B52s Make Heavy Raids Near Cambodian Border

The importance of the latest round of United States military initiatives near the border of Cambodia cannot be understated, as Defense Secretary McNamara has made clear. This fierce escalation of American air power marks a significant step in the administration's strategy to prevent a communist take-over of the region.

FALLS BEHIND IN POLL

De Gaulle’s Final Week in Office?

PARIS (AP) — Indications are growing that this may be the last week in office for President Charles de Gaulle. The 75-year-old French leader is facing a battle in the final stages of his presidency to overcome growing opposition to his policies and maintain his grip on power.

On the Inside:

Minnesota: St. Paul—Rep. James Oberstar of Minnesota is considering running for the seat in Congress that is now held by the late Walter Mondale. Oberstar, a Democrat, has said he would run if Mondale’s widow, Rep. Nita Lowey, decided not to seek the seat.

Wisconsin: Milwaukee—Gov. Tony Evers has said he will not seek re-election in 2022, setting up a potential race for the state’s highest office.

Weather:

Minneapolis, MN

WINONA AND VICINITY — The Mississippi River crested at 11 feet over flood stage at Dubuque, Iowa, at noon Wednesday, remaining part of the city’s floodwall until Sunday. A large ethylene pitted most of the floodwall.

Insist Inflationary Spiral Not Increasing

WASHINGTON — More than 200,000 people gathered in Washington D.C. for a rally against inflation, demanding that the government take action to stop the rising cost of living.

U.S. Requests Agreement on Withdrawal

PARIS (AP) — The United States is urging the United Nations to agree to withdraw American forces from Vietnam, saying such a move would avoid a costly and protracted conflict. The U.S. has been involved in negotiations with the North Vietnamese to reach an agreement on withdrawal, but no progress has been made.

The message for those in Washington, D.C., was clear: The time has come to put an end to the war in Vietnam.
Effort to Revamp House Pleases McCormack

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. John W. McCormack, D-Mass., is trying to make a new House Rules Committee more responsive to the House by making it more likely to support the majority party's legislative agenda. McCormack, 66, is one of the key members of the House Rules Committee, which is responsible for setting the House's agenda. McCormack's proposal is designed to make the committee more accountable to the House leadership, which is currently divided between the majority Democratic party and the minority Republican party.

Speaker John W. McCormack, D-Mass., will introduce a resolution next week to establish a new House Rules Committee. The new committee will be more closely aligned with the Democratic House leadership, and it is expected to pass easily. McCormack's proposal is a response to concerns that the current House Rules Committee is too independent and that it is not adequately responsive to the House leadership. McCormack's resolution is expected to be voted on next week, and it is likely to pass with little opposition.

NEW YORK — They'd better not count our hands Mayor Lindsay and the crusading press here, for all those other vote grabbers.

Mr. Lindsay got a standing ovation at the Town Hall last night. "The hard way," he said. "It is all right to use the truth, but not to use it as a comforter." The fact is, Mr. Lindsay's method of campaigning is not widely used in American politics. But it is becoming more common.

"Yes, Lindsay told me," B.W. Stapp, a major Broadwayite, said yesterday, "but I don't think he'd use the truth as a comforter."

"Nonsense," said Mr. Lindsay, "we are not only going to use the truth as a comforter, but we are going to use it as a weapon."

Mr. Lindsay has been accused of using the truth as a weapon. But he said he did not mean it that way.

"The hard way," he said, "is a way of life."

Mr. Lindsay also said that he did not want to use the truth as a weapon.

"We are not only going to use the truth as a comforter," he said, "but we are going to use it as a weapon."

Arte Johnson: A Giant of His Trade

NEW YORK (AP) — Arte Johnson, a 5-foot-3, 115-pound comedian and actor who has made a career out of playing little people, told The Associated Press this week that he talked to a U.S. senator recently about public service and politics.

"She said today, 'I want to run for Senate,'" Johnson said of the senator, who asked to remain anonymous.

Johnson, 78, has been a fixture in the entertainment industry since the 1940s, when he started doing quick sight gags, one-liners and quick hits. But he said he has been thinking about getting into politics for a while.

"I've been thinking about it for a long time," he said. "I've been talking to a lot of people, and I think it's time for me to get into politics."

