Substantial Reorganization To Be Asked by LeVander

ST. PAUL, Minn. — Gov. Robert H. LeVander of Minnesota has asked the legislature to consider a "substantial reorganization of state government," saying it would not go as far as reorganizing the state government.

LeVander's reorganization proposal would require a two-thirds vote of both the House and Senate to pass. It would take the form of a constitutional amendment, and would be subject to approval by the state voters.

The governor has said the current state government is too cumbersome and inefficient, and that it needs to be streamlined.

LeVander has said the reorganization plan would require a "significant" investment of time and resources, but that it would be worth it in the long run.

The plan would involve creating a new state government structure, with fewer branches and agencies.

LeVander has said the plan would be presented to the legislature in the fall of 1989.

Supreme Court Affirms Guardian at Whitehall

WASHINGTON, D.C. — The Wisconsin Supreme Court has rejected an appeal by J. Colliton, 63, Whitehall, to alter a court's order in a guardianship case.

Mr. Colliton, who was appointed to the guardianship of his 86-year-old mother, Mrs. William W. Lass, 100, D.C. — The Wisconsin Supreme Court has rejected an appeal by J. Colliton, 63, Whitehall, to alter a court's order in a guardianship case.

Mr. Colliton, who was appointed to the guardianship of his 86-year-old mother, Mrs. William W. Lass, 100, had sought to have the court change the order to allow him to sell the property and distribute the proceeds.

The court ruled that Mr. Colliton had not met the burden of proof necessary to modify the order.

The court's decision was announced by Justice William J. Colliton, who concurred in the majority opinion and dissented in a separate opinion.

Mr. Colliton's attorney, E. Yoss, Mayo Clinic, Eau Claire, argued the case before the court.

The court's decision is the latest in a series of decisions involving the guardianship of elderly persons in Wisconsin.

The court has previously ruled that a court has the right to appoint a guardian for an elderly person, and that the guardian has the duty to manage the person's affairs and accumulate funds for the person's later years.

Justice William J. Colliton, who concurred in the majority opinion and dissented in a separate opinion, said that the court has the power to appoint a guardian for an elderly person, and that the guardian has the duty to manage the person's affairs and accumulate funds for the person's later years.

NEW YORK — Kirk Douglas recently revealed the right of a man to kiss a man, and told him so in “The Brotherhood” — and now James Dean, star of “ Rebel Without a Cause,” has said he will kiss a woman in his next movie, a Hollywood production to be made by producer William Perlberg.

Several months ago Perlberg had been approached by one of the stars of the film he and Dean are working on, but he decided not to say anything until the picture was in the can. Now he has.

Dean, who was almost killed in a car crash last fall, is now in the early stages of what he hopes will be his second feature film, and it will be directed by him.

The film is called “Rebel Without a Cause” and it is about a young man who goes off the tracks.

Dean said he was not interested in playing a part like that, so he decided to take it on himself.

He had been introduced to the idea by a friend, who had been working on a similar movie, and he was so impressed with the script that he decided to take it on himself.

The film is to be shot in Los Angeles, and it is expected to be completed by the end of the year.

Dean said he was looking forward to working on the film, and that he was confident that it would be a success.

Special Merit Step Offered to Teachers

By C. GORDON BORLASE

A 7th grade teacher is not a choir director's dream student — too many absences, too much talk, and too little discipline are characteristics of most 7th graders. This was certainly true of a 7th grade student at the city school, whose teacher was none other than the choir director himself. The student was so often absent that the teacher had given up all hope of ever seeing him again. However, one day, the student showed up at the choir practice, wearing his uniform and ready to perform. The teacher was amazed and asked him how he had managed it. The student replied, "I didn't have any other choice, I had to go because of the 7th grade merit step." The teacher was speechless.

Boland crowned world equestrian champion

By John Jancewicz

Daily News sports writer

Every generation has its young, dynamic offspring within it. Currently there is an unusual Daytona Beach of swimming fame and a tremendous Snydly, Indiana swimming champion.

Now you can add to that list a pretty, policy-making, 17-year-old Miss Florida, 1968, who at the age of 17, has come on center to grapple with the world's most distinguished pool champions.

She is Sue Boland, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Boland of Clearwater Beach, Florida, and Miss Florida, 1968, who not only has captured the coveted bouquet submitted by the Florida State Fair, but has gone on to capture two national titles for Miss Florida, 1968.

No contest for the Miss World title will be held until August of this year, but Sue Boland is determined to be in the top four places among the 15,000 competitors who will be vying for the coveted title.

Sue Boland, who already has been designated as the Miss World runner-up from the United States, has been making a determined effort to be in the top four places among the 15,000 competitors who will be vying for the coveted title.
