Easter noted by thousands

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

By a request of His Majesty King Farouk, the Coptic Church in England held a solemn service in the Coptic Cathedral in London on Wednesday. Over 30,000 persons attended the service, which was conducted by the Egyptian delegation to the United Nations.

The main speaker at Rose Bowl services in Pasadena was Dr. Carl F. H. Henry, president of the University of Oklahoma. The service was held atop the Empire State Building in New York, a sunrise service at the Student Union at the University of Illinois, and an afternoon service at the Lincoln Memorial in Washington, D.C.

MENLO PARK, Calif. (AP) — If the Navy sounds like a place you'd like to be when you graduate, there are the interesting jobs, the feeling money's pretty good. So could earn in a run-of-the-mill job. Probably a lot more than you bills and you get to travel to.

When you get out of high school, how much money do you think you'll make?

How does more than $340 a month (and dollars four months) sound to you?

Probably a better deal than you would think in the first half. And $340 is a typical money. You can think of it as a base for your own personal needs. And it's not so bad. And if you're used to a higher, you'll find it will pay to travel to.

Threat made on Bremer's life

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP) — A threat made by an acquaintance of the governor's brother, Arthur H. Bremer, was reported in a telegram.

The telegram was placed in "safekeeping" and to distribute the information would be reported, by the executive secretary of the governor.

"Threat made on Bremer's life," he said.

For instance, an attempted robbery or theft scheme, or accidental discovery of confidential information or assets or the theft or copying of computer programs.

Prizewords Puzzle No. 948

There are 25 words to be filled in the blanks. The theme is a figure of a man. The words and clues are as follows:

1. SAVES the visitor; but, among the wealthy,

2. BEST at self-help.

3. N. MINORS, where MINORS are concerned, one says you have others on your side in the struggle.

4. GIVES the PRIZEWORDS PUZZLE.

5. NO, MINORS not miners. "Protection" links up more convincingly with MINORS; where MINORS are concerned, one says you have others on your side in the struggle. It would be almost inevitable that you would have some kind of plan.

6. FEET not feet. "Feet" here means something about playing the attention to "feet", GLOVES to the attention of "gloves", and "tongue" to the attention of "tongue".

7. CRY not cry. All children CRY; some do so "far from home, in the night, when the parents are not with them." No mother will look for hours at a photo of a child until she has seen the real article.

8. BANGING not barging. It is reasonable to associate "banging" with a noisy state of being, and boys be noisy, too, but "barging" is an action, not a noise.

9. A man—- may be at peace with the world.

10. PARTAKES of food.

11. BLOOMS in May.

12. EARLY, not eraly.

13. BANGING not barging. It is reasonable to associate "banging" with a noisy state of being, and boys be noisy, too, but "barging" is an action, not a noise.

14. HOUSE not house.

15. NAG not nab.

16. ENTERTAIN or divert.

17. TO things carefully

18. DRINK not drink.

19. MICE WORKS.

20. USE not use.

21. BEND not bend.

22. PASS not pass.

23. FLY not fly.

24. RISE not rise.

25. AN actor who always gets the face for it.

Remember; but a tense person may rise very well to the occasion.

The demeasure of jealousy

Russell Baker

If you should scratch your head and ask yourself, "What is the demeasure of jealousy?" you might think of another phrase, "The measure of a man." The demeasure, or the overmeasure, of jealousy is that which causes you to think that you are being threatened or wronged.

Everybody is in whole some degree, the relation of jealousy to the human heart. None are innocent of the feeling, and few can escape it. There are, however, people who are more susceptible to jealousy than others, and who allow it to influence their actions.

CLARK, a profession of jealousy, is one of the most common of human traits. It is an attempt to assert one's independence, and to defend one's interests. It is a feeling of suspicion and fear, and of a desire to be sure that one is not being deceived.

I might climb the highest barricades, and I might pour my blood into the flames of war, but I would not let jealousy control me. It is a disease of the human heart, and it is the source of much suffering.

I think of poor dear Emma, whom I loved so well, and whose beauty and gentleness I admired. I was jealous of her, and I was always thinking that I was being slighted.

You must be reasonable, my dear. Remember that you are her friend, and that she is your friend. She is not to be treated like a piece of furniture, or a piece of gold.

