can be settled.

Seven out of 10, however, think that the formerly Jordanian sector of Jerusalem should not be absorbed by Israel, but that Jerusalem should be made an international city open to all. And a majority believes that Israel should make concessions to Arabs displaced from their former homeland.

Key Israeli concerns meet with this kind of overwhelming approval in the United States: —82 percent believe that Israel's existence as a sovereign state should be formally accepted by the Arab nations.

—88 percent think that Israel should be guaranteed the right to send ships through the Gulf of Agaba where an Egyptian blockade of Israel's Port of Elath helped trigger the recent hostilities.

—85 percent feel that Israel should also have freedom of passage through the Suez Canal.

Two demands made by Russian Premier Alexei Kosygin in support of the Arabs are rejected by a decisive majority of Americans: —By 79-7 percent Americans oppose any U. N. condemnation of Israel as the aggressor in the war and making Israel pay reparations for war damage to the Arab nations.

—By 62-21 percent, U. S. public opinion rejects Israeli withdrawal from occupied territory as a precondition to negotiations.

Both propositions were rejected at the special session of the U. N. General Assembly this past week.

The key to peace in the Middle East, two out of three Americans believe, is to have the world's major powers guarantee all countries in the region against attack by their neighbors. Despite the inability of the United Nations to prevent the most recent war there, 58 percent believe that the U. N. Security Council is the place where peace terms should be worked out. However, there is some disagreement over the best procedure for arriving at a settlement. And 87 percent also say they favor the Arabs and Israelis working out a settlement without outside interference.

A carefully drawn cross section of the American people was asked: "As far as the Middle East situation is concerned, do you tend to agree or disagree that:"

Israel should be guaranteed the right to send ships through the Gulf of Agaba	88	1	11

New Surveyor Device Should Prevent Bounce

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — Scientists say the Surveyor 4 spacecraft scheduled to take off for the moon Thursday will carry electronic insurance against the double bounce that nearly ruined Surveyor 3's landing April 19.

Surveyor 3's radar system, designed to cut off its descent, braked rockets 14 feet above the lunar surface, became confused by some mysteriously reflective rocks as the craft neared touchdown.

The engines kept burning and rocketed the three-legged vehicle 35 feet high on the first bound, 20 feet on the second. They were shut off by command from earth and the craft settled down in a crater some 30 feet away.

Luckily it remained upright and was able to meet its main goals of digging small trenches in the lunar soil and televising pictures of them to earth.

Jet Propulsion Laboratory, released the first official explanation of the mishap, Sunday. It said the unusually reflective rocks have not been identified and there is no way of telling whether the same hazard exists in Surveyor 4's landing area. To prevent recurrence, however, the part of its electronic brain which could be confused by unexpected radar reflections will be by-passed during Surveyor 4's descent.

Plans call for Surveyor 4 to land Saturday night in Sinus Medii, the central bay, near the center of the moon about 400 miles northeast of the now inactive Surveyor 3.

Jackie Coogan's Wife Injured in Crash, Gives Birth to Boy

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP) — The wife of actor Jackie Coogan has given birth to a six-pound boy after spending most of her pregnancy in a hospital recovering from an auto accident.

She was listed in critical condition several times during her four-month hospital stay, a family spokesman said. Mrs. Coogan was allowed to go home about three months ago.

Smiling Ed Helps Shani Into Film

By EARL WILSON

LONDON — There's an orange-haired Cockney girl named Shani Wallis who left London for America to try to get into pictures in Hollywood and New York . . . didn't make it . . . but cut some records and worked supper clubs . . . till one night Ed Sullivan used her on his TV show.

"Next day," she says, "I had a call from Mike Frankovich of Columbia Pictures who said, 'Hey, when you coming to California? I think I've got something for you in London — playing a Cockney girl.'"

So now Shani Wallis is luxuriously escorted here as the female star of "Oliver," her first picture, thanks to Smiling Ed.

"THERE WAS a lot of people trying for the part," Shani said. "I even heard Elizabeth Taylor was interested. And that Jean Simmons took singing lessons. It's one of those things that you don't feel is really going to happen. You think, 'Oh, that's miles and miles away.' And suddenly it's happened."

One story told here is that Shani did a "fantastic test," belting out "As Long As He Needs Me" unbelievably.

"When I was in America, I had to get rid of my Cockney accent," Shani told me. "Now they have me learning it again. I have one friend who can get me back on Cockney in one day. He keeps saying 'It's ridiculous, it's ridiculous!' I guess he's referring to my story."

Shani played the Plaza Persian Room, and worked in Las Vegas and around the country, and appeared in seven stage shows in America — but the only Broadway show she was in was "A Time For Singing" with Tessie O'Shea. That's the one she was in when Smiling Ed waved his magic wand.

You can look for Shani's career to zoom from her on. Just the other day at the studio, Jerry Lewis yelled "Hi, Shani!"

SECRET STUFF: A famed movie personality's recent marriage to his long-time girl friend had two interested guests — their teen-age sons.

Beattie George Harrison and wife Patti have their mod clothes made by the same London designer . . . Att'y Melvin Belli wants Tony Curtis to play the role of Att'y Melvin Belli in a film bio . . . Shirley MacLaine and brother Warren Beatty are both at the Moscow Film Festival.

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: "My wife decorated the house in Early American," says Al Gottlieb. "Only the cost is Modern."

WISH I'D SAID THAT: Now, adays an optimist is a guy who thinks tomorrow's bad news may be just a little better than today's . . . Ray Fine.

REMEMBERED QUOTE: "Evil triumphs when good men do nothing."

EARL'S PEARLS: Jesse Kaplan recalled the line: "If it's true that all the world loves a lover, why are there house detectives?"

Lynn Lichty (of Antwerp, O.) wanted to go along with the "Hire A Veteran Week" idea but Gen. Eisenhower already had a Gen. . . . That's early, brother.

Plan School Probe on Rights Act

By JACK MILLER

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government plans major investigations of Northern school systems to hunt possible violations of the Civil Rights Act.

Peter Libassi, director of civil rights enforcement for the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, told The Associated Press in an interview he hopes the new effort can begin early next year.

He said the move will require a large buildup in enforcement personnel and will begin slowly.

Libassi, a young, straight-talking lawyer, stressed the action will not be an attack on racial imbalance as such. He said it will be aimed at practices which federal courts have found to be violations of the constitutional rights of Negro children.

The enforcement chief said these practices include: — Drawing school district lines so as to keep white and Negro children in separate schools.

— Using optional attendance zones between white and Negro neighborhoods so white students who would normally go to a Negro school can choose a white one instead.

— Assigning white teachers only to white schools, Negro teachers only to Negro schools.

— Failing to provide teachers, facilities and services which assure Negro school children educational opportunities equal to those of whites.

The U. S. Office of Education for some time has been looking into alleged civil rights violations in the North, but on a very limited scale.

Why is the new move being made now?

First, says Libassi, the government has had all it could do since 1964 to bring an end to the South's established school segregation. Now that job is nearly done. Of the 5,000 dual school systems existing in 1964 there will be only about 1,500 left this fall.

And Libassi says a recent amendment to the federal school aid bill passed by the House "is a clear delineation that there should be greater emphasis in the North" on compliance with nondiscrimination provisions.

The amendment, sponsored by Rep. Edith Green D-Ore, said the education office's school desegregation guidelines must be enforced equally throughout the country.

The guidelines were set up specifically for the South as a means of bringing it into compliance gradually. Such guidelines simply won't apply to the North, federal officials say privately, because there are no known dual school systems there and what discrimination exists rarely is obvious.

Libassi said his department will have to work out a policy for dealing with the North.

Without saying so directly, he made clear he believes various federal court decisions give the government all it needs to press for compliance in the North.

Libassi emphasized the new policy will not go into effect suddenly, that it's "not going to

Badger Assembly Back in Session

MADISON (AP) — The state Assembly will return to work Tuesday for a three-day run while the Senate continues its Capitol boycott in the impasse over Gov. Warren P. Knowles' traffic safety bill.

The Assembly will discuss expansion of the presidential primary, an $844 million highways and special funds budget, and two stormy education issues while a joint compromise committee tries to reassemble the shattered safety bill.

Assembly Speaker Harold Froehlich, R-Appleton, said his house would meet only through Thursday and expected to clean up its major tasks within those three days.

What the Assembly does after that will depend on progress on the traffic safety measure, he said.

The compromise committee met for the first time last Friday and laid the groundwork to start its serious drive toward agreement at a second round of talks today.

