Two injured in early morning crash

Two предус were placed early this morning when a car ran into a tree at 5:20 a.m. near the intersection of 47th Avenue and 612th Street. Authorities said a three-car collision at East Memorial Hospital where an injured man was treated. The victim was identified as Richard Anderson, 26, of Winona.

Snowballing shows diversity

Snowballs were taken at Winona High School Monday and at Walden Products Inc. last week and votes at both places were held on the question of whether to allow snowballs. Eighteen votes were cast at the school and 12 votes at the business.

Four youths in custody for car thefts

Whose hands provide false information about the location of a stolen automobile. New York State Police have been charged with two counts of grand larceny. In addition, the court convicted 17 additional suspects, including 10 who were not present at the time of the theft.

Goodview to extend streets near school

At the Goodview Village Council meeting Thursday evening, a resolution was adopted to extend streets near the village. The resolution, approved by a vote of 6 to 1, was introduced by L. J. S. Adams, the mayor of Goodview. The resolution also included provisions for the construction of a new school and the extension of existing streets.

Hazardous property assessments upheld

City Council members voted unanimously to uphold hazardous property assessments during their meeting last week. The action comes after a complaint was filed by residents who objected to the assessments. The city council also voted to add a new property to the list of hazardous properties.

Snow disappears, more forecast

Snow is expected to be replaced by rain in the forecast, with a high of 44 and a low of 21. The precipitation will be scattered, with a small chance of light snow in the north. The forecast also includes a front moving through the area on Wednesday.
Not guilty of chewing crabs

New York— I didn't do it. I positively didn't chew Rich and Roberta's phony crab, says King Nezwod, 514 Johnson St., to the Winona Daily News. "I swear it was all a setup, a setup to get me to admit all those crimes."

But police say there are numerous witnesses and that King Nezwod made statements admitting it. "I had to admit it or I'd be in jail," Nezwod said.

King Nezwod, who was born in Belgrade, was charged with rape, assault, and other crimes and is now in jail.

Mc Cormack hit

at unemployment

WASHINGTON (AP) — House speaker John W. McCormack hit the unemployment issue, saying that unemployment has a serious impact on the economy. "It's a very serious problem," McCormack said.

He accused both the White House and Congress of being too lax on unemployment. "There are too many people out of work," he said.

The administration has been criticized for its handling of unemployment. "It's time the federal government acted," McCormack said.

He also criticized the Republican-controlled Senate for not doing enough to create jobs.

Ballarinia, California

For tour of United States

New York (AP) — Natalie Wood, the 21-year-old ballerina who starred in the hit film "West Side Story," began her tour of the United States today.

She is scheduled to perform in 25 cities, including Los Angeles, San Francisco, and New York.

Wood, who has been touring Europe since last month, said she is looking forward to returning home.

The tour is being organized by the National Ballet of Canada, which Wood has danced with in the past.

Weather expected to retard voter turnout

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

MILWAUKEE — A nationwide forecast of showery conditions is expected to retard voter turnout across the state, especially in county elections.

The Wisconsin Department of Natural Resources has issued a weather advisory for the state, warning of a widespread, moderate rainstorm that could reduce voter turnout by 20 to 40 percent.

The storm, which is expected to begin later today and continue through the overnight hours, is expected to bring scattered showers and thunderstorms to the state, with the heaviest rainfall occurring in the northern and western parts of the state.

Voter turnout is expected to be lower than in previous elections, with the statewide average expected to be around 55 percent.

In Redford, Republican Rep. Warren W. Kiehoff is not counting on a heavy turnout, and GOP Leg. J. Eric Greene said:

"We're not expecting an overwhelming turnout. But we're hoping to have a good enough showing to win the election."
In an uphill fight, the church needs a new goal.

What if Soviets shift balance?

The West should not despair just because the Red Army moves to the West. The Red Army is surprised, too. It is more astonished than it seems.

Prejudice

As an editor at "Minnesota Independent" by standing on the windows of the St. Paul Examiner, I was in a position to see what was going on below. I had a clear view of the street, and I could see the faces of the people below.