Farmers Back Bill to Restrict Corporations

WASHINGTON, D.C. — The National Farmers Organization, which represents more than 250,000 farmers, announced today it will support a bill to restrict the power of corporations in the nation's economy. The bill, which is expected to be introduced in Congress within the next few days, would prohibit corporations from owning more than a certain percentage of any single farm or from engaging in certain types of agricultural activities.

Farmers are concerned that the growing power of corporations is threatening their ability to control their own destinies. "We are not against big business," said a representative of the National Farmers Organization. "But when corporations start to control our farms, our businesses, and our lives, we have a problem."

Some Education Funds Restored

MADISON, Wis. — The Wisconsin legislature has restored some education funds that were cut by the governor. A bill passed by the legislature last week allocates $5.3 million to the University of Wisconsin system, bringing the total amount restored to about $17 million. The funds will be used to support nursing programs. The restoration of funds was supported by representatives of the Wisconsin state university faculty and a number of local school districts.

48-Hour Curfew Ends Outburst in Racine

RACINE, Wis. — The 48-hour curfew that was imposed on the city of Racine last week to quell a violent outbreak has been lifted. Police say the curfew was necessary to maintain order during the weekend, but that it is no longer needed.

Wants Inside Information on Intelligence

WASHINGTON (AP) — Top officials of the CIA were under investigation today for their roles in the loss of a Navy reconnaissance plane. The plane, which went down over the Sea of Cortez last week, was carrying a top-secret apparatus, according to a recent regent.

The National Farmers Organization, which was formed in 1933, has long been a leader in the fight against corporate domination of the economy. Its members believe that corporations have grown too powerful and that they are threatening the well-being of farmers and other workers. The organization has been advocating for legislation that would limit the power of corporations, such as the bill that was introduced today.

Buchner Visits Boyhood Home of Boys Town

Buchner, who is a 75-year-old former prisoner, visited the Boys Town High School in Nebraska last week to meet with some of the students who were there when he was a boy. Buchner said he was moved by the experience and that he was grateful for the chance to visit his old school.

U.S. Aircraft

WASHINGTON, D.C. — The United States government has tested a new U.S. aircraft, a six-engine, jet-powered plane, in the desert near White Sands, N.M. The test was part of a program to develop a new type of aircraft for military use.

DEAR ABBY:

He's the first really decent man I've ever known and I've been walking a very straight path ever since I met him. You were trying to make the point that the hunter's bullets are a more merciful death than death by cold. However, I think the hunter's bullet is a more merciful death than death by a hunter's bullet, as he would die of starvation, attacks from other animals, and from freezing weather than die by a hunter's bullet, so if a bullet is a more merciful death, then perhaps all the hunters should shoot each other, which isn't such a bad idea.

Foreign Policy Pleases Public: Domestic Plan??

By LOUIS BARBER

President Nixon has connected vividly with the American people on foreign policy matters. But he is just as strong on the policies he is building here at home. But he is bridging the gap by building a sizable and impressive reservoir of public confidence in his personal policies as President.

In Vietnam, and the public will not pass any final judgment until the conflict is resolved with honor. But he has moved up of our European allies, he has been handling negotiations.

The present law has not cut poverty efforts.

"If you're not part of the programme solving approach, he said, "you're probably going to be squeezed out." The administration feels that the American people are "the best solution to the problems of the poor." There were better alternatives, he said, but there was no "air of comfort. And no room for the idea of government intervention in private initiatives."

An Indonesian soldier was killed today as troops clashed with guerrilla forces in the jungles near the New York and New Hampshire airports. The Indonesian government claimed overwhelming support in West Irian, a region of Indonesia.

Nitrate High in Some Private Wells

Nitrate levels are found in human and animal drinking water. Some of the drinking water in Wisconsin is being found to have high nitrate levels. Scientists believe this is due to over use of nitrogen fertilizers. The levels are found in a great deal of nitrate, and are very high in many areas.

Harvey Gunder, University of Wisconsin-Distance Education, and Lyle Hollien, University of Wisconsin-Extension, have performed many tests to determine the levels of nitrate in drinking water. They have found that the nitrate levels in some wells are higher than the safe level of 10 parts per million. The safe level is set by the Wisconsin Department of Health and Social Services.