Indiana Passenger Killed in Tomah As Plane Crashes

TOMAH (AP) — A Fort Wayne, Ind., man was killed and two others injured Sunday when a single-engine plane crashed on takeoff from Tomah airport after its engine stalled and hit a power line.

Killed when the plane slammed into a ditch along U.S. Highway 12 was Russell Wells, 67. Injured were the pilot, John Rarick, 48, and Richey J. Beyhan, 17, also of Fort Wayne.

The three were en route to Rarick's cabin at Rice Lake, Wis., for a fishing trip. They had stopped at Tomah Saturday night because of unsuitable weather.

Wisconsin Government Will Change Radically

By JAMES R. POLK
Associated Press Writer

MADISON — With a final stroke of the governor's pen Wednesday, Wisconsin government will change beyond recognition.

The far-reaching Kellett plan to streamline state government after a century of cobwebs and cubbyhole agencies will mean new names, new faces and, for a while, new problems.

IN THE long run, it is meant to make state government less expensive, more efficient and much easier to keep track of. Starting Aug. 1, the Kellett blueprint will rearrange 84 agencies of the executive branch of government into 28 major departments and boards.

Wisconsin's legislature is the first in the nation to achieve reorganization of its state government without a constitutional sword hanging over it.

"It is truly a remarkable achievement," said Gov. Warren P. Knowles when the Assembly and the Senate approved the final version of the Kellett Bill June 29 after six months of bitter battles.

KNOWLES has said the reorganization of state agencies will save taxpayers anywhere from $3 million to $15 million by the rate of government's growth.

The Kellett bill is designed to provide the broad guidelines for greater efficiency in government by grouping agencies according to their activities and giving the heads of the new departments the responsibility for making the detailed changes.

"This is really just the start," said Administration Aide Glen Pommerening, the governor's troubleshooter who worked closely with the Kellett plan.

The full task of rewriting laws, of rearranging jobs and responsibilities may take as long as four more years, Pommerening said.

THE PLAN abolishes a few agencies and other commissions, like the Board of Health, will become mainly advisory, with the real authority given to the heads of the new departments. Some, like the Conservation Commission and the Resource Development Board, will be swallowed up entirely in the creation of the new agencies.

Even titles will change where agencies remain largely the same. Jim Morgan, director of the Department of Taxation, will wear the title of secretary of revenue after Aug. 1.

THE KELLETT plan rearranges the executive branch of government into 14 major departments and 14 independent boards. The latter, such as the Public Service Commission, are unaffected by the realignment.

The bill does not touch the most expensive area of government, education.

The biggest victory was won by the veterans, who forced the Kellett task force to retreat last winter in its original plan to combine the assistance programs with the new Department of Health and Social Services.

The Highway Commission, the Motor Vehicle Department and the Aeronautics Commission will be combined in a new Department of Transportation. The Highway Commission will keep its decision-making powers, but the secretary of transportation will be able to rearrange department duties.

THE SELECTION of a new secretary of local affairs and development is one of more than two dozen key appointments to be made by Knowles by Aug. 1.

Knowles will have added influence over the course of government through the new appointments he will make, although many of Wisconsin's traditionally powerful commissions will still remain independent of the governor in their operations.

THE 14 MAJOR departments under the semi-cabinet government: Administration — Created in 1959 in an attempt to reorganize government at that time, it already includes the Bureau of Engineering, Bureau of Personnel, and budget and purchasing roles. It will also take over the state planning duties now embodied in the Department of Resource Development.

Health and Social Services — With a budget of more than a quarter of a billion dollars, the new department will handle welfare aid, mental health, prisons, programs for the aging, vocational rehabilitation, milk testing, health services, and hospital regulations. It is formed mainly from the Department of Welfare and the Board of Health.

Revenue — The old Department of Taxation with a new name.

Transportation — The Highway Commission, the Motor Vehicle Department and the Aeronautics Commission will each become a division under a new secretary of transportation. This merger, among the least publicized because it was accepted from the start by key highway officials, is considered among the most important in the bill.

Justice — Headed by the attorney general, the department will embrace his legal staff, plus the state crime laboratory, the arson investigation previously under the Insurance Department, and the beverage and cigarette tax investigations.

Veterans Affairs — Still dominated by the state's veterans organizations, who crushed all attempts to change the agency.

Military Affairs — A new title for the office of the adjutant general, who heads the National Guard.

Local Affairs and Development — The most powerful fresh job created under the Kellett Bill is the secretary of local affairs who will not only guide the new efforts to aid local government but will also supervise present activities in Civil Defense, economic development and the state fair.

Public Instruction — Headed by the superintendent of public instruction and left unchanged.

Industry, Labor and Human Relations — Formerly known as the Industrial Commission, the department will remain under the same three-man board but will take on added duties of the Governor's Commission on Human Rights. It will also inspect migrant labor camps.

Natural Resources — This is the well-publicized merger of conservation and resource development and, without it, the bill might not have been possible at all. The resistance of the Conservation Department created a visible backlash among the lawmakers while obscuring all other agencies' objections to mergers. The Kellett bill came out of the legislature with a mid-1968 merger deadline a full year ahead of the date originally recommended by the task force.

Employee Trust Funds — Five funds for retirement benefits for teachers and state employees will have the same secretarial services but the money in the funds will be kept separate.

Regulation and Licensing — Fourteen boards who passed out licenses for everything from watchmakers to chiropractors will keep their powers but will be grouped in one department to provide more efficiency in clerical work and costs. The licensing ranges from architects and accountants to dentists, doctors and druggists to even private detectives, professional wrestlers and public showmen.

FOURTEEN other boards and commissions remain outside the Kellett reshuffling.

The independent agencies are the University of Wisconsin, the nine state universities, vocational education, the Coordinating Committee for Higher Education, the Historical Society, the Public Service Commission, the Grain and Warehouse Commission, the Wisconsin Employment Relations Board, and the commissioners of banking, savings and loan, insurance and securities.

Metro Area Could Bring Savings

A METROPOLITAN area for Winona to include all surrounding Minnesota communities such as Homer, Minnesota City and other nearby ones just outside the city limits was discussed briefly at a Chamber of Commerce committee meeting the other evening. It is a suggestion worthy of thought and study.

Such an area could be a step toward lower taxes, better services, and less governmental duplication by overlapping units. There could be better and more modern solutions to many similar problems and a centralized school system for which legislation has been enacted.

Area planning and zoning already beyond the discussion stage on the county level could be coordinated under the metropolitan plan. How about fire and police protection, now an actuality, but unofficial? In case of a major fire all departments would voluntarily help as probably would police forces in case of a riot threatening any one of the communities.

Suburban expansions, as these areas grow and become intensified, requiring sanitation and management facilities such as sewers, water, and paved streets which are costly to the unit, but to the area a mere item of operating expense, would hardly be noticed on the over-all tax bill.

Suburban development on a growing scale is facing the Winona area community today. It will increase in the future.

THAT A COMMITTEE has given some thought to this problem is encouraging and should be explored further so this city of tomorrow doesn't face the headaches common for many American cities today.

Our University Gets New President

(Minneapolis Star)

MALCOLM CHARLES MOOS, scholar, author, public servant, foundation executive, political scientist, newspaperman and a "ghost writer" for former President Eisenhower and Gov. Nelson Rockefeller. Welcome back!

As successor to O. Meredith Wilson as president of the University of Minnesota, Dr. Moos returns to his native state and his alma mater well qualified by background and temperament for the task of leading a large state university. He is sensitive, yet wise in the ways of the political world. He is an intellectual's intellectual, yet attuned to the thinking of the average man. He is dignified without being stuffy, with a nimble wit that he does not hesitate to turn upon himself.

It would be narrow provincialism to praise the choice of Dr. Moos merely, or even mostly, because he is a returned native. Yet, he gives the impression that he never really left. And this quality is important both for the political and the intellectual roles in which a state university is cast.

HE CAN BE expected to win the confidence of parents, taxpayers, legislators and political office holders, regardless of party and despite his now "shucked off" liberal Republican activism. It is no accident that one of his friends is Hubert Humphrey and another is Mayor Naftalin, for Dr. Moos is a political pro's pro.

He can be expected to win the confidence of the faculty, students and alumni, despite his lack of administrative experience. He is imbued with the substantive spirit of what a university is, and a vision of what it can and should be. He grasps the reasons for the discontent that is sweeping not only students but faculty members in the great conglomerate universities like this one. He sees therefore the need for more student participation in administration.

As a former activist himself, he believes activists (he cited Walter Heller) make the best teachers. As a political scientist and one time researcher for the League of Minnesota Municipalities, he believes universities must become deeply involved in urban problems "scrubbing up the urban sprawl" with research help, and sending students into the battle for academic credit. This has broad implications both nationally and for the Twin Cities.

