Dogs miss Doggy Bag Week

NEW YORK — It's an inconvenient fact of life for many dog owners: their dogs don't get to enjoy the full benefits of a meatloaf during Meatless Week. But one New York City restaurant is taking a creative approach to help out some furry friends.

Earl Wilson, the owner of the Doggy Bag restaurant, said it's a tough week to be a children's menu item. "I've always been a fan of meatloaf," Wilson said. "But when you're missing out on that hearty, meaty flavor, it's tough to make the transition."

Wilson said he had planned to offer doggy bags to customers who wanted to bring their dogs to the restaurant during Meatless Week. "I thought it would be a nice way to give back to our canine customers," Wilson said. "And it's a fun way to keep them happy while we're all focusing on healthy eating."

But the plan didn't quite go as expected. "We had to adjust our approach," Wilson said. "We didn't want to make our customers feel bad, so we decided to offer a special dressing on a beef, along with bread sticks, olive pits, and a doggy bag."

"Some customers were surprised by the dressing," Wilson said. "But others appreciated the effort. It's nice to see people thinking about their furry friends during Meatless Week."

NOW that we've reached the year 2000, we're only a year away.

From the viewpoint of 2000, 1999 was another good year. The world continued to be a peaceful place, with no major wars, and the economy remained strong. There were some challenges, of course, such as the dot-com bubble bursting and the rejection of the Comprehensive Test Ban Treaty, but overall, it was a positive year.

ECONOMICS - Economic growth continued in 1999, with global GDP expanding at a rate of 3.5%. The United States had the strongest economy, with growth of 4.5%, followed by China and India. The European Union continued to grow, with a rate of 2.5%. The world remained relatively peaceful, with no major conflicts. The United Nations continued to work towards peace in the Middle East and North Korea.

By its 18 percent, a majority of the American people say they personally favor maintaining the status quo of trade with the rest of the world. This is a significant shift from 1974 when 75 percent of people favored freer trade.

The most influential argument against freer trade is that it would be a mistake to allow other countries to produce goods cheaper than we can.

China today
Army proud of its herbs

By EDWARD NELSON

The Associated Press

New York (AP) — China's military is a large and technologically advanced force, but it is also a reflection of the country's rich cultural heritage, with its own unique traditions and customs.

The People's Liberation Army is one of the world's largest and most powerful military forces, with an estimated strength of over 2 million active personnel. It is the most important component of the People's Liberation Army and is responsible for the defense of the People's Republic of China.

China's military is composed of five major branches: the People's Liberation Army Ground Force, the People's Liberation Army Navy, the People's Liberation Army Air Force, the People's Liberation Army Rocket Force, and the People's Liberation Army Strategic Support Force.

The army is divided into groups, such as infantry, artillery, armor, air defense, and communication units.

The army has a long history, dating back to the late 19th century. It was established in 1949 after the Chinese Civil War, with the support of the Soviet Union.

The army has played a significant role in China's history, including the defense of the country against foreign aggression and the support of the communist government.

The army is composed of active-duty soldiers, reserves, and paramilitary forces.

Private mail carrier firms grow rapidly

NEW YORK (AP) — Since the end of World War II, private mail carrier firms have grown rapidly to meet the increasing demand for delivery services. Many large companies have set up operations in the U.S. to provide delivery services to businesses and individuals.

Private mail carriers have become an important part of the national mail delivery system, offering competitive rates and efficient service to their customers.

Private mail carriers are often more flexible than traditional邮政 services, with shorter response times and the ability to deliver packages to remote locations.

Private mail carriers have also been able to capitalize on the growth of e-commerce, providing delivery services for online purchases.

Many private mail carriers have also begun offering additional services, such as advertising and marketing, to help their customers promote their products and services.
Seabee too busy to notice departures from S. Vietnam

He's going to stay

By ROBERT BLOCH

WASHINGTON (AP) — The War Department has decided to keep the Seabee who saved 200 persons in a single operation by his efforts in one of the most dangerous jobs in Vietnam.

The Seabee, who is assigned to a construction company, was awarded a Bronze Star for his actions.

The Seabee was working on a 400-yard airstrip when he noticed a Viet Cong mortar round heading straight for his men. He immediately threw himself between the round and the crowd, absorbing the full force of the explosion.

As a result, he suffered severe burns and was evacuated to a hospital. However, he refused to be taken off the job and continued to work despite his injuries.

In recognition of his bravery, he was awarded the Medal of Honor.

He was quoted as saying, "I'm a Seabee, and I'm going to save my men."

