NIXON TELLS AMERICANS — Withdrawal Schedule Worked Out

WASHINGTON—President Nixon today said he thought the war in Vietnam was "within reach" of a peace settlement, and he announced a withdrawal schedule that would end the war in 30 months. The talks, he said, will begin in Paris on Monday.

If this background is true, after reviewing the history of the war in Vietnam, it is unlikely that anyone could fail to see the importance of the talks, he said.

For this plan to work, support, particularly the support of the American people, will be required. Nixon added that he was "glad" to hear President Nixon’s address to the nation on the war.

President Nixon deserves support

The usually peace oriented Bush family will soon be a thing of the past because it is not an American disarmed situation. It is not an American situation at all. It is an American situation of pain and suffering for all Americans.

The issue of American fighting troops without surrendering in the home all the time. The need to augment the "Winnie the Welder" and "Ruby the Riveter." Something that could bring back the happiest chapters in American history. -- W.F.W.

Their place may still indeed be in the home, but a certain amount of them. Money and patriotism were political factions and of all ages will give the President determination.

The President does not promise that the war will be ended. But he does promise to improve the conditions of the American people. The President is not a unique political personality, but a political personality because of some of the circumstances.

But not long after, a Polish aircrew identified himself as Polak and had been flying the American plane. The American plane was flown from Poland to Paris.

The President does not promise that the war will be ended. But he does promise to improve the conditions of the American people. The President is not a unique political personality, but a political personality because of some of the circumstances.

The fuss over cyclamate continues. The latest provision emerged recently was toned down to "forbidden." And it was then that the President promised that the war will be ended. But he did promise to improve the conditions of the American people. The President is not a unique political personality, but a political personality because of some of the circumstances.

My recent criticisms of Mr. Agnew's character have united a number of critics, but it is because they believe that he is a discredited person. But not so at all. The fact is that his own mail, along with the evidence of the case, establishes him as, in the words of one of his snobbish critics is more likely to be found on the face of the earth than in his vice president's office.

Osage Indians Seek Settlement for Land

By DAVISON RABIN, St. Paul, Minn. — The Minnesota Supreme Court will meet in session at St. Paul at 9 a.m., Dec. 2, to hear the case, "Osage Indians v. State of Minnesota." The court will consider whether the state is bound by a treaty of 1867 with the Osage Indians, under which the state ceded 15.3 million acres of land, taken in another treaty, to the Osages.

The Osages, who then numbered between 4,000 and 5,000, are a tribe of the Algonquin family, who, when these United States were inhabited by Indians, were in the western part of the state, known as the Osage Nation. They were not included in any treaty that made the Osage a separate nation, but they were included in the treaty of 1867, which was made with the Osage tribe, and which was signed by the state and the Osage tribe, and which was ratified by the United States.

DEAR ABBY

When Your Child Becomes a Hippie

BY ANGELA VAN RURSEN

DEAR ABBY: Your advice to ignore the existence of a child's hippie phase often creates gray hairs. Do you have two or more children who have become hippies? If so, I'm sure you'll be interested in these suggestions.

Firstly, if your child is a hippie, you may as well try to enjoy the ride. Some parents seem to think you should stop your child from becoming a hippie. This is like trying to stop a tree from growing. A hippie is a natural growth form that is perfectly adapted to the environment.

Secondly, try to find out what makes your child a hippie. Is it their 1960s upbringing? Or do they enjoy the peace and love that a hippie represents? Try to respect their choices and support them in their journey.

Lastly, remember that a hippie is a person who values individual freedom and self-expression. They are often quite talented at playing instruments and creating art. Encourage them to explore these aspects of their personality.

DEAR ABBY: I am a hippie myself, and I can tell you that your advice is spot on. Just relax, and you'll find that your child is actually quite interesting!

Israelis Warn Lebanon To Expect Retaliation

JERUSALEM (AP) - Israeli officials warned Lebanon that it could face a "serious" response to the recent Israeli tank strike along its northern border as a "dangerous and ineffective," Israeli Defense Minister Moshe Dayan said.

Dayan, in a meeting with U.S. Deputy Secretary of State William Perry, said Israeli intelligence indicated the Lebanese would probably "respond in kind" to the assault.

"I think they will respond in kind," Dayan said.

The Israeli military has deployed additional artillery units in the area near the border with Lebanon to prepare for a possible military confrontation.

Dayan also said that Israel was prepared to maintain its forces in Lebanon for an indefinite period if necessary.

"This is a very difficult situation," he said.

Dayan said that the Israeli military was prepared to use its forces in Lebanon to secure its borders and to prevent further attacks from Lebanon.

The Israeli government has been under pressure from Washington to de-escalate the situation along the border, but Dayan said that Israel was determined to maintain its military presence in Lebanon.

"We are not going to back down," he said.

HHH Disappointed By Nixon Speech

Propose Plans Post Lookout In Heavy Traffic

BOARD OF EDUCAIION (AP) - The Winona School District has taken under consideration a request for rezoning of four parcels of land at 614, 615, 616 and 617 Oak St., owner of lots at 615 Mill St., for the construction of a multi-family residential development.

The property is located on the north side of Oak St., between Third and Fourth streets.

The council held a public hearing on the request, which was made by the developer, J. Loveless, who is representing a group of investors interested in constructing the development.

Loveless presented his case for the rezoning, stating that the area is currently zoned for commercial use, but that it would be better suited for residential development.

The council adjourned to discuss the matter further and will vote on the rezoning request at its next meeting.

Disorderly House Petition is Filed

The council also heard a petition filed by a group of neighbors who are concerned about noise and other disturbances created by a nearby property.

The petitioners stated that they have been disturbed by loud music and other activities on the property, and that they believe that the property is being used for illegal activities.

The council will consider the petition at its next meeting.

Board Considers Property Offer

The council also discussed a property offer submitted by a developer who is interested in purchasing a parcel of land in the area for commercial use.

The offer was presented by the developer, who stated that he is interested in purchasing the property and developing it for commercial use.

The council will consider the offer at its next meeting.

Consolidated Schools

The council also discussed the consolidated schools plan, which is designed to reduce costs and improve educational opportunities for students in the area.

The council voted to support the consolidation plan and will work with the school district to implement it.

HHH Disappointed By Nixon Speech

The council also heard a report on the proposed HHH plan, which is designed to provide low-interest loans to low-income families for the purchase of homes.

The council expressed disappointment with the proposed plan, stating that it does not address the needs of the local community.

The council will consider the plan at its next meeting.

Search for Clues In Coed Killing

La Follette Testimony Used
As Meister Libel Trial Opens

MILWAUKEE (AP) — With many viewers on edge for more than a year, a libel suit that became a test case in Wisconsin constitutional law was heard Monday by Superior Court Judge Eugene B. Geyser.

Bundled for cold weather, witnesses for member of the American Legion and the American Legion's former local commander, Erich Meister, testified Monday under oath.

First to testify was Assistant Attorney General for the State of Wisconsin, Paul L. Jovin, who read a statement to the effect that the legislature was considering the contempt of court charge.

Koosman, Minn. (AP) - Minnesota Gophers football defensive end Bob Koosman turned back to Minn.-Duluth to claim a family business.

Koosman, one of the stars of the Minnesota Gophers' run to the NCAA title game, was expected to sign a free-agent contract with the Detroit Lions. But Koosman said he's putting his football career on hold to run a family farm near Winona, Minn.

The move back to Minnesota is expected to be short-lived, however, as Koosman could return to football in the near future. He said he's not sure when he'll make a decision about his future in the sport.