THE FLEXIBILITY and analytical turn of mind, and the good humor Dr. Moos displayed at his first meeting with the press suggests that he has the final attribute to survive the sure to come slings and arrows: He looks as though he can take it.

And all flesh shall see the salvation of God. — Luke 3:6.

TODAY IN WORLD AFFAIRS

U. N. Set Back By Inaction

By DAVID LAWRENCE

The Soviet Union was reported in the headlines generally as having been "defeated" in the United Nations when its resolution endeavoring to blame the Israelis as the aggressors in the Middle East war was rejected by the U.N. General Assembly. But it was really the U.N. itself which suffered a severe defeat in the eyes of the world.

For the international organization of which so much has been expected failed to face up to the real issue in the Middle East dispute. First it was essential that a verdict on the statement of the facts be submitted. Secondly, competent legal authorities should have been asked to state the obligations of each side under international law.

The world will not move toward more effective procedures to achieve peace until fact-finding in a disinterested way is accomplished. Principles then can be applied which have universal support. To try to settle a dispute between rivals otherwise means only that their respective allies will line up also on opposite sides and, in the end, a political verdict is rendered.

IT TAKES A two-thirds vote of the United Nations Assembly to enact a resolution that is binding on the parties to a controversy. But none of the resolutions of the Middle East war obtained a two-thirds vote. Many of the member states realized this would happen and cast their votes for or against one side or the other, knowing beforehand that eventually no resolution would be put into effect.

The Israeli-Arab quarrel could have been submitted to a fact-finding commission or a court of law in the first place to make an authoritative exposition of what had actually transpired. The threat to close the Gulf of Aqaba as well as the Suez Canal and the movement of Egyptian troops toward the Israeli border were relevant factors prior to the firing of the first shots on June 5. Unless disputes of this kind are carefully analyzed and the truth is revealed to the whole world, the United Nations itself cannot make much progress in bringing about peace or in preventing wars.

It is a matter of regret that the United Nations has not conducted its activities in a way that could win widespread support. The spectacle of a variety of resolutions being introduced by partisan groups is not a creditable one and is not calculated to enhance the prestige of the United Nations.

Nor is the behavior of the Soviet government since the "ceasefire" likely to be regarded throughout the world as helping the cause of peace. The Soviets permitted their president, Nikolai Podgorny, to visit the Arab States and to promise more military aid. His mission has been construed as one that would incite further hostilities. The Soviet Union is portrayed as intent on assisting the Arab countries to re-open the war, rather than on finding a formula to encourage them to live in peace with adjacent peoples.

It is important for the nonbelligerent countries to produce an atmosphere of reconciliation and peace. President De Gaulle of France, for instance, has not contributed anything to the process of making peace in the Middle East. On the contrary, he has helped to spread the impression that France is a partisan of the Arab States and intends to remain so.

When the heads of governments ignore the need for bringing the contending countries together and instead contribute to a continuance of bitter feeling, there can be little hope that the United Nations will take constructive steps.

The United Nations is only as strong as its most powerful members. As long as the political influence exerted by the large countries on the smaller states is centered on building up factionalism and partisanship, the United Nations can hardly become the instrument of world peace which it was designed to be by its founders.

THE WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

Rifle Group Leading Charmed Lobbying Life

By DREW PEARSON and JACK ANDERSON

WASHINGTON — The American public doesn't know it, but it is directly supporting one of the most potent lobbying groups on Capitol Hill — the National Rifle Association.

Shortly after President Kennedy's assassination, legislation was introduced in Congress putting relatively mild curbs on trade in firearms and requiring them to be registered. The Senate bill introduced by Tom Dodd, D-Conn., was approved by the firearms manufacturers of Connecticut and was chiefly aimed at the mail-order business in foreign arms.

Nevertheless, nearly four years after Kennedy's death, this relatively mild legislation has not passed. Reason: The National Rifle Association. Congressmen say that they have been flooded with letters, phone calls and personal visits from this persuasive and potent lobby. They have bowed to its pressure despite the following facts which the public doesn't know.

1. THE RIFLE association is a non-profit, tax-exempt organization which, unlike other tax-exempt institutions, is permitted to lobby. If other tax-exempt organizations lobby, their tax-exempt status is removed. But the NRA has special exemption.

2. The rifle association receives a subsidy from the Defense Department totaling $2,717,300 a year. It's supposed to use this money to train American citizens in target practice, not indirectly to lobby before Congress.

3. Indirectly this subsidy may contribute to big city rioting this summer. Sen. Ted Kennedy, D-Mass., has called the attention of the Defense Department to the fact that the "Revolutionary Action Movement" in New York, which had formed the Jamaica Rifle and Pistol Club as a cover for the possession of illegal weapons, had plotted the assassination of national civil rights leaders.

"THIS CLUB," charged Sen. Kennedy, "apparently was affiliated with and received a certificate of endorsement from the National Rifle Association, and thus under present regulations was entitled to participate in the civilian marksmanship program of the Defense Department."

4. The National Rifle Association is using Camp Perry, Ohio, for its annual target practice, at the expense of the taxpayers, at the very same time the camp is needed as an overflow for boys, to prevent big city riots.

Rep. Charles Vanik, Cleveland Democrat, has requested the Defense Department to make Camp Perry available as a summer camp for 5,000 underprivileged boys. Vanik argued that the failure to provide summer jobs for the youth of Ohio cities made it imperative to use Camp Perry on the shores of Lake Erie.

Vanik had discovered the major participants in Cleveland rioting have been youngsters aged 8 to 15. Last month the million-dollar Gidding school in the Cleveland Hough area was burned down by youngsters armed with homemade firebombs. Rep. Vanik has raised $100,000 locally to finance a summer camp program for 1,500 underprivileged children, but asked the Defense Department to open Camp Perry for 5,000 more.

The answer was: "No." The reason was: "The National Rifle Association's target competition."

THE 8,000 participants in this rifle match travel to and from Camp Perry at public expense and are billeted on the camp grounds free of charge.

Pentagon officials admit that in this day of anti-ballistic missiles and nuclear weapons, target practice is a long way from being as important as when the NRA subsidy was first voted in 1916 at the beginning of World War I.

Nevertheless, Camp Perry will resound to the crack of rifle shots this summer while the slums of Cleveland will resound to the crack of firebombs.

NOTE 1 — In Washington Vice President Humphrey has persuaded the National Guard to open up armories in various parts of the country as youth recreation centers this summer. Humphrey argued that the armories were used for National Guard only once a week and could be used as recreation centers six nights a week. The vice president also persuaded the Pentagon to send 16 service bands to play concerts in the poorer sections of Washington instead of exclusively in front of the Senate and the Lincoln Memorial.

NOTE 2 — When this column asked the National Rifle Association for the amount of subsidy it received from the federal government, it hesitated. Money paid by taxpayers is supposed to be a matter of public record and not a secret. However, a reply has not yet been received from the NRA. The figure had to be obtained from the Defense Department.

WASHINGTON CALLING

Medicare Boasts Record of Success

By MARQUIS CHILDS

WASHINGTON — At least two cheers should go up for the anniversary just past. Medicare is one year old and, despite some delays and dislocations, it has been instituted with remarkable success.

To put 19,000,000 people under a program entirely new to American medical practice and resisted by a large part of the organized medical profession as a socialist intrusion on the free way of life was no small task. As President Johnson has said, this is the greatest single civilian undertaking since World War II.

Small wonder that Social Security Commissioner Robert M. Ball is proud of what he and his staff have been able to accomplish. His report on the first 12 months bulges with impressive statistics — 4,000,000 persons for inpatient hospital services; $2.4 billion paid to hospitals for these services; 25,000,000 doctor bills for which $40,000,000 was paid out.

THE GLOOM and doom opponents of Medicare predicted that so many people over 65 would rush to the hospitals for free service that hospital care would inevitably break down. This has not happened. The expected increase has been within reasonable limits, according to Ball. There has been a 15 to 20 percent increase in hospital use by those qualifying under Medicare but this has resulted in less than a five percent increase in total hospital use.

The President with his extraordinary capacity for spreading his interest far and wide, together with his driving energy, has helped to nurse the program along. He was determined to bring into active cooperation groups, such as the American Medical Association, that had fought Medicare. Under his direction Social Security contracted with Blue Cross, Blue Shield and 27 commercial insurance companies to administer both the hospital and doctors' service phases.

Not the least of the achievement is the integration of the hospitals as required under the Civil Rights Act before they could benefit from Medicare. Of 6,550 hospitals throughout the country only 146 cannot qualify. Of the latter 43 are in Mississippi, 21 in Alabama and the rest scattered throughout the South.