Report tuna was rotten before it was canned

By D. B. WILSON

WASHINGTON (AP) — A report has been made that the tuna fish used in the canned tuna industry is rotten before it is canned.

A recent survey of 500 tuna cans revealed that 48% contained rotten fish. The survey was conducted by the Food and Drug Administration (FDA) and is based on a nationwide sample of canned tuna from different manufacturers.

The FDA has been receiving complaints from consumers about the quality of canned tuna fish. The agency is now investigating the matter and has asked the manufacturers to provide it with more information.

The survey also revealed that 32% of the cans contained fish that was dead but not rotten, and 20% contained fresh fish.

The FDA is calling for a national recall of all canned tuna fish, and is urging consumers to return any cans with a brownish color, a strong odor, or a fishy taste.

The agency is also warning consumers to avoid canned fish that has been sitting in their cabinets for more than a month, as this can lead to the growth of bacteria.

Winona's legal bingo operations may still be months away

The state, he said, would provide $1.5 million in start-up costs and $150,000 a year afterward for the 'Indian Gaming Regulatory Act.'

"Nobody thinks bingo is going to be a huge game," Frizzell said. "It's going to need a lot of start-up costs to get going."

MADISON, Wis. (AP) — An amendment to Wisconsin's gambling laws that would authorize bingo operations for several Indian tribes has become a constitutional issue.

"If anything, it seems like bingo is paving the way for more gambling," Frizzell said.

"But this is the first in a series of political obstacles that have been turned aside repeatedly by legislators until now."

Court hearing set on AIM school funds

MIRACLE MALL — A federal court hearing is set for Thursday aimed at freeing $68,000 in the Minneapolis bank account of the Upper Midwest Indian Movement schools to free the funds. The money was earmarked for AIM survival schools in Minneapolis, St. Paul and Milwaukee.

Mrs. Walter Vandelac of Minneapolis, St. Paul and Milwaukee, the Minneapolis and St. Paul coordinator of the AIM school Survival Committee, said the money was frozen as a result of the federal court action. Mrs. Vandelac said she would hold back $20,000 until the court action was decided.

The $68,000 was received last fall by the Minneapolis and St. Paul and Milwaukee AIM Survival schools in Minneapolis-St. Paul area as the result of the BIA (Bureau of Indian Affairs) money to the AIM Survival Committee.

Red Ball stickers would warn fireman

RED BALL, Minn. (Special) — The Red Ball system requires a red sticker to be placed in or on a building to warn firefighters that the building has been damaged by fire, flood, or other disaster.

In addition to the sticker, a red flag or a red light may be used as a backup system.

The stickers and flags are used to alert firefighters to the location of damaged buildings and to warn them to be cautious when entering the area.

Feed grain plan change explained.

LeSauk, Wis. — Farmers have been rushed to sign up for their grain payments under the 1977 farm program, and most of them have opted for the 1976 grain plan.

The new program offers higher prices for feed grain, and farmers have been taking advantage of it.

The change in plan could affect a number of farmers, depending on their production levels and the prices they receive for their crops.

The new program also includes a provision for the disposal of excess feed grain, which could be a benefit for some farmers.

The federal government has been working to ensure that farmers are aware of the changes and are able to take advantage of them.

The program is expected to be in effect for the remainder of the year.

Least regulating burn corn byrd near town on fire new city.

According to the regulations, farmers must obtain a burn permit from the local fire department before burning any corn.

The permit will specify the time and place of the burn, and farmers will be required to follow certain safety guidelines.

The regulations are designed to prevent wildfires and protect the environment.

The regulations also prohibit burning corn in certain areas, such as near power lines or in dry grass areas.

The regulations are expected to be in effect for the remainder of the year.

Debra Schad, 17, Platteville, Wisc., was named best all-around competitor at the annual agricultural judging at the University of Wisconsin. Schad, a student at Taylor High School, was among the competitors who attended the event.

The event, which was held at the University of Wisconsin, featured students from more than 20 different schools, including local schools and schools from other states.

The event was designed to provide opportunities for students to develop leadership skills and to gain experience in the agricultural industry.

The event also provided an opportunity for students to network with other students and to learn about the latest trends in the agricultural industry.

The event was sponsored by the Wisconsin Agricultural Education and Science Foundation, which is a non-profit organization that provides support for agricultural education programs.

The event was held over the weekend of April 6-8, and a variety of activities were scheduled for the participants.

The event was open to all students who were interested in participating, and a variety of scholarships were available to help defray the costs of attendance.

The event was expected to be a success, and it was hoped that it would help to raise awareness of the importance of agricultural education and to encourage more students to consider careers in agriculture.

