Mansfield, Scott Back Nixon Vietnam Efforts

The House members backed Nixon by 277-172 Monday, giving the President the green light to proceed with secret talks in Paris.

House leaders said the vote was far from certain, even to many Democrats, when rival factions of the House met to cast their ballots.

Three reasons were given for the vote in favor of secret talks:

First, that presidential authority over foreign policy was absolute. Rep. John B. Anderson of Illinois, the House's top Democrat on foreign policy, said the choice was between "peace at any price or a price that is not worth the peace.

Second, that a peace settlement would end the war.

Third, that a settlement would be better for American interests than any other possible outcome.

Nicholas von Arx, a Foreign Service officer who helped draft the resolution, said that the vote was in line with a recent speech by President Nixon. "The President has said that the House should let him make his own decisions," von Arx said.

The resolution was the product of a week's deliberations by the House's foreign relations committee. Democrats and Republicans disagreed sharply about the wisdom of secret talks.

The House resolution now goes to the Senate, where it is expected to be debated this week. The Senate has not yet voted on the issue.

Meanwhile, Nixon's top aide, John Ehrlichman, told reporters Monday that the President was "fully prepared" to face the Senate's decision on the issue.

Easing of Soviet-American Tension Seen; Reason? Economy

WASHINGTON—The easing of tension between the United States and the Soviet Union may be due to the fact that the two nations are now engaged in a trade war. The trade war is the result of a series of economic measures taken by the United States and the Soviet Union in recent years.

The United States, which has been a leading world power in the past, is now facing tough competition from the Soviet Union. The Soviet Union, which has been a major world power in the past, is now facing tough competition from the United States.

The trade war is the result of the following measures:

1. The United States has imposed high tariffs on Soviet goods.
2. The Soviet Union has imposed high tariffs on United States goods.
3. The United States has imposed sanctions on the Soviet Union.
4. The Soviet Union has imposed sanctions on the United States.

These measures have had a significant impact on the economies of both nations. The United States has seen its trade deficit with the Soviet Union increase, while the Soviet Union has seen its trade deficit with the United States decrease.

The easing of tension between the United States and the Soviet Union may be due to the fact that both nations are now facing tough competition from the other nation. This competition may be the reason why the United States and the Soviet Union are now engaging in a trade war.

This trade war is a significant event, as it marks a turning point in the relationship between the United States and the Soviet Union. It is likely to have a significant impact on the global economy, as the United States and the Soviet Union are the two largest economies in the world.

The trade war is also likely to have a significant impact on the United States' economy, as the United States is facing tough competition from the Soviet Union. This competition may be the reason why the United States is seeing its trade deficit with the Soviet Union increase.

The trade war is also likely to have a significant impact on the Soviet Union's economy, as the Soviet Union is facing tough competition from the United States. This competition may be the reason why the Soviet Union is seeing its trade deficit with the United States decrease.

In conclusion, the trade war between the United States and the Soviet Union is a significant event, as it marks a turning point in the relationship between the two nations. This trade war is likely to have a significant impact on the global economy, as well as on the economies of the United States and the Soviet Union.
WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. William Fulbright, chairman of the Senate Appropriations Committee, on Thursday announced that he would oppose the $20.7 billion defense appropriations bill that he had supported last June. The Senate approved it by 76-24 and sent it to the House, which had already passed the bill by the same margin.

Fulbright said he was opposed because he believed the bill did not contain enough money for defense programs. He also expressed concern about the department's spending priorities, particularly its focus on the military buildup in the Middle East.

The defense bill, which includes funding for the Strategic Defense Initiative, had been a major point of contention in recent weeks. Fulbright had been a leading advocate of the program, which he believed was necessary for national security.

However, he had grown increasingly concerned about the program's cost and its impact on other defense programs, particularly those related to conventional forces.

Fulbright's opposition could have a significant impact on the final version of the defense bill, which is expected to be debated in both chambers in the coming weeks.
Dairyland Power Loans Under U.S. Investigation

LA CROSSE, Wis. — A political action committee with connections to the Dairyland Power Cooperative is under investigation by the Department of Justice.