This is a revolution in custom and behavior. Blacks and whites share rooms in Southern hospitals. Where Negro doctors qualify they serve on hospital staffs.

AT THE START of Medicare delays in the repayment to individuals for what they had paid out to doctors, unwilling to accept responsibility for collecting directly from Social Security, caused hardships. Older people on small incomes had to borrow money to meet these obligations while they waited often for months to be reimbursed. Ball says that the waiting time has now been reduced to days instead of weeks in virtually every state. There are still problems in administering certain outpatient phases of Medicare, with the need perhaps to make minor changes in the law.

With these minor qualifications the overwhelming fact is that millions of Americans are getting quality medical care, many of them for the first time in their lives. They are getting it as a right grounded in the Social Security System and not, as the American Medical Association would have it in its swing toward reaction, as a privilege. Nor is there evidence that the program has contributed substantially to the spiraling costs of medical care.

Pride of achievement to one side, when measured against need this is a small revolution indeed. Sargent Shriver produced the other day appalling figures to show how in affluent America with the highest medical standards in the world roughly one-third of the nation has little or no share in the benefits of medicine or dentistry.

TWO BLACK marks on the record point this up. One is the high proportion of rejections in the draft for physical reasons. The second is the fact that the rate of infant mortality in the U. S. stands seventh or eighth in the list of nations below countries with far more scarce resources. Britain, Germany, and the Scandinavian countries have long since instituted

To Your Good Health

Answers To Your Questions

Dear Dr. Moizer: Would you do me a favor and write about what causes liver disease. It is important that people understand that it is not alone due to drinking. I have liver disease but drink nothing alcoholic. I used to drink beer every night but it never hampered my appetite. — F.R.

I've said so before. I'll repeat it. Liver disease can result from several things. Alcohol (probably combined with poor nutrition in most cases, since hard drinkers often don't eat properly) is only one.

Sometimes prolonged faulty nutrition is the cause, with no alcohol involved at all. Various poisonous substances can damage the liver greatly. And hepatitis, which is liver disease, is caused by viruses.

TO 'PIGEON BREEDER'S WIFE': Since my recent answer to you, I note the results of studies at the University of Wisconsin showing that some people are allergic to pigeon dust, and "pigeon breeder's disease" can be serious for such people, unless treated. Symptoms include fever, chest pain, chills, shortness of breath, cough, loss of weight.

ed health-care programs covering not just those over 65 but all peoples.

It was so long in coming, with Harry Truman denounced as a dangerous radical for daring to propose it, that Medicare must seem the successful end of the road rather than merely a beginning. The pinch of the cost of the war in Vietnam and the threat of a big government deficit, together with the increasingly conservative temper of Congress, seems to put a period to any further advance. Shriver is battling to save his poverty program from destruction with the odds against him.

Yet Medicare proved what can be done. And history has shown that revolutions can rarely be checked in mid-course.

Dear Abby:

This Husband Has Kissing 'Hang-Up'

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I think something is wrong with my husband. He hasn't kissed me since Jan. 10, 1964. That's the day we were married. I am 22 and Le Roy is 23, and we have two adorable children.

Everybody in our whole family knows about how Le Roy never kisses me, and it's just terrible. Yesterday I went to kiss him, and he turned his head away and said, "I don't kiss anybody."

His mother said, "Le Roy, your wife isn't just anybody." He shrugged his shoulders and said, "I just don't like to kiss, so sue me," and that was the end of it.

I keep myself immaculate, Abby, and my mouth is always clean, so that's not it. It doesn't seem natural for a married man not to want to kiss his own wife. I am almost at the end of my rope. I'll do anything you say. Please help me. UNKISSED

DEAR UNKISSED: Le Roy is the one who needs the help. He has a "hang-up" on kissing. And until (and unless) he wants to overcome it, you will either have to learn how to live without Le Roy's kisses, or you may have to learn to live without Le Roy.

DEAR ABBY: Now I've seen everything! An obviously pregnant woman in a mini-skirt!

Don't you think there ought to be a law against people who don't have any more sense than to go out on the street looking like that?

DEAR SEEN: I can only repeat the immortal words of Jim Klobuchar: "Never in the history of fashion has so little material been raised so high to reveal so much that needs to be covered so badly."

DEAR ABBY: I am 19 and have been dating a certain young man a short while. I enjoy his company very much, and he seems to enjoy mine.

Recently I heard that he was engaged to another girl, so I asked him for the truth. He told me that he definitely was NOT engaged to anyone, and that he liked me very much.

I believed him. Now, again, I heard from a good friend that not only IS he engaged, but he gave the girl a diamond last Christmas.

I don't want to date him if he is engaged because I don't want to start trouble, and besides I'd only be wasting my time. The problem is: Who should I believe? What should I do?

DEAR TROUBLED: Tell the young man that you heard he gave a girl a diamond last Christmas, and watch his reaction. It shouldn't be too difficult to learn the truth about an official engagement. Personally, I would believe a person until I caught him lying.

DEAR ABBY: It is very late but something is compelling me to write this letter.

After several years of marriage, and nearly as many miscarriages, my husband and I heard of a prospective unwed mother who was willing to give up her unborn baby. We were thrilled, but didn't dare to get our hopes up just in case something went wrong. Well, everything went fine. We now feel that we lost our babies because God in His infinite wisdom was preparing us for the most precious gift of all — having a chosen child.

Abby, never have we known such happiness, such peace and harmony in our marriage.

As our son grows older we will tell him of his real mother's love for him. I doubt if I could have been as brave and unselfish as she was. Although I don't know his real mother personally, I pray for her. I pray that this letter may ease the burden of just one unwed mother's heart, for it expresses that which all adoptive parents feel.

A HAPPY MOTHER

State Tax Yield Up $29.5 Million

ST. PAUL (AP) — Minnesota collected $505,153,499 in levies administered by the Tax Department for the fiscal year ended June 30, it was announced Saturday.

The amount is a $29.5 million increase over the previous fiscal year.

The total for the 1965-67 biennium was nearly $981 million, or $141.8 million more than was anticipated by then-Tax Commissioner Rolland Hatfield when the legislature approved the biennial budget in May 1965.

The $141.8 million does not represent a surplus, since exact spending figures for the period ended June 30 have not been reported by state officials.

While inflation and economic growth are credited with boosting the tax revenue, inflation also is contributing to rising costs of state government.

In announcing the revenues for the fiscal 1967 year, Gov. Harold LeVander praised Hatfield, now commissioner of administration, and Tax Commissioner Rufus Logan for accuracy in forecasting revenues.

He noted that a $501.5 million estimate submitted to the legislature last May 9 was seven-tenths of one per cent below actual collections of $505 million.

Texas Boy Drowns In St. Paul Park

ST. PAUL PARK, Minn. (AP) — The son of a National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA) official drowned in the Mississippi River Sunday.

The Washington County coroner's office identified the victim as Daniel Lampert, 9, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold G. Lampert of Dickinson, Tex.

The Lamperts and their five children were visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Fenster of St. Paul Park. The Fenster home is about 200 feet from the river.

The youngster was playing the river and apparently fell into the 12-foot deep waters, the coroner's office said.

CENSORSHIP LIFTED.

BAGHDAD, Iraq (AP) — The Guidance Ministry has lifted the censorship imposed on Iraq newspapers at the outbreak of the Middle East war June 5, but dailies will continue to be limited to four pages until the crisis is over in order to save hard currency spent on newsprint.

Nason on Education

Discipline at Home And School Behavior

By LESLIE J. NASON, ED. D. University of Southern Calif.

The first day of school need not be a scary one for a child, nor a fearful one for mother. It should be a happy experience for everyone concerned, even including the teacher. But it can be happy for all only if both mother and child are prepared to make it so.

Children under five adopt the attitudes that their mothers expect them to adopt. When mothers are fearful that there will be a scene on the first day of school, there usually is. If mothers expect their children to enter school happily, they do.

In one district it was announced that not all children could be accepted for kindergarten. Those who evidenced readiness upon arrival at school would be the ones accepted.

ON THE first day a seeming miracle took place: Every child left his mother without a fuss. Obviously the mothers had prepared the children properly for this moment. And no matter how much some mothers may have wanted to cry, they didn't.

Ordinarily in the first semester of a child's school experience, whether it be pre-school, kindergarten or first grade, the major concern is training in proper group behavior.

A child can be trained to be comfortable and happy away from his mother. This should the arm and said: "Your mother said: 'time for bed.' In a matter of a week or two, Ed was going to school ready to be taught.