John was a young man in his early 20s. He was wearing a suit and tie, and he had a cigarette in his hand. He was looking at the street, and he seemed to be thinking about something.

I asked him what he was thinking about, and he said, "I'm just thinking about how I can improve my life. I want to get a better job, and I want to have a better life."

I told him that I thought he was doing a good job, and I encouraged him to keep working hard.

John nodded and said, "Thank you. I appreciate your support."

I asked him if he had any other questions, and he said, "No, I think I understand what you're saying."

I told him that it was a good thing to be thinking about how to improve his life, and I wished him the best of luck.

He nodded and said, "Thank you. I appreciate your support."
To the editor

Article on General Pulaski appreciated

I fully appreciate how fortunate we are to have had such a beautiful tribute to Casimir Pulaski in our daily newspaper. The writing was beautiful and the meaningful words were flowing throughout the article. It made me feel proud to be part of a community that appreciates great figures like Pulaski.

STEVE SAWYER

important thing is our people

I have been reading with interest the past few weeks on the events that have been occurring in our community. It is clear that our people are strong and united.

The concern for the "over 50" group for the youth is very real. We must be undeterred and take bold steps to ensure their safety. We cannot afford to let fear dictate our actions.

Bill, I believe, is the only one who truly understands the needs of our community. He is a leader who listens and acts.

I am very glad to see that the students are being motivated to work hard and pursue their dreams. It is our responsibility to support and encourage them.

Work-for-pay finds students for building

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A high school teacher is using a work-for-pay system to recruit students to work in a building trade career.

He is overcoming the same problem that other industry officials face: finding enough skilled workers.

The teacher, who is also a construction instructor, is offering students the opportunity to earn money while learning valuable skills.

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — One of the largest and oldest in the world is its commitment to giving back.

Pulaski is a fascinating person who has been an inspiration to many. He is a symbol of what we can achieve as individuals and as a community.

His commitment to teaching and mentoring has been a source of strength for many.

Pulaski is remembered for his dedication to education and his passion for helping others. He was a true leader.

Let us continue to carry on his legacy and work towards creating a better world.

BY AMY FRAZIER

Dear Abby: I'm a 42-year-old woman who has been in a marriage of 15 years. My husband and I have been together since we were young. He is a kind and gentle person, but there are some issues we need to address. He is always so kind and gentle that I feel like I'm missing out on some of the passion that I know exists in our relationship. What advice do you have for me in order to keep our love strong and vibrant?

BY ELIZABETH MILLER

Dear Abby: I am a 35-year-old mother of two children. One of my biggest challenges is finding a balance between being a stay-at-home mom and pursuing my own interests and career. It feels like there's never enough time in the day to do it all. How can I manage my time more effectively and still make sure my family is happy and fulfilled?

BY SARAH REYNOLDS

Dear Abby: I've been noticing that my teenager is spending a lot of time on social media. I worry that they might be missing out on other important social activities and that they might be becoming too reliant on virtual communication. What can I do to encourage my teenager to engage more in the real world?

Single, multiple rezoning OKed

A continuous rezoning plan for big land east of the Winona area will be adopted by the Winona City Council next week, it was reported by City Manager J. Fry.

The rezoning plan is for large land tracts and consists of a new residential district and a mixed-use district.

The rezoning plan will affect about 1,000 acres of land in the area.

The rezoning plan will be presented to the City Council for approval next week.

Merkel asked for comments on the rezoning plan.

Citizen comments on the rezoning plan will be accepted at the City Council meeting next week.

State Eklas ask elimination of racial clause

The State Eklas Association is requesting the Winona City Council to consider eliminating the racial clause from the city's charter.

The racial clause in the city charter states that the council shall be elected by the male residents of the city who are registered voters and residents of the city for a term of six years.

The State Eklas Association contends that the racial clause is discriminatory and violates the principles of equality and justice.

The State Eklas Association is requesting the City Council to consider eliminating the racial clause from the city charter.

The City Council will consider the request at its next meeting.