The committee, known as Dairyland Power, has been charged with accepting illegal campaign contributions and engaging in prohibited campaign activity.

The investigation began in October 2021 after the Department of Justice received a referral from the Federal Election Commission.

Dairyland Power is a cooperative that provides electricity to more than 100,000 members in Wisconsin, Minnesota, and Iowa.

State Supreme Court Dismisses Beatty Suit

ST. PAUL — The State Supreme Court Tuesday下午 dismissed a case brought by former Elks' Lodge President Bill Beatty against the Elks Lodge.

Beatty, who was ousted as Elks' Lodge President in 2019, had claimed that the lodge had violated his First Amendment rights by denying him re-election.

The court ruled that Beatty had not shown a violation of his First Amendment rights.

LeVander Criticizes 'College Mania'

LeVander, a former Minnesota governor, has criticized the trend of college expansion and the resulting debt burden on students.

"Our university system has become a juggernaut," LeVander said. "We must find a way to make higher education more affordable for all students."

At Committee Meeting

The committee meeting was held to discuss the future of the Elks' Lodge and the efforts to improve the facilities.

"We need to work together to ensure that our club remains strong for many years to come," said committee chair John Smith.

Dyan Cannon Loves A Tub

BY EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — Dyan Cannon, the luminous "You, G. O. M. (Guy, Cary Grant), currently plays the Nicky of "The House," and may well be known as "The Nicky," is showing me a photo of Jennifer Grant, née 2.

After "Sud and Sud and Sud and Sud," showing women, women, and children in that tub, "bathing themselves," Cannon decided to try it, too — in fact, upon her mother's suggestion with the big outdoor tub on her back at the side of a little farmhouse with 185,000 family workers on Wisconsin farms. Will Hunt Deer

by Victor Thompson

If you really enjoy the woods and hunting, you can beat the fall rut with a good harvest of deer and red and white rice, except in some areas where there is a large amount of standing corn, as in the Twin Cities area.

There is one rule of thumb: "Be sure it's a deer before you fire it." This means that you should not shoot a Mockingbird, a Blackbird, or a Crow, unless you are sure of your aim.

Conditions don't look good for a good deer hunt this fall. The MDC reports a shortage of food for deer, and a lack of signs of a good deer season.这座塔的形状可能比其他塔更明显，因为它的位置在河口。他位于新奥尔良市格雷维尔的河口。

Youngquist Appointed

ST PAUL (AP) - Gov. Harry F. (Harry) F. Youngquist has appointed Robert J. Youngquist to fill the unexpired term of the late State Rep. Carl J. Nord. Youngquist, 49, of Minneapolis, is a member of the Minnesota Democratic Farmer-Labor Party and a former state legislator. He has served in the Minnesota Senate since 1973 and in the Minnesota House of Representatives since 1969.

Nader Blasts Consumer Protection Plan

WASHINGTON (AP) - The consumer advocate Ralph Nader today assailed the President's proposed consumer protection plan, saying it would do little to help consumers.

Thoughts from the Editor

Nonusers Also Victims Of Use of Marijuana

Marijuana is claimed by some to be non-addicting. Therefore, why can't we use it? Well, the drug may be non-addicting, however, the use and sale are illegal and the drug does have harmful effects on the body. In addition, marijuana is addictive and can lead to more serious drug use. If we were to liberalize marijuana use, it could lead to the increased use of other drugs and substances.

Indianapolis Symphony Orchestra presents:
Concert Series "Rousing Start"

By RICHARD MCCLUER

The Indianapolis Symphony Orchestra, under the direction of John Bamberg, opened its 1919-20 season Oct. 21 with a program of music that was both stirring and varied. The concert, held at the Indiana War Memorial Hall, featured a selection of works by well-known composers, including Beethoven, Brahms, and Mozart.

The program began with Beethoven's Symphony No. 5, performed with great virtuosity by the orchestra. The powerful opening theme was followed by a series of graceful melodies and a final triumphant flourish that left the audience in awe.

Following the intermission, the orchestra returned to the stage to perform Brahms's Symphony No. 4, which was conducted with great precision by Mr. Bamberg. The piece featured a rich tapestry of melodies and harmonies, with the full orchestra shining in each movement.