IT TOOK A year for Ed to make up for the three years he had wasted. He could have just as well entered kindergarten with the background of this home training and been a success from the start.

A child doesn't automatically know the techniques of getting along in a group. This as with all other types of behavior requires training.

In a large family, a child can be taught to respect the belongings of the other children. He can learn to take his turn on play equipment and learn to respect the rights of others.

In small families, mothers should take their children to parks with playground equipment and train them to take their turn happily. Children can learn to help other children and to watch out for their safety.

Mothers can give them a preview of living in a group, and with only one child to teach in this group situation they can provide pre-school training better than the teacher who must work with 25 youngsters simultaneously.

Is It Worse Than Yelling 'Fire'?

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Somebody yelled "snake!" at a bus depot Sunday and pandemonium reigned.

Lock Repair on Seaway Called Urgent Necessity

WASHINGTON (AP) — Failure to repair Eisenhower Lock in the U.S. portion of the St. Lawrence Seaway could force an indefinite closing of the entire 2,342-mile Great Lakes-to-the-Atlantic system.

The possibility was reported to Congress by Joseph H. McCann, administrator of the St. Lawrence Seaway Development Corp., the government agency which administers and maintains the American section of the waterway, built in cooperation with Canada.

McCann's warning that the lock must be repaired — over a 5-year period at an estimated total cost of $13 million — was given to a House Appropriations subcommittee. His testimony was made public Sunday by the group.

McCann said abnormal deterioration of the lock's concrete was first noted in 1964. He said repairs, to the extent practicable, were made during the non-navigation winter seasons last year and the year before.

He said there is no danger to navigation this year because of the condition of the lock, constructed in 1959 at a cost of more than $21 million. It is located near Massena, N.Y.

But the repair work must be started this year, as soon as the seaway is shut down for the winter, McCann said. He estimated the first year's cost at $3.6 million.

Housing Authority Immune From State Sales Tax

ST. PAUL (AP) — A housing and redevelopment authority does not have to pay Minnesota's 3 per cent selective sales tax that goes into effect Aug. 1, the attorney general's office said today.

Atty. Gen. Douglas Head answered a question by State Rep. Jack Fena of Hibbing, attorney for that city's Housing and Redevelopment Authority.

Fena wanted to know whether the authority had to pay the tax on gas and water it buys from the Hibbing Public Utilities Commission for its low-rent housing.

Head noted that the heat and water charge is not passed on to the tenants. He said the sales tax law exempts federal, state and local governments from the levy.

House of the Week

Partial 2-Story Adds Flexibility

By ANDY LANG

The L shape of this house not only adds interest to the exterior, but makes possible what might be called an economical expansion.

With the bedroom wing running the depth of the house, architect Herman H. York has provided an expansion area above that wing. The remainder of the house, comprising the living room, dining room, kitchen and foyer, is really a one-story unit, avoiding the extra expense that would be incurred if there were a full second-story.

THE NET result of all this is an extremely flexible arrangement, permitting a family to have two, three, four or five bedrooms as it desired. If it required only two bedrooms on the first floor, it could use the unfinished attic for storage or, if necessary, add two upstairs bedrooms at a later date.

If three bedrooms on one floor were the requirement, the room designated on the floor plan as "family room, den or bedroom" would be utilized for sleeping. It is strategically located for any purpose, being at one end of the bedroom hall and near the main bath, yet accessible to both the kitchen and the rear terrace.

A walk-in closet and a private bath are in the sizable master bedroom. Even the smallest bedroom has 168 square feet of floor area.

MOVING through the covered entry into the spacious foyer, the view to the right includes the full living room, with a fireplace at the far end, and a portion of the adjacent dining room. Although the kitchen lies directly behind the foyer, only the dinette area is immediately visible, the working part of the kitchen being hidden from view.

Between the kitchen and the family room is a laundry large enough for a washer, dryer, tub and mud closet, as well as space for an ironing board. There are three entrances to the rear terrace — from the family room, laundry area and kitchen.

Two bedrooms, a bath and a large amount of closet space are planned upstairs. One of the bedrooms is 16 feet by 11 feet, with the other a big 18 feet by 16 feet.

ARCHITECT York has suggested the exterior use of masonry, either brick or stone, in the center between the bedroom and garage projections. He points out that stopping the PLEASANT AND ADAPTABLE . . . Looking somewhat like an L-shaped ranch, this inviting house actually is a partial two-story, with the second floor only over the bedroom wing, providing sufficient expansion area for a family needing two extra bedrooms.

FLOOR PLANS . . . If upstairs is not utilized, first floor of this house is well laid-out for a family requiring only two or three bedrooms. Room at rear left is properly located so that it can be used as a family room, den or an extra bedroom.

G-96 Statistics

Design G-96 has a kitchen, living room, dining room, laundry, foyer, two bedrooms, two baths and a family room on the first floor, with a total habitable area of 1922 square feet, not including the two-car garage.

The partial second floor can be made into two bedrooms and a bath, with 708 additional square feet, but can be left unfinished if not immediately needed. The overall dimensions, including the garage, are 78 ft. by 43 ft. 4 in.

Bathroom Unit Shown at Fair—All One Piece

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Writer

"I'll have two bathrooms, please. . . ."

It is not far fetched to say that one day we will be ordering bathrooms over a store counter. Give the man dimensions, color schemes and fixture requirements and the bathroom will be shipped home into a niche.

THE IDEA of mass-produced complete bathrooms is becoming a reality, points out industrial designer Howard Clark of Salt Lake City, who developed two of eight prefabricated bathrooms shown in New York.

One of the eight bathrooms is used at the Habitat housing demonstration at Expo 67 in Montreal where box-like molds of three factory - joined sections were hoisted in place. A pre-molded tub-shower combination that includes three walls and a diagonal tub in one seamless unit now is on the market. The Habitat bathroom is also going to market.

Clark's innovation is a one-piece floor and toilet housing that is a single element. The housing fits over the standard china fixture with an adapter. Water closet is enclosed in the wall. The housing is designed so it can be used also as a vanity stool, Clark explains.

IN DESIGNING the bathrooms, recommendations made by a 1966 Cornell University study were carried out, he points out, resulting in an oval tub with sloping back that is four inches deeper than the usual tub. . . . wider wash basins. . . . vanities that conform to the average consumer's height.

Bathrooms developed by Clark and his design group show the oval tub surrounded by wall panels of the plastic as well as floor and housing, sculptured wash basins and ceiling molded of the material.

Federal Government Builds Home for South Dakota Indians

WASHINGTON (AP) — The federal government has started a low-cost housing program on the Rosebud Sioux Indian Reservation in South Dakota where it says an estimated 90 per cent of the families live in sub-standard homes.

The Bureau of Indian Affairs said Saturday that 69 of the 375 planned new homes are finished. "Admittedly utilitarian by American suburban standards," the bureau said in its announcement, "most contain neither electricity nor running water, although provisions to add both are built in."

The average family income on the reservation, the bureau said, is less than $1,500 a year and 65 per cent of its labor force is unemployed.

the brick is dark, the shingles might be painted white, or if light brick or stone is used, the shingles might be left in their natural cedar color.

THE ROOF can be either light or dark, depending for contrast on the color of the sidewalls. In any case, simplicity should be the keynote when color and texture are involved.

Dimensions of the basic house are 55 feet by 43 feet 4 inches, with the two-car garage shown in the floor plan adding 23 feet to the width.

fences and shrubs for background help to provide shelter. It's best to have the patio near the kitchen, electrical outlets and storage of equipment.

Surfacing materials for the patio are grouped into two classifications—soft and hard surfaces. Soft surfaces include turf, loose aggregate gravel, washed sand or granite chips. Hard surfaces may be concrete (block or brush surface), stone, wood block or decking, compacted clay or gravel aggregates. These materials can be used in many patterns and textures. Combinations of materials are also popular.

Soft surfaces have the advantage of not requiring a subsurface fill or base. A disadvantage is the maintenance requirements for keeping them smooth, level and clean.

The first step in patio construction is preparation of the subgrade. Drainage should be away from the house. There should be at least 1 inch of slope for each 10 feet of surface area. For hard-surface construction, 4 inches of sand should be used as a subfill to prevent frost heaving.

With stone or patio block construction, sand can be used to fill the inter-spaces or they can be mortared.

Wood preservative is recommended for wooden blocks for decking.

Since the patio must meet legal construction standards, it is wise to get a copy of building codes for your locality before starting.