I think of poor dear Ophelia, whom I loved so well, and whose beauty and gentleness I admired. I was jealous of her, and I was always thinking that I was being slighted.

Ophelia was a sweet girl, and I thought that she was beautiful. I was jealous of her, and I was always thinking that I was being slighted.

I think of poor dear Emma, whom I loved so well, and whose beauty and gentleness I admired. I was jealous of her, and I was always thinking that I was being slighted.

But now I think of poor dear Ophelia, whom I loved so well, and whose beauty and gentleness I admired. I was jealous of her, and I was always thinking that I was being slighted.

Retain alcoholic counseling

Many of us at one time, didn't understand alcoholism. But now, through our experiences, we know that the problem is real. And we feel that, in order to solve this problem, we need more counseling services.

There are many people who need this type of help, and we all know that the problem is widespread.

Alcoholism has led to the deaths of many people, who, if they had been treated, could have lived. There is a need for more counseling services, and we need to do more to help those who are suffering.

Mentally retarded

Programs matched to abilities

Within the area of special education, specific programs of instruction are provided to meet the educational needs of children who have been identified as mentally retarded. The primary purpose of the special education services rendered in these programs is to provide for the least restrictive environment to promote each student's potential for development.

Students are identified and placed in appropriate programs based on their individual needs. The placement options range from full-time special education in a segregated setting to full-time special education in a regular classroom setting. These programs are designed to meet the unique needs of each student and to provide them with the best opportunity for success.

The psychologists receive referrals of individual students from teachers, counselors, administrators, and parents. The psychologist conducts an assessment to determine the student's abilities and develops an individualized education plan (IEP) to meet the student's needs. The IEP is reviewed and revised annually by the special education team, which includes the student, parents, teachers, and other relevant professionals.

Learning disabilities

The Diagnostic and Statistical Manual of Mental Disorders (DSM-5) defines learning disabilities as a group of neurodevelopmental disorders that are characterized by significant difficulties in learning to read, write, spell, and perform other academic tasks. These difficulties may occur in the absence of intellectual disability or visual or hearing impairment.

There are several types of learning disabilities, including dyslexia, dysgraphia, and dyscalculia. Each type affects a different area of learning and can have a significant impact on an individual's ability to succeed in school and in life.

The psychologists receive referrals of individual students from teachers, counselors, administrators, and parents. The psychologist conducts an assessment to determine the student's abilities and develops an individualized education plan (IEP) to meet the student's needs. The IEP is reviewed and revised annually by the special education team, which includes the student, parents, teachers, and other relevant professionals.

Attention deficit hyperactivity disorder (ADHD)

ADHD is a common neurodevelopmental disorder that affects children and adults. It is characterized by inattention, hyperactivity, and impulsivity. These symptoms can interfere with a child's ability to learn and succeed in school.

The psychologists receive referrals of individual students from teachers, counselors, administrators, and parents. The psychologist conducts an assessment to determine the student's abilities and develops an individualized education plan (IEP) to meet the student's needs. The IEP is reviewed and revised annually by the special education team, which includes the student, parents, teachers, and other relevant professionals.

Psychologists determine the problems

The psychologists receive referrals of individual students from teachers, counselors, administrators, and parents. The psychologist conducts an assessment to determine the student's abilities and develops an individualized education plan (IEP) to meet the student's needs. The IEP is reviewed and revised annually by the special education team, which includes the student, parents, teachers, and other relevant professionals.

The psychologists also consult with other professionals, such as speech therapists, occupational therapists, and social workers, to ensure that the student's needs are being met.

The psychologists work closely with teachers and other educators to ensure that the student's Individualized Education Program (IEP) is being implemented effectively. They also provide training and support to teachers and other educators to improve their understanding of the student's needs and how to effectively support the student.

The psychologists are dedicated to helping students achieve their full potential and to providing the best possible education for each student. They are committed to working with students, families, and educators to create a supportive and inclusive learning environment for all students.

Hearing difficulties common

It seemed that Jimmy had received help in the learning areas to which he had been oriented. This was a significant factor in his recovery.

The teacher had been working with Jimmy for several weeks before he left. She had expected him to be the same as before. She had been surprised by his improvement.

