Federal judge refuses to stop pilots from striking

WASHINGTON (AP) — A federal judge Monday refused to order airline pilots to stop a strike that began Sunday night, throwing the nation's air transportation into disarray. The judge said he lacked the authority to issue a preliminary injunction in the case and that he expected to rule Wednesday on the pilots' request for a temporary restraining order.

The strike, the first of its kind in 20 years, comes as airlines scramble to maintain service, with United Airlines reporting 300 to 500 canceled flights. US Airways, the nation's third-largest airline, said its flights were running 83 percent on time.

Northwest Airlines, which tried to bring in 200 replacements through a strike management company in Des Moines, Iowa, said the company had been able to hire only 150 pilots.

The strike is centered on a contract dispute between the Association of Flight Attendants-CWA and Northwest Airlines. The contract, which expired in March, covers more than 25,000 flight attendants.

The airline said it had reached an agreement with the other labor unions, but the flight attendants' union said it was not satisfied.

The dispute involves wages and working conditions.

The strike began at 10:01 p.m. Sunday, and the airline said it was not the result of a labor dispute.

The judge's order allows the pilots to continue the strike, but he said he would consider granting a temporary restraining order on Wednesday.

Anderson disowns DFL on marijuana, amnesty

ST. PAUL, Minn. (AP) — Gov. Walter F. Mondale, who owned the DFL state party platform that endorsed legalization of marijuana, amnesty for those convicted of marijuana and a social welfare program for urban residents, disavowed the DFL's state party resolutions Friday, saying the party leaders have repudiated the proposals.

"That's accurate," said Craig, speaking by telephone Friday. "It's reprehensible that this would be done without the support of the governor."

New DFL national committee chairman James Wright said the change was necessary to clear up problems of blacks and the party's national leadership.

Craig, a black who defeated a white candidate for the state's highest court, said Monday he was not going to continue to support the party if it did not change its position on civil rights.

The fault, he said, lies with the state party leaders. (Sunday News photos)

"It's not far out to say that the national committee should be socially irresponsible and politically opportunist," Craig said.

"That's accurate," said Wright. "We must accept the responsibility of the national committee for the party's stance on civil rights.

Benjamin won't play safe

NEW YORK — President Dick Benjamin, who’s just bought the New York Yankees, has been boastful about the prospects of his team’s sports as the season opens.

"We’ve got a FREE look at the season," he promised. "They’ve got a chance to win in their future."

The City of Brooklyn is also offering a "FREE" look at the season. "They’ve got a chance to win in future," he promised.

"What are they thinking of?" asked a New York fan.

"I was thinking of the future," replied Benjamin.

"And what’s that, exactly?"

"It’s a FREE look at the season," Benjamin explained. "They’ve got a chance to win in their future."

Saying I tell you so is a dirty business. Deputy Weaver said to his captor that he could have told Mr. Anderson and himself that the restaurant man had raised state liquor taxes 25 per cent last year.

Those people could have freedom — and plenty of it, Weaver said, because the business would go elsewhere. For his part, Weaver said, he had not been able to make any profit in the liquor business. He said his profits had been cut to 15 cents on the dollar. He said the law had made it impossible for him to make any profit.

And so it comes about that a report in the paper story shows a steady climb in the sale of liquor in Minnesota. What a surprise.

The report has been the same under the same circumstances. One day the liquor was good and about 500 million revenue was net. It was a part of the constitute revenue because of the liquor sales.