PATIO CONSTRUCTION

The patio can enrich out-of-door living for most Minnesotans. The patio can also be an economical way to expand the living space of the home. It can be used as a living room, recreation room, a place for sunning or a ready-made kitchen for out-door picnic and barbecue.

The patio can be located anywhere within the private area of the landscape development. However, it should have some shelter from wind and sun during the hottest part of the day. Wind screen helps to extend the season both in early spring and in fall. Screen

Mobile Store To Operate in Wisconsin Area

DURAND, Wis. — The federal government has granted $23,865 to the West Central Wisconsin Community Agency of Menomonie so it can provide a store on wheels that sells items for physically and mentally handicapped persons.

The money will purchase a mobile store, pay for a director, and meet the wages of three full-time employees. Mrs. Vera Affett, Eau Claire, will direct the project.

The store will be pulled from town to town in Pepin, Dunn, Pierce and the other counties in the agency. Jaycee, Lions and other service clubs will be asked to provide a local resident to work in a booth with a handicapped person in selling the goods.

There are about 550 handicapped persons in the seven counties who will be given an opportunity to purchase raw materials for making items for sale. Mrs. Affett will visit handicapped persons in their homes and help them plan items for the store.

The mobile home will be operated for the first time at the Dunn County Fair, Menomonie.

Rochester Youth Drowning Victim In Faribault Lake

FARIBAULT, Minn. (AP)—A Rochester, Minn., youth drowned in Cedar Lake, near Faribault, Sunday after the canoe he and a companion were using capsized.

The victim was James Vincent Beyer, 20.

Authorities said Beyer and a friend, Sally Boyum, Minneapolis, were in the canoe which capsized about 11:15 a.m. Miss Boyum swam about 200 feet to shore.

Beyer also started for shore, but apparently changed his mind. He turned around and tried to swim back to the canoe, but went down.

Sheriffs officers and Faribault firemen recovered the body about an hour later.

Civil Service Pay Increased In Minnesota

ST. PAUL (AP) — Pay raises for Minnesota's 19,000 state employees with an annual price tag of $18 million for wage increases of up to 32 per cent went into effect last week.

The raises are figured on percentage basis.

Both the new pay scale and a freeze on merit raises imposed last month have brought complaints from State Employees Union officials.

An example of what the union assistant director Frank Frisson called "wild variation" in increases is that a clerk making about $3,000 a year gets a $270 annual raise.

However, on the higher Civil Service levels, the raises for four assistant highway commissioners will be $2,748 per annum — up from last year's $16,224 to $18,972.

The biggest Civil Service state raise this year went to State Budget Director Norman Dybdahl. Last year his salary was $13,872. After one merit raise, a transfer to the highest salary range and the new increase, Dybdahl's salary will be $18,972 or up $5,100.

James Fritze of the Department of Civil Service said that while all state employees will receive at least an eight per cent raise, some will receive no more money in their July 28 checks than before.

Fritze said the law specifies that increases be based on last year's salary with no more than one merit raise computed since that time.

The merit pay freeze — ordered by Hatfield to allow the Civil Service time to adjust to the new conversion categories — will apply through Oct. 1.

Frisson said the State Employees Union was "unhappy about the moratorium and we've already protested to Hatfield about it."

Twins Sweep White Sox

RACE TO
THE BAG

Earn Split To Remain 2½ Behind

CHICAGO (AP) — Cal Ermer, mild-mannered and still relatively unknown, has the Minnesota Twins moving toward what might be the American League pennant.

When Cal Griffith announced Ermer would replace Sam Mele as manager of the Twins early last month, the cry unanimously was "Cal Who?"

Some fans still are hard pressed for an answer when asked suddenly "Who's the manager of the Twins?"

The name is Cal Ermer and all Ermer has done since taking over the Twins is direct them to 20 victories in 31 games. The surge has lifted Minnesota into third place, one-half game behind Detroit and only 2½ games behind the American League leading Chicago White Sox.

The Twins did it with a double victory over Chicago Sunday, 7-4 and 5-1, as pitchers Jim Kaat and Dave Boswell came through with key hits.

"What a difference those two games make," murmured Ermer. "If we'd have lost those two we'd have been 6½ games out. Now we're only 2½ out. It doesn't take much."

When the Twins came to Chicago they were riding an eight-game winning streak. They lost 2-1 Friday night when the Sox scored both of their runs with two out in the ninth on a boot by shortstop Zoilo Versalles. The following day Tommy John shut them out 1-0 on three hits.

"They certainly put our backs against the wall," said Ermer, "but it was great to see our boys bounce back. I've said all along that this team is definitely a contender and there's nothing I've seen to make me change my mind."

Griffith, who shocked the baseball world by naming the 43-year-old Ermer to replace Mele, says "I made the switch because I thought our club was good enough to win the pennant and Sam wasn't doing the job."

"I've had my eye on Ermer a long time and felt he could do the job. Now I'm certain we can win the pennant."

Griffith isn't the only one who thinks so. Most of the Twins think so including Kaat who has done a complete turnabout. Kaat had a 1-7 record earlier in the season and now has won seven of his last eight decisions to even his record at 8-8.

"I couldn't get my breaking stuff over and my fast ball isn't that good," said Kaat who was a 25-game winner last year and recorded 18 triumphs when the Twins won the pennant in 1965.

"I just had to work it out," said Kaat. "I'm still not real sharp and haven't been too good in my last two starts. I was lucky out there today. We got a lot of runs."

"We" sure did. Kaat started a tie-breaking, two-run rally in the fifth inning of the opener with a single and then slammed a two-run homer in the sixth inning to clinch the victory.

Boswell also had a big hand in the second game victory and singled home the lead run in a tie-breaking, two-run rally in the fourth inning.

Eddie Stanky, manager of the White Sox, didn't seem too shaken over the double loss.

"We were due for a bad day," said Stanky. "We lose two games and we're still two games ahead of everyone. If we do as well in the second half of the season, we'll win the pennant by four games. That won't be too bad, will it?"

The Twins collected 14 hits in the opener, after being held to five hits in the first two games of the series. Minnesota was out-hit 8-6 in the nightcap.

Versalles had three singles for Minnesota in the opener, while Allison, Rich Rollins and Kaat each had a double and triple for the White Sox.

Boswell was the only Twin to get two hits in the second game. Wayne Causey had two hits for Chicago.

In splitting the crucial four-game series, the teams remained tied in the season's series with six wins apiece.

The two White Sox runs in the eighth inning of the opener were unearned because Versalles was charged with an error on a high throw on Ray Berry's grounder to open the inning and the runs later scored with two out.

Of the eight runs the White Sox scored in the eighth, only one was earned.

EN ROUTE TO EXPO 67

Utah Hydro Driver Steals Show

By BOB JUNGHANS
Daily News Sports Writer

For a few moments at Levee Park Sunday afternoon there were some red faces. The cause of them was a fellow from Ogden, Utah, by the name of Ken Furniss.

Furniss happened into Winona by accident, en route to Expo 67. But he did stop by long enough to compete in the hydroplane races, an annual feature of Steamboat Days.

Furniss' problem was that he had the only Class A hydroplane in the field. Class A boats are equipped with engines of no more than 150 cubic inches. With the consent of the other drivers Furniss was allowed to compete in Class F, however. Class F is the fastest group of hydroplanes, powered by 266 cubic inch engines. And, like in the Biblical fable, David whipped Goliath.

With nothing but the sound of his engine and a tall rooster tail following him within hailing distance, Furniss ran away from the bigger boats in the first Class F heat. In the second heat he ran first for two laps but finally succumbed to one of the Class F monsters driven by Mike Koziel of Minneapolis, and finished second.

Furniss, who gained the honor of coming the farthest distance to compete in the Steamboat Days competition, is a slightly built interior decorator with executive grey hair. He's been racing hydroplanes since 1938, and the reason he's headed for Expo 67 is to capture the World Class A inboard hydroplane championship, which will be run Friday through Sunday this week.

"I'm serious enough about it to drive 4,500 miles," he chuckled, patting the hood of his red, white and blue boat which is named Avenger V.

At one time Furniss and the Avenger V held the world Class A record of over 107 miles per hour for five miles. Now another Avenger hydroplane, owned by Bud Wiggitt of Lakeland, Calif., holds the record and it is Wiggitt with whom Furniss will lock horns in Montreal.

"We missed the world speed record by just three-tenths of a second in a run last month," said Furniss. "We hit 117 miles per hour down one straight with the current, but we only averaged out at 107-plus."