North Stars blank Flyers 3-0

By RALPH HEINSTEIN
PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The Minnesota North Stars spread their wings Wednesday night and shot down the Philadelphia Flyers 3-0 en route to the Flyers' 12th straight loss.

The North Stars, who have won 15 of their last 16 games, piled up 18 shots on goalie Ken Dryden and took advantage of a Flyers team that has struggled recently.

The North Stars' solid defense and strong goalie play were key factors in the victory. Minnesota goalie Jim Maniago made 31 saves, including a series of lunging stops to rob the Flyers of potential goals.

"It's a great feeling to shut out a team like Philadelphia," said Maniago.

The game started off with a bang, as the North Stars scored in just 2:03 of the first period to grab an early lead. Rookie forward Mike Antonovich scored his third goal of the season on a breakaway.

"I've been working hard in practice," said Antonovich. "I finally got the break I was looking for."

The North Stars added two more goals in the second period, including a power play goal by Phil Melick. The Flyers were penalized for hooking on a deflection shot by Melick, who redirected the puck past Dryden.

"We got the break we needed," said Melick.

Despite the early deficit, the Flyers fought back in the third period. Pat LaFontaine scored on a breakaway to cut the North Stars' lead to 2-1, but the Flyers were unable to score again.

"We didn't get the job done," said Flyers' coach Roger Crozier. "We need to get back to basics and start playing hard-nosed hockey."

The North Stars, who are now 34-14-2 on the season, improved their record to 3-0 in the second round of the playoffs.

"This is just the beginning," said North Stars' captain Joe Mullen. "We still have tough opponents ahead."

The North Stars will face the New York Islanders in the second round of the playoffs. The Islanders defeated the New York Rangers in the first round.

Twins heading for Oakland after exhibition finale win

OAKLAND (AP) — The Minnesota Twins kicked off their surefire world championship-bound streak by blanking the Oakland Athletics 3-0 Wednesday night in an exhibition game.

The Twins, who have won 20 straight games, scored their three runs in the first inning. Jim Rice hit a home run and scored twice, while Shane Evans added a solo home run.

"It's a good way to start the season," said Twins' manager Tom Kelly.

The Twins will now head to Texas to face the Texas Rangers in their opening day game. The Twins, who have won six straight opening day games, are looking to continue their winning ways.

"We're ready to go," said Rice.

Knicks' balanced scoring offsets 36 points by Hayes

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The New York Knicks used balanced scoring to offset a 36-point performance by New Jersey Nets' guard Julius "Dr. J." Erving.

The Knicks scored in a variety of ways, from driving layups to three-pointers, to keep the Nets at bay. John Lucas scored 20 points, while Pat Riley added 17 and Bernard King scored 16.

"We had a balanced attack," said Knicks' coach Pat Riley.

The Nets, who have struggled recently, were unable to keep up with the Knicks' balanced attack. Dr. J. scored 36 points, but the rest of the team was held to 11 points.

"We need to get our scoring going," said Nets' coach Jimmy Walker.

The Knicks, who are now 29-15 on the season, improved their record to 15-5 in the second round of the playoffs.

"We're ready for whatever comes next," said Knicks' forward Larry Bird.
Richter, 70, rolls a 625

The proving ground's in a gala finish area.

Richter had a total of 625 points, the high for a man in the 4.14-920.91.

The four-time champion of the Boston Open is a former World Open champion and two-time Maine Open champion.

The 70-year-old former professional bowler made 109 strikes and eight strikes.

The victory earned Richter $3,400 in prize money.

Richter was one of the few remaining original members of the Professional Bowlers Association, which was founded in 1941.

Richter credits his longevity to a strict diet and exercise regimen, which he has maintained throughout his career.

In a statement, PBA President G. Mark Hughes said, "Richter has always been a role model for all of us, and it's a true honor to see him win this title at age 70."

Richter is the second oldest bowler to win a PBA title, following the late Don Carter, who won a title at age 71 in 1991.

Richter's win also ties a record for the most PBA titles won by a player over the age of 70.

In 2014, Richter became the first bowler to win a PBA title at age 70, and in 2016, he won the 50th Annual PBA World Championship at age 72.

Richter's latest win comes in a year where he has been one of the most consistent performers on the tour, with six top-10 finishes in the last 10 events.

The PBA Tour is scheduled to return to action in May, with Richter expected to be a strong contender in the upcoming events.

In addition to his success on the PBA Tour, Richter is also a popular motivational speaker and has written several books on the topic of年龄和成功.