New Attitude Urged On Farm Laborers

MADISON, Wis. — Farmers must adopt a new attitude toward dairy farmers to make agriculture employment more attractive to young people, according to Paul J. Northouse, chapter adviser; Paul Housker, regional program manager; and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Miller, Mabel.

The panel noted that the job of a dairy farmer is not as glamorous as it once was, and that some of today's farmers are looking for ways to diversify their operations. Northouse said that other industries have found ways to attract young people, and that dairy farmers need to do the same.

New Women in Washington for Lobbying

WASHINGTON — There are new women in Washington for lobbying the agricultural interests of the nation. They are members of the National Women's Agriculture Association (NWAA), which was founded in 1965.

The NWAA is a national organization dedicated to promoting the interests of women in agriculture. Its members include women farmers, ranchers, and agricultural workers.

There are over 500 women members in the NWAA, representing 30 states and territories. The organization has a strong presence in Congress, with members of both the House and Senate participating in its activities.

The NWAA operates on a grassroots level, with local chapters in every state. These chapters provide education and support to women in agriculture, and work to promote policies that benefit women and their families.

Pepin Included In Erkel's "Safe Study" Promotion

Glenn E. Erkel, Extension Agent in Pepin County, has included "Safe Study" in his promotion efforts for the upcoming school year.

"Safe Study" is an educational program that teaches young people about the importance of safety in all aspects of life, including agriculture.

The program is designed to provide young people with the knowledge and skills they need to avoid accidents and injuries, and to make informed decisions about their safety.

The program is available to all 4-H clubs in Pepin County, and will be offered by extension agents in other counties as well.

Here's a list of some of the safety topics that will be covered in the program:

- Personal safety
- Household safety
- Farm safety
- Transportation safety
- Water safety

The program will be offered on an annual basis, and is designed to be flexible to meet the needs of individual clubs.

ED KAUSKUSMAN started a big streak at both ends of the plate, but I wasn’t especially surprised because he’s a fine hitter, Lodgins said. ‘I think he’ll do well this season.”

“I’ve had a lot of success with hitters when I’ve worked off the mound and they’re at the plate,” Lodgins said. “I think they’re very comfortable with me.”

Even in a situation where he’s not pitching, Lodgins said he still has a routine. He’ll stretch out his arms, brush his pants and take a deep breath before he walks up to the plate. That’s how he approaches every at-bat, he said.

“We’ve been working on getting him comfortable at the plate,” Lodgins said. “He’s very comfortable at bat, he’s got a good two-strike count and he’s very relaxed.”

Rodriguez, the quick-witted batting coach, has a lot of respect for Lodge, as well. “He’s got an arm like a fifty-year-old man,” Rodriguez said. “He’s got a lot of experience and he’s got a lot of knowledge.”

Williams knows all about that. He’s been around the game for a long time, and he’s seen a lot of different players in different situations. He’s also seen a lot of different coaches and managers, and he knows what it takes to succeed at the highest level.

“Williams is a great coach,” Rodriguez said. “He’s got a great eye for hitting and he knows how to get the most out of his players.”

The Red Sox have a lot of respect for Williams, as well. They’ve seen him work with Lodge in the past, and they know that he’s a great coach. They also know that Lodge is a great hitter, and they’re excited to have him back at Fenway Park.

Kauhusman, the quick-witted batting coach, has a lot of respect for Lodge, as well. “He’s got an arm like a fifty-year-old man,” Rodriguez said. “He’s got a lot of experience and he’s got a lot of knowledge.”

Williams knows all about that. He’s been around the game for a long time, and he’s seen a lot of different players in different situations. He’s also seen a lot of different coaches and managers, and he knows what it takes to succeed at the highest level.

“Williams is a great coach,” Rodriguez said. “He’s got a great eye for hitting and he knows how to get the most out of his players.”

The Red Sox have a lot of respect for Williams, as well. They’ve seen him work with Lodge in the past, and they know that he’s a great coach. They also know that Lodge is a great hitter, and they’re excited to have him back at Fenway Park.

WINONA STATE 2-1, in today’s fourth game of the series. Winning pitcher was Bob West, who allowed five hits and two runs. Reliever was Don Nelson, who struck out four in two innings.

Up team lost 2,060. Henry Pas teran, B.A., of Winona, was named the Most Valuable Player of the game.