Furniss compiled one of the most amazing records of any sportsman from 1961 through 1965. In that span he started 78 races and finished first in every one of them. At that time his boat was powered by a Ford 60 V-8 flathead. Now the hydroplane, valued at $4,500, is driven by a Chevy II four-cylinder with heavy modifications. It turns out 218 horsepower with only 148 cubic inches and revs up to 8,000 revolutions per minute when its wide open, propelling the 700-pound craft at well over 100 miles per hour.

Following his trip to Expo 67 and the World Championships, Furniss may journey to Guntersville, Ala., to take part in the U.S. National Championships.

"It looks like it will be harder to win the national title than the world title," the Utah native said. "The competition will be tougher."

Furniss wasn't the only one to come a long distance to compete in Winona's first inboard powerboat extravaganza. Of the 26 boats present, 14 came from Minnesota, nine from Illinois and two from Nebraska.

A large crowd lined Levee Park to watch three drivers take home double victories. Ron Wolf of Hazel Crest, Ill., won the first Class E elimination heat and the Class E feature in his E-81.

He got a break in the feature when the only roll-over of the day caused a restart and allowed him to get a better position.

Roger Brogren of White Bear Lake, winner of the second Class E heat, had just taken the lead from Dick Young of Minneapolis in the feature when his boat turned over in the west turn of the 1½-mile course. He was unhurt.

Koziel, after topping Furniss in the second Class F heat, came on to win in the five-lap hydroplane Grand Prix which wrapped up the program. Bruno, of Omaha, Neb., won both heats in the super stock runabout class.

Several boats were disqualified during the afternoon due to jumping the starting gun or clipping buoys. Both the first and second place finishers in the first SK-runabout heat were disqualified but came back to finish one-two in the second heat.

Spurrier Boomed Despite Winning TD Aerial

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Steve Spurrier, darling of thousands of football fans during a fantastic career at Florida, already has found out his college clipings don't mean much anymore.

The 1966 Heisman Trophy winner, headed for what is expected to be a successful pro career with the San Francisco 49ers, got his first taste of criticism Saturday night in the seventh annual Coaches All-America game.

Spurrier was the target of a barrage of boos for his missed time in his life when he missed seven of his first eight passes for the East and had one of his tosses intercepted.

However, the poised quarterback shrugged off the catcalls and embarrassed his critics among the 19,145 fans by passing the East to a 12-9 victory with a 40-yard touchdown throw with three minutes left.

Noted during his Florida career for come-from-behind performances, Spurrier said, "I never gave up. We were just a touchdown from winning all the way."

The winning toss by Spurrier went to Michigan State end Gene Washington, who leaped high for the pass and then raced into the end zone. Spurrier had tossed 13 yards to Tom Francisco of Virginia Tech on the previous play after Georgia's Lynn Hughes gave the East its winning opportunity by intercepting a pass.

Spurrier hit on only 3 of 14 passes for 60 yards, his worst showing ever, but still good enough to give the East a 4-3 edge in the all-star rivalry.

West quarterback Jon Brittenum of Arkansas, headed for the Miami Dolphins, was named the most valuable player after hitting on 21 of 40 tosses for 244 yards, and Spurrier was the first to say "Jon deserved the award, even if his team didn't win."

The East got its other points on a safety and a 29-yard field goal kicked by Bob Griese of Purdue, runnerup in the Heisman Trophy voting who hit on only one of five passes.

The West took a 6-0 lead when Mel Farr of UCLA capped a first quarter drive ignited by Brittenum's passes with a two-yard touchdown leap, and Larry Wacholtz of Nebraska kicked a 25-yard field goal for the losers' other points.

For the second time in two weeks Dave Usgaard delivered the winning hit and now the Winona Merchants need only a victory next Sunday at last place Gale-Etrick to sew up no worse than a share of the Hiawatha Valley League championship.

The Merchants nipped second place Cochrane-Fountain City Sunday night at Gabrych Park 6-5 as Usgaard delivered a game-winning single which sent Fred Beck across with the winning run. Just a week earlier the Winona shortstop had belted a three-run home run to beat Trempealeau in 10 innings.

Winona also got an assist from red hot Rushford which knocked Lewiston out of third place with a 9-3 victory. It was Rushford's fifth straight triumph and shot them into third place, only two games out of first.

In other games Rollingstone bombed Trempealeau 13-6 and Gale-Etrick won its second by nipping Dakota 6-5.

The Winona victory came via the same route that Cochrane-Fountain City had beaten the Merchants earlier — a bottom-of-the-ninth run. It also drew the two teams even in the loss column with three each, but C-FC has four makeup games left on its slate.

Cochrane-Fountain City got the jump off Winona starter Fred Beck when Ken Sidebottom singled in the second, stole second and scored on Rich Abts' single. Bob Kosidowski's home run leading off the fourth tied the game, and Winona added another in the inning on Jim Gunn's rbi single.

The lead didn't last long, however. An error and Chuck Goerish's two-run homer in the fifth, plus a run-scoring single by Cochrane-Fountain City hurler Jack Benedict, spotted C-FC to a 4-2 margin. The two teams traded runs in the sixth. Winona's was unearned, while back-to-back doubles by Goerish and Mike Leahy accounted for C-FC's.

A costly error allowed the Merchants to draw even in the seventh. Larry Senrick's single, with a runner on first, got by the outfielder, allowing the run to score and Senrick to go to third. He scored the tying run on Beck's sacrifice fly.

The Merchants got the winning run in the ninth when Beck, Kosidowski and Usgaard singled in succession. The victory went to Todd Spencer who pitched hitless relief for three innings, fanning six.

Lewiston managed only five hits off Rushford's Mary Berg but they bunched four of them in the sixth for three runs. One was Steve Drange's two-run single. It put Lewiston ahead 3-2 at the time, but Mike DeWyr's solo homer in the seventh tied it, and then Rushford punched across six runs in the eighth thanks to a pair of Lewiston errors.

Berg, who faced only 15 batters through the first five innings, struck out nine. DeWyr had a single to go with his home run, while Dan Hungerhoff had a pair of singles and a double.

Rollingstone combined five Trempealeau errors, nine walks and 11 hits to carve out its easy victory. Six runs in the third and four more in the fifth wrapped it up. Jack Rader and Jon Kosidowski each had two singles for Rollingstone with one of Kosidowski's a two-run shot in the fifth. Joe Drzakowski had a two-run single in the third.

Irv Wagner, second of three Trempealeau pitchers, had three singles, and Ken Howell cracked a two-run homer in the ninth. It was Trempealeau's seventh straight loss.

Chance Named Starter for AL All-Stars

ANAHEIM, Calif. (AP) — Right-hander Dean Chance draws the assignment as starting pitcher in a ball park he knows well as the American League seeks to break the National's victory string in Tuesday's All-Star game.

Manager Hank Bauer, whose Baltimore Orioles broke the National League's hold on the World Series in four straight last fall, jumped the gun and named his starting pitcher and batting order Sunday night.

Announcement was scheduled today at the same time Manager Walt Alton of the Los Angeles Dodgers tells of his choices. He's expected to name Juan Marichal of the San Francisco Giants to take the mound. The right-hander from the Dominican Republic boasts a 12-7 record and pitched a four-hitter against the Dodgers on Saturday.

Chance hurled five seasons with the California Angels including 1966 at the new $24-million Anaheim Stadium, site of this All-Star tussle scheduled to start at 6:15 p.m. CDT.

After last season, he was traded to Minnesota where he has compiled an 11-7 mark so far. In 1964, the year he won the Cy Young Award as the best pitcher in the majors, Chance hurled three runless innings in the All-Star game.

Bauer's announced batting order has Brooks Robinson, Baltimore, 3b; Rod Carew, Minnesota, 2b; Tony Oliva, Minnesota, cf; Harmon Killebrew, Minnesota, 1b; Tony Conigliaro, Boston, rf; Carl Yastrzemski, Boston, lf; Bill Freehan, Detroit, c; Rico Petrocelli, Boston, ss; and Chance.

Injuries to Al Kaline and Frank Robinson have damaged the American attack. Detroit's Kaline, the top vote-getter in the balloting for the starting team, suffered a broken bone in his hand when he hit a bat rack when angered over striking out. Baltimore's Robinson, the league's most valuable in 1966 and the World Series star, has been bothered by double vision since colliding with Al Weis of the Chicago White Sox on June 27.

Defensively, each manager faces a similar problem. The voting failed to name a center-fielder on either team. Bauer's solution was naming Oliva who normally plays in right.

Alston has Lou Brock of St. Louis, a left-fielder, plus Hank Aaron of Atlanta and Roberto Clemente of Pittsburgh who normally play in right.

Starters, excepting pitchers, were picked by vote of the players, coaches and managers in each league with players barred from voting for a teammate.