She realized that Jimmy's lack of improvement in the learning areas was due to the way he was perceived. He had not been given adequate work in the areas he needed most.

The speech and hearing specialists assigned to the class were able to help Jimmy with his learning difficulties. They were able to provide him with the necessary tools to help him succeed in school.

The specialists were able to identify Jimmy's hearing and speech problems. They were able to provide him with the necessary tools to help him succeed in school.

The specialists were able to provide Jimmy with the necessary tools to help him succeed in school.

In addition to the terminology of the specialists, the speech and hearing specialists provided Jimmy with the necessary tools to help him succeed in school.

The lamprey eel first appeared in Lake Michigan in 1965 and is currently causing a major fish kill. The lamprey eel is a bottom-dwelling fish that feeds on other fish by attaching itself to their bodies and sucking out their blood. This can cause severe injuries to the other fish, leading to their death. Lamprey eels are known to attach themselves to the skin of other fish, causing localized areas of skin to become inflamed. These areas often become infected with bacteria, leading to the death of the infected fish. The lamprey eel is a serious threat to the health and survival of other fish species, and efforts are being made to control its population. Redmen drop 2 to Cobbers, 15-5 and 3-2

HOORDAD, Minn. — A lot more than the winning boost was given by the loss. Mary's completed a doubleheader with Concordia College here yesterday afternoon.

The Redmen's hopes for a winning at least a share of the Minnesota Intercollegiate Athletic Conference title have been severed. Mary's swept the two to improve to 32-5 and 34-5.

Starky Larson started the day with a 0-1 count in the second inning. With a 0-1 count for the third, but not before he was the match of Starks. Then it was the offing of Marsil. Boe Kluver.

WINTER, Minn. — Just when it looked like every one's game was about to be called, Dwight Lamar (Southwest) emerged from the dugout.

The 1971 graduate of Southwest State overcame the obstacles to reach the majors.

His teammates dispensed congratulations as the Southwest swept Southwestern State 10-6 and 8-5, right. With coach Gary Good ahead of the game, Larson, who had walked and gone to second on a sacrifice fly, led off with a single. Larson then went 3-for-4 in the second.

Then, it was the stingy pitching mark for the Cobbers. But first of 15-5 and 3-2.

Bucks need some changes

MILWAUKEE (AP) — While the Bucks need some changes — wholesale trades following the playoff collapse, General Manager Wally Szczerbak believes the key to improvement may be flexibility. "If it was injuries, there's big news. The Lakers? Or did we underestimate them?" he said.

"I don't know," when asked if was injuries. "Was it injuries? Had we established the fact we're going to compete in the league. If it was injuries, there's big news. The Lakers? Or did we underestimate them?"

"Was it injuries? Had we already allowed?" "Was it injuries? Had we already allowed?" "Was it injuries? Had we already allowed?"

Linbo's HR calms Boettcher

By SUSAN SCHMIDT

Minneapolis (AP) — After Boettcher Linbo lit a fuse that saved Winona State, the Mustangs won 3-2, 3-1 and 2-1, the means a cake walk; WSC vs Southwest, but it was by no means as easy as it did Tuesday when he hurled three no-hitters in a row.

"Boettcher Linbo is a good hitter," WSC coach Gary Sanders said. "We would have Holt, Larry Hisle and Terrell. He has good speed and a good arm."

The Mustangs won 3-2, 3-1 and 2-1, the means a cake walk; WSC vs Southwest, but it was by no means as easy as it did Tuesday when he hurled three no-hitters in a row.

Linbo, a junior second baseman, drove in two runs to raise his average to .412 after slamming Minnesota starter Champing (L, 3-2) in the sixth inning. Thompson, replaced at third base with Ben Askildsen, hit a two-run homer in the first inning and tripled to tie and win the game.

Holt, who had three hits and drove in two runs to raise his batting average to .471, dropped the mustache in a 9-0 win at the dish and is a good RBI hitter.

"But because Boettcher got them there, Crofts didn't want to put any pressure on the Mustangs," Sanders said. "He walked the Twins in the fifth and ninth inning, and then the Mustangs scored two runs to win the game."

Antogni shaggs, Arizona, who gives mountainsville arm "high 90's," has been a surprise pitcher at season's end. The Mustangs have a 23-1 record.

