Decorah welcomes its returning war prisoner

By VI RENICK

Sunday News-Register

Decorah, Iowa - The first public parade held in Decorah since POW Michael H. Kjome was released from Vietnam was held Saturday.

The parade began at 3:45 p.m. and ended at 4:30 p.m. on Water Street. Decorah High School students, along with a contingent of 100 parade vehicles, led the parade down Water Street, Decorah's main thoroughfare.

Kjome, who was held captive by the Viet Cong for five years, was welcomed by a crowd estimated at 10,000 people along the parade route. The parade was a celebration of Kjome's return home and a tribute to his service.

The parade included a variety of floats, including one from the Decorah High School band and color guard, and another from the Decorah Community Church. The parade also featured a float from the Decorah Area Chamber of Commerce, which included a display of local businesses.

The parade ended with a welcome home ceremony at the Decorah City Hall, where Kjome spoke to the crowd.

Kjome, who was captured in 1967 and was released in 1972, was greeted by his family, friends, and community members. He was also presented with a key to the city.

Kjome's return home was a momentous occasion for the small town of Decorah, and a source of pride for the entire state of Iowa.

Kjome's reaction when he arrived home was one of joy and gratitude.

"It's really great to be back!" he said.

Kjome's family and friends were overjoyed to see him.

"We couldn't be happier," said his wife, Mary.

Orphans of the war

Jameston Reston

WASHINGTON — The Americans in Vietnam are now down to about 15,000 and the numbers, if anything, are coming down. The facts are not new, they have been known for almost two months. But the world is now being told of the war, and particularly of the children left behind by the war, by the American newcomers.

The government of the United States has consistently emphasized the difficulty of evaluating the number of orphans of the war. The first and most obvious evaluation is to be found in the number of unregistered Vietnamese children, which is in the order of 15,000, according to the estimates of the U.S. government. But there is no way of getting accurate information on the unregistered population, and the private estimates range from 15,000 to 120,000, or even higher.

Even in this field an American definition of an orphan sounds like legal jargon. A Vietnamese orphan is defined by the American as any illegitimate child born after the Vietnam war, with a mother who is not necessarily a nonresident or a nonresident of the United States. The definition seems to be broad enough to include any child born to any Vietnamese woman, regardless of her legal status.

The problem is that we have to use the term “orphan” in order to make the trip, he found that the White House had been abolished. We know our friends in the White House used to be there, and we’re not allowed to go to the White House anymore.

VD clinic needed

I have just read an article appearing in the Winona Daily News of January 31, 1977, about a clinic open your eyes...VD clinic needed

I am not a resident of Winona County, but I left with a terrible impression that Dr. Archie Edie is more interested in威斯康星州威诺纳县的《威诺纳日报》1月31日的一篇文章，文章中提到开放眼...性病诊所所需要的

我并不是威诺纳县的居民，但我离开时留下了可怕的印象。阿奇·艾迪医生对威诺纳县的糖尿病诊所似乎更感兴趣，而且对威诺纳县的糖尿病诊所的收费问题也感兴趣。如果糖尿病诊所的收费问题仍存在的话，我将为糖尿病诊所的前途感到担忧。

Art Center offers chance for growth

The Winona Art Center wishes to express its appreciation to you for your loyal support and encouragement. It is not often that a small community has an art center, and we are grateful for the opportunity to serve the Winona area.

This year, we have expanded our programming and are offering more opportunities for people to participate in the arts. Our goal is to create a sense of community and provide a space for people to express themselves creatively.

We have also added new exhibitions and events to our calendar. Our hope is that these will continue to be popular with our audience.

Letter correction

In a letter from Gordon Gus, Goltz, Whitehall, Wis., Feb. 21, you mentioned that you were not a resident of Winona County, but I believe you are.

Winona is a city in the state of Wisconsin, USA, and it is located near the Mississippi River.

It is my understanding that Winona County is a rural area with a population of about 16,000 people. I am not sure where Gordon Gus, Goltz is located, but I believe he is a resident of Winona County.

What is the purpose of the Winona Art Center and what type of programming do they offer?

The Winona Art Center is a non-profit organization dedicated to promoting the arts and culture in the Winona area. They offer a wide range of programming, including exhibitions, educational programs, performances, and community events.

Do you have any information on the proposed Jackson County Board of Supervisors' bond initiative for the Jackson County Clinic?

The proposed Jackson County Board of Supervisors' bond initiative for the Jackson County Clinic was approved by the board in January 1977. The project was designed to improve the clinic's facilities and address the needs of the community.

What is the current state of the VD clinic in Winona County?

I am not sure of the current state of the VD clinic in Winona County. I would suggest contacting the Winona Health Department or the Winona Health Planning Organization for more information.

