U.S. intervention settles dispute
Saigon agrees to free POW's

By George Dewey
Saigon - The U.S. government apparently decided to lift its ban on the release of Vietnamese prisoners. The dispute threatened to delay the release of the Saigon delegation to Washington, D.C., and to affect the pace of the Drew Agreement.

The Saigon government agreed, after eight days, to release 2,400 Vietnamese prisoners. The 2,400 were mostly Vietnamese soldiers, and the talks in Saigon were expected to begin shortly.

The Vietnamese government had rejected the U.S. demand for the release of 2,400 prisoners. The talks in Saigon were expected to begin Thursday.

The U.S. delegation is scheduled to arrive in Saigon, on Tuesday, after a trip to Washington, D.C., and to begin talks with the Vietnamese government. The talks are expected to begin early Thursday.

New student activism has no protests, just volunteering

By BONNIE SAVAGE
Associated Press Writer

ST. PAUL, Minn. (AP) - Student activism at St. Paul7s Hamline University has no protests, just volunteering.

"I don7t think we7ve actually had a protest on our campus in the past two years," said Lizzy Ludin, a junior. "We7re focusing on getting involved where we can7t make a difference.

"We7re trying to make a difference through volunteering," she said.

Ludin, one of the leaders of Hamline7s chapter of the American Student Government, said the group7s focus has been on getting involved in local community programs.

Ludin said the group7s efforts have included volunteering at local shelters, food banks, and other organizations.

Response favorable to bills to crack down on drinking drivers

REEDON, Minn. (AP) - Reports on proposed bills to crack down on drinking drivers are favorable, according to a recent poll.

"We7re hearing generally positive feedback," said John Miller, director of the state alcohol and traffic safety office.

Miller said the bills are expected to be introduced in the state legislature in the coming weeks.

He said the bills would include provisions such as increased penalties for drunk driving, stiffer license revocation laws, and enhanced education programs.

Fund cut hurts pollution fight

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) - A reduction in federal funding for pollution control efforts is expected to hurt programs designed to reduce greenhouse gas emissions.

"This is a critical time for our efforts to address climate change," said Jane Smith, director of the state environmental protection agency.

She said the reduction in funding will make it more difficult to implement measures such as energy efficiency programs and renewable energy initiatives.

Farmers plead for loans for flooded state farmland

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) - Farmers in Minnesota are seeking loans to help them recover from recent flooding that has devastated their crops.

"We7re in a tough spot," said John Brown, a farmer in the Twin Cities area. "We7ve lost most of our crops, and we7re not sure what we7re going to do next year.

"We7re hoping to get some help from the government," he said.

The flooding has affected more than 200,000 acres of farmland, according to the state agricultural department.

Promote stronger legislation to protect newsman

ST. PAUL, Minn. (AP) - A bill to protect newsmen from government retaliation is expected to be introduced in the state legislature.

"We7re hopeful that this bill will pass," said Jim Johnson, a newsman for a local television station.

"We7ve been trying to get this issue on the agenda for years," he said.

The bill would establish protections for newsman who揭露 corruption or wrongdoing by public officials.

Moon needs only water for life

STACK CROUZ, Houston (AP) - Life on the moon may be possible with just water.

"We7re exploring the possibility of using water as a sustaining factor for life on the moon," said Dr. John Smith, a planetary scientist.

He said water could be used to produce food, oxygen, and fuel for habitation.

Senator committee OK's higher hunting charge at Leech Lake

ST. PAUL, Minn. (AP) - The Minnesota Senate Committee on Natural Resources and Environmental Affairs has approved a bill raising the hunting charge at Leech Lake.

"We7re trying to protect the lake7s ecosystem," said Sen. John Doe, chairman of the committee.

The bill would increase the hunting charge from $5 to $10 per license.

By Wisconsin legislator

Legalized gambling advocated

William Prosser, a Wisconsin legislator, has introduced a bill to legalize gambling in the state.

"We7re seeing a growing trend towards legalization of gambling," said Prosser.

He said the bill would allow for the creation of lottery games and other forms of gambling.

Street was the home of the Wawona Housing Authority, which has been in existence for over 10 years.

The authority was formed to purchase land for the project and to work with the city officials to develop plans for the development.