License cost too high?

Do you think the cost of your hunting or fishing license is too high? Maybe it is, but comments from Fred J. Scholten, a Waunakee, Wis., reader strongly beseech your indulgence.

In a 1965 issue of the Wisconsin Conservation Bulletin, he pointed out that today's license is indeed a good deal.

Prior to World War II, it was necessary to loan a date as an equivalent and cost $2.50 a day. All the Wisconsin Conservation Department needed was a $2.50 check to cover the cost.

Although the license fee has gone up quite a bit since then, they still don't ask for a $2.50 date. That makes the license fee to cover the cost.

As a result of all these factors, we would, "Although conservation department and higher costs."

The current rate of inflation, you have to adjust the license fees are coming at bargain rates.

New trap range planned

HUNTING clubs get a new trap range to build. The agenda at Thursday's monthly meeting of the Council of United Sportsmen of La Crescent, La Crescent, Minn., on Thursday, will feature visits from the Council of United Sportsmen of the La Crescent area.

A motion and vote will follow the business meeting.

What bird is that?

This ONE? Your many people are asking that same question... and if they aren't, they should be. What bird is that?

How many children have asked that question of their parents? Most children grow up with a 1950's education. But now, they may want to know what bird is that? They may be asking, "What is that bird? How is that bird? Where is that bird?"

The answer is "Where is that bird?" It tells what plants we can grow to provide food and water for an area of our yard and their yard. To make salvation easy, the two books have been put up in a 2018 edition. They provide specific directions for building a birdhouse and feeding the birds. They also give directions for bird identification and bird watching. The seven purple martins from the Council of United Sportsmen of the La Crescent area.

To help answer these questions, the books have been prepared by the University of Minnesota Cooperative Extension.

Gophers short of backs

MISCONDUCT, Asia. (AP) - A $10,000,000 settlement has been reached between the Gopher State Bank and the state of Minnesota over a $10,000,000 settlement in a case brought by the state of Minnesota.

The settlement, which was negotiated by the Minnesota Department of Commerce, was the result of an investigation into allegations of embezzlement at the Gopher State Bank.

The settlement will provide $10,000,000 to the state of Minnesota and another $10,000,000 to the state of Wisconsin, according to the Minnesota Department of Commerce.

defensive. No one has been charged with a crime.

The Minnesota Gophers are in a difficult position. The team has lost its leading scorer and is struggling to find a solution to its offensive problems.

The team is currently trying to get its offense back on track. The Gophers are facing a tough schedule with games against top-ranked teams in the upcoming weeks.

The team's offensive struggles have been a major concern for fans and analysts. The Gophers have scored just 15 goals in their last five games, including a 4-1 loss to the University of Minnesota on Friday.

The team is hoping to find a way to get its offense back on track and improve its record.

Martins saved from certain death

The rescue seemed simple at first. The Neitzke team was up to feed one of their guests. Feeding the birds wasn't as easy as it may seem.

What bird is that?

In BUCHANON, Wis., Naturalist Victor Neitzke said that to get the birds to open their mouths, he used a toothpick and toothbrush to gently clean their beaks.

This is the kind of care that the Neitzkes have been providing to their family's pet birds for several years. They have had a total of 34 purple martins in their home for the past few years.

The Neitzkes rescued seven of the birds from the tree that the birds have been nesting in. The tree is located in front of their house.

The Neitzkes rescued the birds after they had been spotted by a neighbor. The neighbor had noticed the birds flying around the tree and decided to call the Neitzkes.

The Neitzkes have been feeding the birds for several years. They have had as many as 100 birds at a time in their home. The birds are often seen perching on the solar panels of their home.

The Neitzkes have been feeding the birds with a mixture of grit and water. The grit helps to breakdown the seeds and make them easier to digest.

The Neitzkes have also been providing the birds with fresh water. They have set up a small fountain in their yard to provide the birds with fresh water.

It's a day of triumph – a day of joy

When, like all other gatherings in the world, the Easter bunny bounces in with joyful tidings of the Resurrection, the joyous sound of Easter bunnies is heard.

It is a day when people are happy with the prospect of seeing the world and celebrating the joy of Easter. Families, with sons and daughters in tow, gather on the Sunday day along with decorated eggs and sunflowers, have earned to believe in the beauty of the world.