The concert concluded with Mozart's Symphony No. 38, also known as the "Jupiter" Symphony. The piece was performed with great skill by the orchestra, particularly in the finale, which featured a series of brilliant crescendos and fortissimos.

Overall, the concert was a resounding success, with the audience赞ing the performance and expressing their appreciation for the hard work and dedication of the musicians.

Inflatable Bladder Tested for Fight Pollution

WASHINGTON (AP) — A new inflatable bladder, capable of holding 10,000 gallons of fluid, is being tested by the U.S. Navy to help reduce pollution damage caused by tankers. The bladder is designed to help capture pollution from oil spills and beach oiling, and could prove valuable in future oil spills.

The bladder is made of a special material that can be inflated to a large size and then deflated to a small size, allowing it to be easily stored and transported. The bladder's design is based on research done by the U.S. Navy, which has been working on the development of inflatable bladders for several years.

The new bladder is being tested at a simulated oil spill site, where it will be used to capture oil and prevent it from reaching the surrounding environment. The results of the tests will be used to determine the effectiveness of the bladder in capturing oil and reducing pollution damage.

The tests are being conducted in cooperation with the U.S. Navy and the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration (NOAA).

In Years Gone By

Ten Years Ago...1959

The Supreme Court today upheld an injunction ordering the closing of all locks and dams on the Mississippi River to commercial traffic. The case was brought by the American Conservation League against the United States government.

Twenty-Five Years Ago...1944

Socks, suits, sweaters, and hats were in addition to the usual winter garments. The color blue was popular, as were the colors of the national and state flags.

Fifty Years Ago...1916

The town of Grinnell was hit by a severe storm which caused extensive damage. The town was rebuilt after the storm.

Seventy-Five Years Ago...1894

The newly constructed railroad was completed, connecting the town with the nearest railway station. The railroad was a major advance in transportation.

One-Hundred Years Ago...1861

The war between the North and South began, marking the start of the Civil War.

W. St. Paul Council OK's
1 Percent Tax

ST. PAUL (AP) — The City Council has re

jected a proposed 1 percent sales tax which would raise $4.3 million a year and would pay for city services.

Mayor Bobzien had proposed the sales tax to close a $4.3 million hole in the city budget. The additional tax would cost each household in the city of $60 a year.

The vote was 5-2 with councilmen Bill Coddington and Paul Stier opposed.

Mayor Bobzien had said the city's financial situation has improved since the sales tax was first proposed several weeks ago. But councilmen Coddington and Stier said the city's financial situation remains critical.

Mayor Bobzien had said the sales tax would raise

$4.3 million a year to offset a projected deficit of

$4.3 million. The city has a $4.3 million deficit in its general fund, a $4.3 million deficit in its capital fund and a $4.3 million deficit in its pension fund.

Councilmen Coddington and Stier said the tax would only worsen the city's financial situation.

Mayor Bobzien said the sales tax would help the city create a $4.3 million fund to pay for future capital projects.

Councilmen Coddington and Stier said the city should not spend money it doesn't have.

Mayor Bobzien had said the sales tax would be used to fund capital projects such as a new convention center, a new city hall, a new police station and a new fire station.

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Minnesota’s backfield Ally and halfback Mike Rendu have set a new school record in rushing for a six-game stretch. The 6-foot, 2-inch, 220-pound Rendu, who was once considered a 'slim weakling,' has gained 847 yards and 11 touchdowns in that period. He leads the nation in rushing with an average of 124.5 yards per game.

Collins Promises Cleveland Will Pass on Crucial Plays

CLEVELAND (AP) — Gary Collins, who is getting set to celebrate his 50th birthday, has a message for the Browns' defense: "I feel as good as I did Grandma Moses but seems to like 'em."

The Browns, led by Ron Brown, are on top in the NAIA poll released looking for a postseason invitation. The team is off to a 6-2 start.

Winless Beloit poses with 1969 Coe quarterback John Raaz. But he is not expected for the 1 p.m. game in Chicago.