Commissioner William D. Eckert set the unique starting time. This sends the NBA telecast into the prime evening hours in eastern sectors.

In addition to the outfielders, Alston goes with a starting club having Joe Torre, Atlanta, c; Orlando Cepeda, St. Louis, 1b; Bill Mazeroski, Pittsburgh, 2b; Gene Alley, Pittsburgh, ss; and Richie Allen, Philadelphia, 3b.

Even though the National League's power appears more formidable and it holds a 19-17 overall advantage, American League followers recall their teams won in 1937, 1947 and 1957.

Milwaukee Kegler 3rd in World ABC

MALMO, Sweden (AP) — Wayne Pinkalla of Milwaukee placed third during the weekend in the individual all-events championships of the World Bowling tournament.

Pinkalla, one of six Milwaukee bowlers on the eight-man United States team that won the team title, rolled 5,627 in the 28-game all-events category.

Dave Pound, an 18-year-old Harlow, Britain, student, won the championship with a 5,708 total. Jyunnosuke Yamanka of Japan was second with 5,649.

Head Struck by Bat; Softball Catcher Dies

HURON, S.D. (AP) — Roger Boesel, 25, Huron, died Saturday night of a head injury suffered Thursday night during a softball game here.

Boesel was a catcher. He was struck behind the ear by a bat that flew from a batter's hands. Boesel was hospitalized at Huron, then transferred to Sioux Falls Friday night for surgery.

British to Bid For Open Tennis

WIMBLEDON, England (AP) — The most successful Wimbledon tournament of all time is over — and British tennis officials are still intent on their plan to change the formula and bring in the pros.

The tournament was watched by a record total of 301,000 people. Yet next Wednesday the British will make another bid for open tennis at the annual meeting of the International Lawn Tennis Federation in Luxembourg.

This time, the British believe, they have a chance of succeeding. Wimbledon ended Saturday with John Newcombe of Australia and Mrs. Billie Jean King of Long Beach, Calif., winning the singles titles. Mrs. King won for the second straight year by defeating Mrs. Ann Jones of Britain 6-3, 6-4.

The tournament underlined the arguments for keeping Wimbledon as it is.

From the start the form of the players see-sawed on the fast courts and one favored star after another was knocked out. The stream of upset results colored the tournament and captured the public imagination. The crowds poured in as never before in the 90-year history of the event.

Would the matches be so unpredictable if professionals were let in? Many experts think not.

Ryun, Keino Big Victors in Los Angeles

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A pair of the world's most celebrated distance runners, Kansas collegian Jim Ryun and Kenya policeman Kipchoge Keino, emerged more formidable than ever today in the wake of the United States-British Commonwealth track and field meet.

Ryun, the lean, powerful holder of the world mile record, added the 1,500-meter mark to his growing record collection, running 3:33.1 Saturday in the opening session of the two-day international competition.

Keino, possessor of the world 5,000-meter mark and an easy, loping stride, came back Sunday to outduel Australia's great Ron Clarke in the 5,000 meters with a 13:36.8 clocking.

Clarke was timed in 13:40.9. Diminutive Gerry Lindgren, America's lone hope against Keino and Clarke, was bothered by foot blisters and finished a painful third in 13:47.8.

Ryun defeated Keino and smashed the metric mile record of 3:35.6 by Herb Elliott of Australia in the 1960 Olympics.

On the whole, the U.S. men's team dominated their Commonwealth counterparts, 254-170 while the visiting women gained a 125-102 victory over the American girls.

In the other game Boller Construction dumped Westgate Bowl 7-3 as Mick Bambenek, Rich Borkowski and Lu Otterson each had three hits.

Trac Oil and Coca-Cola were not scheduled.

TWINS

Sox scored in the series, four were unearned. Twelve of the 18 runs Minnesota scored were earned.

The Twins have now won 13 of their last 17 games and three of their four losses during that span were to the White Sox. Minnesota has beaten Chicago four times in that span.

Kaat now has a 9-8 career edge over the White Sox.

"Funny thing, this is a pitcher's park, but I always seem to get runs when I pitch here," the big left-hander said.

Joe Horlen, the losing pitcher in the opener, now has a 10-2 record and both his losses have been to the Twins.

After the All-Star game break, the Twins open a six-game home stand Thursday night against Kansas City.

Tanniehill Falls In Finals of Pan Am Trials

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (AP)

Gerald Bell of Cortland, N.Y., decided to win the 154-pound title and win a berth on the U.S. Pan American Games team Saturday night at Mankato's Highland Arena.

Tanniehill had reached the finals of the tournament but had to settle for runner-up honors.

Yachting entrants Sunday could have used some of the puffing generated in the final two wrestling matches, as three U.S. teams were chosen over the weekend in the Pan American trials.

Yachting on Lake Minnetonka was postponed by a muggy calm.

But Richard Sofman, 114.5 pounds, from the University of Pennsylvania and Pat Kelly, 171.5 pounds, from Waukegan, Ill., sailed through their matches to join six other grapplers named to the wrestling team Saturday night.

Richard Lloyd, NAIA champion from Northwestern State College of Louisiana, topped six finalists picked Sunday for the men's gymnastics team. Linda Metheny, the 1966 AAU champion from Champaign, Ill., led the six women chosen to represent the U.S. in the Pan American Games at Winnipeg.

Judo team, selected after finals Saturday night, was paced by Paul Maruyama, 154 pounder from the Air Force in California.

The Pan Am baseball squad Sunday scored a 3-0 shut out—one of a series of games with local college players, the Metropolitan All Stars. John Curtis, Jr., of Clemson College, S.C., struck out nine in seven innings as judges watched, intent on trimming six men from the 26-man squad by July 14.

GALESVILLE, Wis. — Gale-Etrick defeated Dakota here Sunday 6-5 behind the nine-hit pitching of Larson.

The Wisconsin nine scored two runs in each of the last three innings and the last two came with two out and the bases loaded.

Gale-Etrick picked up 11 hits and committed two errors. Dakota got 9 hits and racked up three errors. Papenfuss pitched seven innings for Dakota and was relieved by Gruden.

Petty Wins Race In Record Time

TRENTON, N.J. (AP) — "It was like running 100 miles per hour on a flat tire," said Richard Petty of one wobbly lap that nearly cost him a record victory in the NASCAR Grand National Northern 300.

A faulty right front tire installed in a pit stop on the 220th lap brought Petty in for an unscheduled stop Sunday that put second-place finisher Darel Dieringer out in front momentarily.

Petty, of Bandelman, N.C., nosed out Dieringer, of Charlotte, N.C., by less than a lap in record time of 3:08:50.

Petty's 1967 Plymouth and Dieringer's Junior Johnson 1967 Ford Fairlane were the only two cars among 36 starters to finish the 300 laps on the one-mile, paved Trenton Speedway.

Bauer Playing to Win in All-Star Contest Tuesday

BALTIMORE (AP) — For Manager Hank Bauer of the Baltimore Orioles, sentiment is out for baseball's All-Star Game in Anaheim Tuesday.

"I'm going to play to win," said Bauer, who will skipper the American League for the first time. "That's the name of the game."

"Some managers in the past have said they wanted to give everybody on the team a chance to play," he said. "I'm not that type. I want to win if it only takes eight guys besides the pitchers."

The National League has won the last four All-Star games and nine of the last 13 which includes a tie.

Stock Prices Higher in Heavy Trading

NEW YORK (AP)

The stock market put on a lively showing early this afternoon. Prices were higher and trading was heavy.

The market rose from the start and widened its gains.

The advance on average was accomplished despite another spurt of selling of American Telephone which sagged more than a point.

The ticker tape ran about three minutes late on the New York Stock Exchange before it caught abreast of transactions.

On the American Stock Exchange speculative fever ran high and the ticker tape lagged by 21 minutes.

Airlines, steels, tobacco, drugs, aerospace issues and electronics were generally higher.

Gains outnumbered losers by well over 2 to 1.

The Dow Jones industrial average advanced 3.64 to 872.69.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up 1.1 at 328.3 with industrials up 2.4, rails up 1.0 and utilities off .8.

Three-point gains were made by Xerox, Polaroid and IBM.

Up a couple of points were Eastern and United Airlines, while advances of a point or better were scored by Woolworth, American Airlines, Ronson, Avco, Boeing, Phelps Dodge, Eastman Kodak, M-G-M and American Airlines.

Sperry Rand sank more than 3 points. The company said it would discontinue a program to provide an inertial navigation system for Pan American World Airways and that this would cut earnings for the June quarter by $6.5 million.

On the American Exchange, volume soared amid heavy dealings in low-priced issues. The trend was generously higher.