Big Brothers give meaning to Father's Day

By JUNE JOHNSON

WINONA JAYCEES, along with the entire state of Minnesota, have set aside this week as Big Brother's Week. This week, June 19th through June 23rd, is also the 50th Anniversary of the YMCA's Big Brother program. In our area, this program has helped to provide a brother to a little brother for 50 years. There were three little brothers who had a brother in the program. These boys were at Lake Park last Wednesday for a fishing and picnic event. These boys were 16, 11, and 10 years old. The event was held at Lake Park and was sponsored by the Winona Jaycees. The event was called "The Great Big Brother Picnic." The event included a fishing tournament, a picnic, and other activities. The event was well attended, with over 100 Little Brothers and their Big Brothers in attendance. The event was a great success, and the boys had a lot of fun. Big Brothers give meaning to Father's Day. Big Brothers, short for Big Brother Council, are groups of adult men who are paired with Little Brothers. The program is designed to provide a male role model for young boys, especially those who have lost their fathers. The program is one of the oldest and most successful youth programs in the United States. The program began in Chicago in 1920 and was later expanded to other cities. The program has been successful in helping to prevent delinquency, promote academic success, and improve self-esteem. The program has been supported by the YMCA and other organizations, and has helped to improve the lives of thousands of young boys.

Treatment plant dedication set

By FRANK R. CHILDS
Sunday News Staff Writer

WINONA, Minn. - The $3.8 million sewage treatment plant dedication here Sunday afternoon will set the stage for a major open house that evening.

The dedication, with speeches and music, will begin at 2:30 p.m. in the city's largest single training plant.

The plant, located southwest of the city, is the centerpiece of the city's pollution control efforts.

The plant was dedicated in 1971, and was expanded in 1975.

The new plant is designed to treat 6.5 million gallons of sewage per day, more than doubling the capacity of the old plant.

The new plant is expected to reduce the amount of pollution discharged into the Mississippi River by 50 percent.

The dedication ceremony will include speeches by city officials, including Mayor Jack O'Neill, and representatives from the Minnesota Pollution Control Agency.

The open house will feature tours of the plant, exhibits, and information about pollution control efforts in the area.

The event is open to the public, and is expected to draw a large crowd.

For more information, contact the city of Winona at (507) 452-3434.

Hidden treasure found in home at Rushford

By MARY KRUGER

Many people claim to be antique collectors. Oftens would like to be, but find the cost prohibitive. Some dream of owning a prominent collection, while others simply collect antiques to derive pleasure from showing them off to friends and family. The collection of the late Wally Hoiseth is surrounded by the memories of the man who created it. Hoiseth, a Rushford native, was known for his antique collection estimated at worth several thousand dollars.

Hoiseth, who still resides in the home for antiquities, is proof of the love he had for his collection. His sister, Miss Helmine Hoiseth, who still resides in the home, said that her brother purchased over a 40-year period. He collected for his pleasure, not to derive profit. Hoiseth died in December, 1978, at the age of 73.

One of the most outstanding things about the collection of Wally Hoiseth is the fact that nothing contains a flaw, scratch or chip. And perhaps the most striking thing is the fact that when one realizes how the collection is maintained, this is something that one would not expect. The collection was started by Wally Hoiseth, who had a uniform period, according to Miss Helmine. The collection is well-kept and clean, with every item in its place.

The collection includes several priceless pieces of antique furniture, including a four-piece bedroom suite that Hoiseth purchased and refinished.

Since his death, Miss Hoiseth has been talking about the collection, explaining how he purchased many items at auctions and from private parties. She described her brother as a quiet but shrewd gentleman and ec- static about his collection. She also remembers how he would often spend hours searching for the perfect piece to add to his collection.

Our favorite fellow has spent Father's Day in five states and three continents. But the only spot that really counts is a tranquil tree-lined lake deep in the north country. If he is waiting a worm, casting for bass, or rowing around this particular placid spot, he is probably fishing for his personal rower for his early morning Madison river fishing line.

This trip, you will be told upon our favorite fellow's return, was the most exciting of many he has made to change his fishes, from one state to another. The effect of travel on him is doubtless similar to that of his young relatives, who believe that a great change in their lives will mean a change of the place,

As a special-bonus-really-teriffic Father's Day gift to you, we have a list of three items which will be with you always. At least, if you are a parent, you will need them. The first is a candy frosting, 15.00, carrot, 20.00, and Wonder Curl, 8.05. This list, we are sure, will be with you always. CRAZY MAN'S WIFE

Dear Abby:

I am a 36-year-old married woman. My husband, Richard, is an alcoholic. I have tried to work with him but to no avail. I have many other close friends who feel the same way about Richard. My friends are always telling me that I am enabling him to continue his behavior.