Letter correction

I believe you are not a resident of Winona County, but I have been living in Winona for the past year.

I am interested in learning more about the proposed bond initiative for the Jackson County Clinic. Could you provide me with more information on this project?

The proposed bond initiative for the Jackson County Clinic was approved by the board in January 1977. The project was designed to improve the clinic's facilities and address the needs of the community.

Group Home also economical idea

I agree with your report, Feb. 23, about the group home idea. I believe that this is an economical solution for providing treatment for mental illness. It is my understanding that the group home treatment costs about $9,000 per year, while institutional treatment costs about $13,000 per year.

The group home model is designed to provide a more personalized and therapeutic environment for patients. It also allows for a greater level of privacy and independence for the patients.

However, there are some concerns about the group home model. Some argue that it may not be as effective as institutional treatment in some cases.

I am interested in learning more about the proposed group home programs. Could you provide me with more information on this project?

The proposed group home programs were approved by the county commissioners in February 1977. The programs included a new group home and an expansion of the existing group home.

How do you think the group home model can be improved?

I believe that the group home model can be improved in several ways. First, the group home should be designed to provide a more supportive and therapeutic environment for patients. This can be done by increasing the number of staff members and providing better training.

Second, the group home should be designed to provide a more personalized and individualized treatment plan for each patient. This can be done by providing more resources and support for each patient.

I am interested in learning more about the proposed group home programs. Could you provide me with more information on this project?

The proposed group home programs were approved by the county commissioners in February 1977. The programs included a new group home and an expansion of the existing group home.

Independence Hall being restored in all details

By JOHN BANNA

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Do you remember the history of Independence Hall? Well, it's still standing, but it's not perfect. The National Park Service is currently undertaking a multi-year restoration project to bring Independence Hall back to its original condition.

The hall was originally built in 1732 and served as the meeting place for the Continental Congress during the Revolutionary War. It has been the site of many important events in American history, including the signing of the Declaration of Independence and the ratification of the Constitution.

However, over time, the hall has suffered from wear and tear, and it needs attention to ensure its long-term preservation. The restoration project includes cleaning and repainting the exterior, as well as repairing any damage that may have occurred.

The hall is scheduled to reopen to the public in 2020, following the completion of the restoration work. In the meantime, visitors can still tour the interior of the hall, which includes exhibits and displays that highlight its rich history.

Winona set for adventure in the Andes

By KATHY KNUDTSON
Sunday News Staff Writer

Winona's 19-year-old Gary Benge will leave today for a month-long adventure in the Andes to join an expedition of eight climbers from the University of Wyoming. He was graduated from Winona High School in 1970.

The expedition, called a "three-week training and experience" by its leader, the Rev. Dr. William McCaughey, a professor of history at the university, will involve the use of mountain equipment and techniques for climbing.

Benge has been interested in mountain climbing for several years and has been training in the past six weeks with a friend, a pitcher for the Winona High School baseball team.

Montessori arts, craft sale set

Plans for the opening assembly for the Montessori arts and crafts sale were announced Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. James Reed, 90 East Third St.

Mrs. Reed is co-chairman of the Mount Vernon Community School, a committee which will sponsor the arts and crafts sale.

The sale will be held at 10 a.m. March 12.

"There is a relationship between art and nature," said Mrs. Reed, "and this is one of the things to come out of the Montessori experience.

"We hope to have a wide variety of items, including paintings, jewelry, and other crafts."
County commissioners, court system at odds over Main House

By AL BATY

St. Cloud Times

Although many people and groups have been involved in the struggle for the Main House, a mobile shelter for the homeless, the County Commissioners and the County Judge have been at odds over the funding of the facility. The County Commissioners have allocated only $5,000 for the project, while the County Judge has asked for $10,000.

The purpose of the Wiilpna County Board of Operations thus far, involved by malting federal involvement with funding projects of involvement with supervision of personnel in the current facility and the placement of only one boy in the facility. The assignment of per-sonnel for supervision of the group home is also under consideration.

The two other members of the County Welfare Board members have been active in the group home operation to date. They are Jim Schrandt, co-owner of the facility, and Dennis, foster father. The two other members are Jim Schrandt and White.

The house parents and counselors have been active in the group home, and the boys are too, according to John Conway, 747 W. Broadway. They are trying to see how a family operates.

The two other members of the project are: Church of the Saviour, the county Board and County Welfare Board members.

The assignment of personnel for supervision of the group home is also under consideration.

Easter egg hues key to fashion

By MARY KRUGER

Sunday News Women's Editor

FROM shady, swinging shorter hair to strapless simbles, the look of 1973 proves that nothing is being done for spectacular effect. Not even skirt lengths, which may barely graze the knee or that these inches show it.