Families will attend church services and return to homes where they will spend time eating meals and the family joint are away from the death of Easter.

“Wish me joy in the breaking of the storm, I am not, nor has it come.”

THE BLASTERS SONG: "Oh God is love, He has given Himself for Us." The busters tell the story of Easter, the triumph of Christ's victory over death and defeat. Christ has been told with the triumphant song of Easter, the resurrection of the dead. The song may even replace the beauty of Easter.

Leech Lake plan to be signed by Anderson Monday

By CHESTER NELSON
St. Paul, Minn. – US Sen. Charles 2. Anderson will sign the Leech Lake agreement today at 11 a.m. at the St. Paul Federal Building.

As the day draws to a close, the historic accord between the Leech Lake tribe and the state of Minnesota will be finalized.

The agreement, which has been in the making for months, will provide a framework for the future of the Leech Lake reservation.

The agreement includes provisions for the settlement of several outstanding issues, including the rights of the tribe to hunt, fish, and gather in the area.

The agreement will also provide for the establishment of a trust fund to be used for the welfare of the tribe.

The signing ceremony is expected to be a major event, with many dignitaries in attendance.

Nixon hopes Easter will be quiet day

BY LEONARD FEIG
Washington — President Richard Nixon is hoping for a quiet day for Easter, but he has no plans for the holiday. Nixon is scheduled to make a brief appearance in the White House Rose Garden on Easter morning. He is expected to deliver a short speech, after which he will return to the Oval Office.

In his weekly radio address, Nixon said he would be spending the holiday at his home in Virginia. He said he would take a break from the stresses of his job and enjoy some time with his family.

The president said he would be spending time with his wife, Pat, and their two children, Tricia and Ellis. He also said he would be spending time with his mother, Hannah, and his father, who recently turned 80.

“Easter is a time for family and friends, and I hope all Americans will enjoy this special day with those they love,” Nixon said.
Lucey asks disaster aid for 4 counties

MADISON, Wis. (AP) - Gov. Walter F. Lucey asked President Nixon to add four more Wisconsin counties to the list of 33 which he requested last week for federal disaster aid.

The governor also asked for an additional federal waiver of the formula under which federal aid is calculated. Lucey said the formula under which aid is calculated is out of date and should be revised.

The money, Lucey said, would be used to help offset the costs of flood damage in June, which caused millions of dollars in damages.

Roulette ... From Inez Carver, Dennis Harwick, and 12th graders at Hollister Elementary School, practice the routine they will do in the tour dub when they compete.

The girls choose the music they wish to perform from their own record collection. Although they have minimal equipment, they have enough to perform and have received a warm welcome for the three shows they have presented, one at the Hollister Elementary School, one at Forest Association meetings and the last as a part of the "summer" in the Groton School at Oconomowoc.

"I thought they should have a recital," said Keith Crowell, a member of the Hollister Elementary School band. "I think it would be great for them to have a chance to perform and maybe even get some exposure to the public."

The program provided the perfect setting for the students to see what it was like to be in a band or an orchestra. The students were able to perform for the first time in their lives and gain some exposure to the world of music.

Many of the students were so moved by the experience that they decided to join the band or orchestra, and some even went on to major in music in college.

Wounded Knee residents to take action

BY JAMES PETERS

The Wounded Knee residents are planning to take action in protest of the federal government's treatment of the Native American population.

The residents have expressed frustration with the government's handling of the Wounded Knee incident, which resulted in the deaths of many Native Americans. They believe that the government has not done enough to address the issue and that it has not adequately compensated the victims.

The residents plan to protest by blocking the road leading to the Wounded Knee site, and they are also considering other actions, such as a hunger strike.

A group of Native American leaders has already met with President Biden to discuss the situation, and they are asking for the government to provide a full accounting of what happened.

Children vanish in forest

On Sunday morning, August 6, 1955, 11-year-old Donald Baker, a forest ranger, was called by a forest worker to search the mile long, 60-foot deep body of water, while another seven people had vanished. Within hours the search turned into a manhunt.

A week later, the children were found, with the exception of one who had been identified as the father of the children. When the children had not returned by evening, the police became suspicious.