You say that a person needs a support system, but I have found that mine are not helpful. They seem to feel that I am enabling Richard. What can I do to have a support system that understands my situation?

Sincerely,

Mary Olson

Mary Olson

Dear Mary:

It is true that having a support system can be challenging, especially when dealing with alcoholism. It's important to find people who understand and support your journey. You may want to consider joining a support group specifically for wives of alcoholics. These groups can provide a safe space to share your experiences and find understanding.

Wish,Rev. "The Winona LeJetz preserve their secret. But in the Southern Minnesota American Legion Baseball League, where quality competition is expected, the team of LeJetz managers has earned every bit of its reputation.

As has been the case true to form, the season for the LeJetz was a success. All six of the opponents were amazed at the abilities of the team to win, and the managers were pleased with the way their club managed to score enough runs to compensate for their three losses.

The victory went to LeJetz, and the game was held at Winona High School, with an attendance of 5,000.

The game was over in the third inning, and the final score was 5-2.

The LeJetz remain in the top of the season, and their next game is against the Pine City Indians at 7 p.m. on Friday. The game will be held at the Pine City High School.

The LeJetz are currently in first place in the league, with a record of 8-2. They have outscored their opponents by a margin of 56-24.

The Winona LeJetz have been a force to be reckoned with in the league, and their success is due in part to their strong pitching and hitting.

Overall, the LeJetz are satisfied with the 1972 season, and they are optimistic about the future. They have high hopes for the next season, and they are looking forward to challenging their opponents in the league.
Orioles down Twins for 8th win in row

By PAT THOMAS, MINneapolis — Earl Weaver's prophecy of a "fog" for the Minnesota Twins today was anything but a harbinger of bad weather in the third game of the four-game set.

The Orioles, however, were the ones who were enveloped in a fogginess — and scoreless. For the third straight game, and fifth in six starts against the Twins this season, Dave McNally was masterful again. He spread a blanket of Hitlessville over the Minnesota bats and finished with a 2-0 victory.

The Twins, who entered the game as the American League's leader in runs scored, didn't get its first hit until Nick Adams lofted a single to center in the seventh. McNally, who had a 1.20 earned run average going into the game, threw 110 pitches. He allowed only two hits, both singles, and two walks.

The Twins were held to three hits through 6 1/2 innings. McNally struck out eight and improved his season record to 9-3.

The win was the sixth straight for the Orioles. Scott McGregor saw the relief of McNally and got the save.

NBA fines 11 players, now strike seen

By HERB ROTHSTEIN, ST. LOUIS POST-DISPATCH

Lake City wins consolation title in state tourney

By PAT FADUL, Minn.—The only team that could be considered a true threat to Richfield this season was Richfield. But the Bears didn't win the title.

Richfield rallied from a 2-0 deficit in the seventh inning to beat Lake City 3-2 on a wild throw at first base.

Southern Cal still masterofbaseball

By DAM KUYT, Los Angeles — The Southern California baseball team hasn't been too masterful lately in baseball. The Trojans have lost their last two games and have fallen to second place in the Pac-10.

But Southern Cal still has the best batting average in the country. The Trojans have hit .337 as a team.

Hovley shows Brewers another way to lose

By MIKE O'BRIEN, MINneapolis — The Minnesota Twins knocked off the Milwaukee Brewers again yesterday, this time 3-2, and the game was decided by a single hit.

The Twins scored twice in the top of the fifth inning, and the Brewers scored once in the bottom of the fifth.