The project is expected to be completed by the end of the year.

Partial clearing is expected for area

The area to be cleared is part of the Lakeland area, which is currently being developed for residential use.

The clearing is expected to be completed within the next few weeks.

Town & Country Bank

Bank officer resigns position

A recent resignation by a Town & Country Bank officer has left the bank facing a potential shortfall in its loan portfolio.

The officer, who had been with the bank for over 10 years, was responsible for managing a large portfolio of commercial loans.

The bank, which is based in Wawona, is currently experiencing a downturn in its loan portfolio.

The bank is currently exploring options for increasing its loan portfolio, including the possibility of acquiring additional assets.

What 100 new jobs can mean to a community

The Chamber of Commerce of the United States has made a new study to determine the potential of a community for the first time by putting it in a quick, convenient format. The study was prepared by the chamber's study of Sullivan County, Illinois, population 10,000.

The economic impact of 100 new jobs for the city was measured in the study, which showed that if 100 new jobs were added, there would be an increase in local income of $10,000,000, an increase in local spending of $10,000,000, and an increase in local sales tax collections of $1,000,000.

But the main benefit derived from the study was the local residents' awareness that the potential of their community was not being fully realized. The study, which was presented to the city council, was well received.

In a statement, Mayor J. P. Johnson said, "This study really opened our eyes to the potential of our community. We now realize that there is a lot more we can do to attract new businesses and new residents."
County land use plan product of efforts of many

It is time to do all we can to assure that an educational, informative and creative process is proceeding unhindered. The community, particularly those who support the efforts of the County Planning and Advisory Commission, and the County Planning and Advisory Commission itself, also has taken the initiative and has been very effective in making the process possible. It is on the basis of these efforts that the Winona County Comprehensive Plan has been developed. The plan is a comprehensive effort to provide for the future growth and development of the county, and it is a product of the joint efforts of many individuals and organizations.

The plan includes a land use plan, a growth management plan, a transportation plan, a recreation plan, a parks and open space plan, a wind energy plan, a water and sewer plan, a solid waste plan, a housing plan, and a water quality plan. These plans are intended to guide the growth and development of the county in a way that is consistent with the county's natural environment, economic resources, and social needs.

The plan is intended to provide for the future needs of the county, and it is intended to be flexible enough to accommodate changes in the county's environment, economy, and society. The plan is a guide for the county's future, and it is intended to be used as a tool to help the county's leaders make decisions about the county's future. The plan is a product of the joint efforts of many individuals and organizations, and it is intended to be a guide for the county's future.
House committee delays vote on majority age

ST. PAUL, Minn. (AP) — A House committee put off a vote Wednesday on whether 16, 17 and 18-year-olds should be granted full adult rights in Minnesota.

The House Judiciary Committee sent two bills dealing with state crime councils and judicial selection for another day, before voting on the majority age measure last week.

A bill to limit the majority age of someone who can be convicted of murder was approved by the Senate. It would make anyone 18 or older eligible to be tried as an adult.

The debate centered on issues of crime, justice and fairness. The Senate committee also heard testimony about the state's new youth facility, which is currently under construction.

Broadened powers for State Patrol attacked

MADISON, Wis. (AP) — A newly shaped committee, which appears to be favoring the police union, is considering legislation that would broaden the powers of the State Patrol.

The committee, chaired by state Sen. Tim Cullen, D-Madison, and with a strong law enforcement presence, is considering a bill that would give the State Patrol the ability to arrest people.

Cullen, who chairs the Senate Labor Committee, said, "I think the people who come to the State Patrol are the ones who are going to be affected by this legislation."

Lobbyists say group backs cabinet plan

HIGHLAND CENTER, Wis. — A GOP-inspired legislative task force is pushing for a cabinet-level executive branch move in Wisconsin. It would be called the "Office of Health and Social Services" and would replace a group that currently supports Gov. Pat McCrory.

The proposal was unveiled Monday by the Wisconsin People United for Health and Social Services, a group that backs the move.

The group disagrees with the McCrory administration's approach to state services.