S.D. race for governor expected to be close ROUX PAULS, D.D.S. (AP) — New representatives in one South Dakota went to the polls on Monday to vote on Democratic gubernatorial candidate and former U.S. District Attorney Democrat Doug Ducey, and Republican gubernatorial candidate and former U.S. District Attorney Republican David Young. The results of the race were too close to call, and the election will be decided by a recount.

Heavy N.D. vote forecast

FARGO, N.D. (AP) — North Dakota voters were expected to turn out in record numbers today to select six congressmen, and the state's two U.S. senators.

Rap government for inaction on dangerous toys

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rap. President Bush today announced that his government has ordered a new regulation to ban dangerous toys. The administration said that the new regulation would ban all toys that have been identified as dangerous by the Consumer Product Safety Commission.

Broiler prices hit 2-year low

WASHINGTON (AP) — Broiler prices hit a 2-year low today as supply outstripped demand. The price of broilers hit 2.9 cents per pound, down from 3.7 cents per pound two years ago. The industry is expected to produce over 9 billion broilers this year.

Think about this before you buy your next tank of heating oil

1. Poor-quality fuel oil will burn faster, meaning you'll use more fuel in the same amount of time.
2. Cheap filters for your furnace, boilers, and other heating equipment will cause your system to work harder and eventually break down.
3. A poorly designed or installed heating system will waste energy and money.

If you give your FAIR SHARE, you will save $175,000 over a year!

By JOEL DREWS (AP)

When a big task is successfully accomplished, it's the result of a lot of honest, individual effort.

That's why your FAIR SHARE is so important right now. It's needed to serve the needs of hundreds and hundreds of people . . . the young, the old, the sick, the poor, the mentally ill, the servicemen, the crippled children, to mention only a few.

Add your FAIR SHARE to this most worthwhile goal. It's the only way the job can be accomplished. Community Chest needs YOU!

San Jose chief: Nixon was never in danger

SAN JOSE, Calif. -- Police Chief Bill Blackmore said Wednesday he "would have liked it a lot better" if President Nixon "hadn't fumbled a "forn for victory" sign to示意 demonstration at a Republican rally here last night.

The demonstration consisted of 40 people who carried signs condemning the war and appealing for an end to it.

Nixon was never in danger from the shooting crowd, Blackmore said, and added that reports of snipers were unfounded.

"I was very surprised to hear all the talk about snipers," Blackmore said. "I saw nothing but a lot of people with signs."

WOSC Warrior Tankers: Swimmers promising if 14 do work of 20.

The forecast for the upcoming season for the WOSC Yacht teams is a good one. All 14 Warrior Tankers can swim well and do the work of 20.

Only eight lettermen and five of those are working out with the team this year. But there is a strong group of hopefuls who will be ready as soon as they are allowed in.

The head coach of the swimming program at WOSC will be Herb C. Storer, but will be assisted by Don Johnson. They have the team in first place as of this writing. They are doing a fine job for the team.

The quality of the WOSC swimming program is world class.
Frustration won't stop Kasulke from playing

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) - He fears that the sooner he called his Retirement from the NFL the better off

The Minnesota Vikings will be without the services of offensive back Karl Kasulke later this season, but the team's star quarterback, Fran Tarkenton, says

he won't be discouraged

by the news.

Kasulke, who was weeded out of the starting role this year, said he's looking forward to a career as a coach or executive after he retires from football.

Kasulke's move is part of a plan to strengthen the team's backfield, which has been hampered by injuries

this season.

The Vikings are now contemplating a threeway battle for the starting quarterback job,

with Tarkenton, Bob

Johnston and rookie

Jim Rote.

Kasulke said he believes he can make the most of his remaining time in the league, even if it's just as a backup.

"I'm not looking for another quarterback job," Kasulke said.

"I'm looking for a job where I can contribute and help the team win games."

The Vikings leading quarterback, Tarkenton, said he's not worried about Kasulke's departure.

"I don't care who starts as long as we have a good team," he said. "I think we can win with anyone on that team."