Red Cedar River—a gentle companion

By DON BROWN
Superintendent, Wisconsin Department of Natural Resources

"There are many who have enjoyed canoeing and kayaking on the Red Cedar River in Wisconsin's northwest, all of whom are convinced that the river is a gem. The river is a beautiful destination for nature lovers, attracting many visitors each year. The river flows through a forested area, providing a peaceful and calming environment for visitors to enjoy. The river is also known for its abundance of fish, making it a popular spot for fishing enthusiasts.

Wisconsin deer season set

MEETING IN ANTIGO, Wis., last week the Wisconsin Deer Management and Deer Technical Advisory Board approved a nine-day deer season for the 2021-22 hunting season, which is the same length as last year's season. The season will run from Sept. 20 to Oct. 10. The proposed season length was based on input from hunters and other stakeholders, and it was determined that a nine-day season would provide adequate harvest opportunities without over-harvesting the deer population.

The board also approved the addition of 143 acres to the Red Cedar River State Natural Area. This addition brings the total area to 9,343 acres, making it the largest state-owned natural area in the state.

The Milwaukee Sunday News reports that the Wisconsin Department of Natural Resources (DNR) has announced plans to improve fish habitat in the Red Cedar River. The improvements will include the construction of new spawning areas and the installation of fish barriers to prevent fish from being washed out of the river. The improvements will also include the planting of native vegetation along the riverbank to provide cover for fish.

The DNR has also announced plans to increase the number of public boat ramps available on the river, making it easier for visitors to launch their boats and access the water. The DNR is also planning to conduct more research on the river's fish population, to better understand its needs and ensure the continued health of the river.

Deer season proposals

The Wisconsin Deer Management and Deer Technical Advisory Board also reviewed proposals for the 2022-23 deer season. These proposals include changes to the season length, bag limits, and other hunting regulations. The board will review these proposals and make recommendations to the Wisconsin Department of Natural Resources (DNR) for the upcoming hunting season.

Highest profit sharing on record

Peersless pays $352,000 to workers

Three years ago Peersless Chain Co. reached a plateau of annual earnings at the $5 million mark. By next fall it could reach the $10 million mark.

President Charles E. Jeresek, in his report for 1972, said the company's net earnings were $3.2 million, up 73 percent from $1.8 million in 1971.

An increase of 15 percent over the previous year's earnings, according to Jeresek, was the result of a number of factors. Among these was a 15 percent pay raise given to employees.

But now, on the eve of the third anniversary of the operation, nearly everybody agrees it is too small.

A new plan and social security, the money tree project, and the company's present benefit program — the pension and social security, the money tree project, and the company's present benefit program — the pension and social security, are expected to bring in even more profit sharing.

ANOTHER IS the stabilization of production in a cyclical- industrial chain (such as door security devices).

With the organization of Peersless Chain Co., the company is planning to add a new product to its line of locks and door security devices.

This product, called the "money tree," is expected to bring in even more profit sharing.

The plant, he said, will be located in the St. Paul area and will employ about 500 workers.

The plan will be designed to produce a new line of security devices for homes and businesses.

Highway Patrol radio keeps law enforcement agencies in touch

179,000 calls handled during 1971

By BILL KERR

Rapid City, S.D. — Rapid City Highway Patrol radio has kept law enforcement agencies in touch with the 850,000 people in South Dakota.

The radio communications system is the only link between the Highway Patrol radio station and all parts of the state. The system is in operation 24 hours a day, 7 days a week.

Accident reports, missing persons, accidentally lost luggage, and severe storms are reported to the radio communication center by police officers and emergency personnel throughout the state. The center is staffed by several members of the Highway Patrol.

A number of these members are also involved in other law enforcement agencies, including the Highway Patrol and state highway patrol agencies.

A number of these members are also involved in other law enforcement agencies, including the Highway Patrol and state highway patrol agencies.

In addition to the regular communication center, there is a 24-hour service available for all law enforcement agencies throughout the state. This service is available by calling 719-0001.