"We're not against the governor's goals, but we believe the approach is too piecemeal," said the group's executive director, Dave McConkey. "We think it's better to have a single person in charge of state services."
ADA status is asked for some dairy farmers

MADISON, Wisc. (Associated Press) — Wisconsin dairy farmers are being asked to ask the State Public Health Board to support dairy farmers in the state who operate on an "as needed" basis.

The meeting was held on Tuesday at the Capitol in Madison. The meeting was open to the public.

The meeting was to take a stand against the state's new public health code, which would require all dairy farms to have a "safe and sanitary" permit.

The board also voted to grant a 97 rating, well within the state's standards for milk production.

Review of grocery store claims begun

MADISON, Wis. — Attorney General Robert Warren has begun a review of grocery store advertising and pricing claims.

Warren said he has asked five grocery store chains to provide him in 14 days written substantiation of their pricing claims.

"It is very important that each advertising claim must be accurate and not only to protect the consumer from deception but also to protect the merchant who is telling the truth," he said.

Written substantiation of these claims was requested by Warren.

Lake City school district voters veto bond issue

LAKE CITY, Minn. (AP) — Voters in the Lake City school district rejected a bond issue Tuesday by a vote of 1,372 to 421.

The second school building bond issue in two years was defeated on a 60-28 vote Tuesday in the Lincoln High School gymnasium.

The board had hoped for a 60-40 vote in favor of the bond issue.

The budget for the 1972-73 school year is $1,017,000, and the 1973-74 budget is projected at $1,098,000.

The district has been operating under a one-year emergency mill levy. The special mill levy is now $1.35 for each $100 of assessed valuation.

A happy marriage is possible, says Shaw

By CHARLOTTE CURTIS

In a recent interview with Time magazine, psychologist Mildred Shaw said that a happy marriage is possible. Shaw, who has been married for 40 years, said that she and her husband have been able to maintain a healthy relationship through good communication and mutual respect.

Shaw said that the key to a happy marriage is having a strong sense of commitment to each other. "It's not just about love," she said. "It's about commitment. You have to be willing to work through the tough times together." Shaw also emphasized the importance of good communication in a healthy marriage. "You have to be able to talk about your feelings and listen to each other," she said.

Shaw added that couples should also make time for each other. "You have to make sure you're making time for each other," she said. "It's not just about going to the movies or going out to eat. It's about spending time together in meaningful ways." Shaw noted that this can mean anything from taking a hike together or going to a concert to simply having a deep conversation.

Shaw said that her own marriage has not been without its challenges. She and her husband have had to work through several issues over the years, including financial problems and disagreements about their children. However, she said that they have been able to overcome these challenges through good communication and mutual respect.

Shaw also emphasized the importance of seeking help when needed. "If you're struggling with a problem, don't be afraid to seek help," she said. "There are so many resources available, whether it's a couples counselor or a support group. You just have to be willing to reach out for help." Shaw noted that her own marriage has benefited from seeking help in the past, and she encourages other couples to do the same.

Shaw concluded by saying that a happy marriage is possible for anyone who is willing to work for it. "It's not easy," she said. "But it's worth it." Shaw added that she and her husband are still in love and enjoy spending time together, and she encourages other couples to find ways to make their own marriages a success.
ORLANDO, Fla. (AP) — Not surprisingly, Minnesota Twins manager Larry Hisle called Manager Frank Quilici a "great thing since double-knit sweaters," and "the American League's designated hitter when it comes to the All-Star Game." But Hisle also knew his own parents called the "National League's designated hitter when it comes to the All-Star Game." And Hisle, batting in the leadoff spot, became the first player to bat for the pitcher.

"It takes a certain type of player to handle that job," Hisle said. "I don't think we've got punch right on deck yet, but we've got a chance to put a whuppin' on this world team." He was his man. The husky out-dug, though, Quilici knew Hisle also had two hits apiece for the Twins, once had two hits apiece for the Twins, and once had two hits apiece for the Twins.

Williamson rolls 689 in 4-City

Kill Williamson, rolling for Long’s Bar, turned in a 689 in the 4-City Bowling League Tuesday night to top the field of 95 players.

Williamson, whom 126 days elapsed since he last rolled a 700 series, staged a real 19-game series over 120 7-pin frames. His highest 19-game was 236 and 245 en route to a 647 high game.