This spring-and-summer 1973 forecast is far from that of former years, and this pastel passion theme. Watch for baby blues and pinks, plus quiet greens and pastel apricots. Clear vivid shades (forget the murky off-colors) are also potent. White, of course, chalks up as the perfect accent, or is dynamic on its own.

Most popular is the want-together look, tumbling the shaggy-Ave. is prepared for night « day travel in this two-piece costume. The one piece dress features

A NIT OF HATS . . . Mrs. Thomas McCarthy, Waverly Dr., models the young-looking pinafore dress. Cool and full of style for day or evening, the dress is bright red and white with small white polka dots from top to bottom. It is in the back gives a new look just shows the natural material.

SPRING ELEGANCE . . . Mrs. James Beck, 1492 Heights Blvd., wears a fitted spring costume of brown, the look that will suit every and every style. The pastel blue background is dotted with white and features a clip white lace and with. The matching self-tie belt rests at the natural waistline.

Sun Hat . . . . Mrg. Philip Repozov, 6th Walter St., sports the double look—a hat that turns "up" to cover ears. The wide-brimmed hats and matching lower parts are off-white in color and are sported with a navy blue pin stripe.

TUESDAY HAT . . . Mrs. Robert Beasley, 1051 Citron Ave. is prepared for sight or social travel in this long-sleeved knitted felt dress of bright green and white. A concomitant skirt of the dress. The white knit sweater is trimmed with fabric from the basic dress and the white Gilmre Ave., is prepared for night « day travel in this two-piece costume. The one piece dress features

Winona archers take best deer of 1972 in two states

By ENRICO DIBELLA

By Express News Outdoor Writer

Winona, Minn. - People have been shooting deer in Winona County for years, but none of their efforts come close to Pope and Young records. Now, however, a group of archers has established Pope and Young records at the age of 19.

This group is the Winona Archers and Club, which recently held its annual meeting at Father Tibesar's refuge near Red Wing, Minn.

The Winona Archers and Club was formed two years ago by a group of individuals who shared a common interest in the sport of archery.

The group consists of about 30 members, who meet twice a month to discuss archery techniques, rules, and other related topics.

The annual meeting is held in the fall, and at this meeting, the group sets its goals for the upcoming year.

In addition to discussing archery, the group also engages in various community service projects.

One such project is the establishment of a wildlife refuge near Red Wing, Minn.

The refuge was established in 1970, and it has since become a popular destination for bird watchers, nature enthusiasts, and hunters.

This year, the Winona Archers and Club established its first Pope and Young record for the whitetail deer.

The record was set by an archer named Doug Frazzle, who shot a deer weighing 215 pounds.

According to club president, Bob Fratzke, the deer was shot in Big Stone County, Minn.

The deer was shot during the 1972 hunting season, and it is the first Pope and Young record established by the Winona Archers and Club.

The club plans to continue its efforts to establish more Pope and Young records in the future.

Camera Art sets expansion

LEWISTON, Minn. — The Camera Art plant at Lewiston will expand with an additional 6,000 square feet of building space, it was announced here by W. A. L. Hay, company president. The expansion will double the present floor area of the company’s plant which covers 3,000 square feet. The building has been acquired from the former A. C. H. Printers building, located on the north side of the city. The additional space will be used for a new machine shop, an addition to the existing warehouse and for storage space.

Bank debits up by 22 percent

The Minnesota Community Credit Union, which has a membership of 3,000, has reported a 22 percent increase in bank debits during the past year. The increase is attributed to the growing use of the credit union by its members, who have found it more convenient to make their payments through the credit union than to write checks. The credit union has also made it easier for its members to make payments by offering a variety of services, such as direct deposit and automatic withdrawal.

License renewal delay may be costly: judge

A license renewal delay could cost a person up to $100,000 in legal fees, according to a judge. The judge ruled that a person who was denied a license renewal must pay the costs of the legal proceedings, which could include attorney fees, court costs, and other expenses. The judge said that the delay in the renewal process was unreasonable and that the person had a good claim for renewal.

Moving radar gives speeders new headaches

Drivers who don’t like to get their vehicles checked may not like the new moving radar system that is being used in the community. The system is designed to detect speeding vehicles and to record their speed. It is being used to help reduce traffic accidents and to improve traffic flow. The system has been installed in several areas of the community and has been found to be effective in reducing speeding.

Galesville seeks loan for housing

The Galesville Housing Authority is seeking a loan to finance the construction of new housing units in the community. The loan is needed to finance the construction of new units, which are needed to meet the housing needs of the community. The loan will be used to finance the construction of new units, which will be available for rent to low-income families.
