CONG CALLS FOR INTENSIVE ATTACKS TO SUPPORT PROTEST

KANSAS CITY (AP) — A Viet Cong intelligence officer said yesterday that a new strategy to intensify attacks on American positions throughout South Vietnam would be launched in the next few days.

The officer, speaking to a group of Viet Cong supporters, said the attacks would be aimed at disrupting the normal flow of traffic in and out of Saigon, the capital city.

The attacks would target areas where American troops are most likely to be found, he said.

For its part, the United States military has been increasing its presence in the area, with more troops being deployed to reinforce existing units.

VIETNAM WAR

American forces are currently engaged in a military operation aimed at stopping the Viet Cong from launching attacks in the area.

Anti-Mortaror Activity Said Vigorous 'In State

The American Legion held its 50th National Convention in Minneapolis last week.

The convention, which was held from August 28 to September 3, attracted thousands of attendees from across the nation.

At the convention, the Legion announced a new national anti-mortaror activity, which it had dubbed "Vigorous in State." The activity was designed to raise awareness about the dangers of landmines and other explosive ordnance.

The American Legion's National Commander, Charles W. Bass, said the activity was a response to the growing number of casualties caused by landmines in Vietnam.

"We are deeply concerned about the number of American servicemen and their families who have been injured or killed by landmines," Bass said.

"This activity is a call to action for all Americans to learn more about the dangers of landmines and to support initiatives that will help to eliminate them.

For more information about the American Legion's anti-mortaror activity, please visit their website at legion.org.

Did Snowdon Lay an Egg?

By Earl Wilson

NEW YORK—Just a joke?

While Princess Margaret's four-week egg-keeping proved to many New Yorkers that they were kids by keeping an egg in her bosom, it turned out to be a joke to her husband Lord Snowdon, who revealed last night that he had been given a real egg by his wife to keep in her bosom for four weeks. The egg was kept in her bosom—oh, I mean breast—by her husband for four weeks while the duchess herself was away in London, according to a x factor.
DEAR ABBY: His Girl Just Wants the Facts

To Anony4mous Reader:

About three months ago I met a very pretty girl. We were 16 years old and were very much in love. I am 23 and she dropped by my college one night and we talked about my 20 years, how she would have married me by now if I lived alone. She also said she loved me and I was the only girl she had ever dated.

Well, I informed her this week that I was no longer in love with her and she turned her back and walked out. She said she didn't love me anymore and that she was no longer in love with me.

DEAR ABBY: If I were in your place, I would feel very bad. I would say that you are a very nice person and that you are not worth being with. I would say that you are a very nice person and that you are not worth being with. I would say that you are a very nice person and that you are not worth being with.

DEAR ABBY: I would say that you are a very nice person and that you are not worth being with. I would say that you are a very nice person and that you are not worth being with. I would say that you are a very nice person and that you are not worth being with.

In Shanghai, a Rolex watch is one of the most popular luxury items, among both locals and tourists. They say that owning a Rolex can make a person feel more successful and confident. The brand is known for its durability and precision, which are qualities that are highly prized in China. The prices of Rolex watches can vary greatly depending on the model and the retailer, but they are generally considered to be a good investment. It is not uncommon for people to purchase a Rolex as a gift for themselves or as a gift for someone else. The brand is also associated with success and distinction, which may be why it is such a popular choice among Chinese consumers.

Most Months Provide Flying Holiday

By Vivian Brooks  AP News Features Writer

Flying holidays—six-month vacations—can be arranged for any month of the year. For example, a person could go home to New England in the spring, vacation in Florida in the summer, go to the West Coast in the fall, and visit the Northeast again in the winter. The only requirement is that the person has enough free time to travel and that he or she is not on work or school commitments.

The benefits of flying holidays are numerous. They provide a break from routine, an opportunity to see new places, and a chance for new experiences. They also allow for more efficient use of time, as things can be done more quickly and effectively than when working or studying.

The Flying Holiday Association, Inc., is a non-profit organization that promotes and facilitates flying holidays. It provides information on how to arrange them, including how to coordinate vacation schedules with work or school commitments.

There are also a number of companies that specialize in organizing flying holidays. These companies can help with everything from booking flights to arranging accommodations and activities.

For more information on flying holidays, contact the Flying Holiday Association, Inc., or one of the companies that specialize in them.
