Spring spoiler: more tornadoes are predicted

For the past several years the Midwest has not experienced any tornadoes during the spring, but this year it may prove different.

All forecasts for the severe storm season have predicted a very active season for the northern plains. The same areas that usually have a few tornadoes will now have a greater number.

The worst area is likely to be the area from central Minnesota to eastern Nebraska. Other areas with above average tornado potential include the central part of the state of Texas and parts of the southern Plains.

The reason for this increase in tornado activity is not yet known, but it could be related to changes in the atmosphere or ocean conditions.

The best way to stay safe during a tornado is to have a plan in place. This includes knowing where to go and what to do.

If you are indoors, go to the basement or lowest level of the building. If there is none, try to go to a room with no windows and without a fireplace.

If you are outdoors, find a low place away from trees and power lines.

Amnesty for what?

WASHINGTON—The proposal before the United States Senate calling for a comprehensive amnesty program to help illegal aliens find legal status has been met with mixed reactions.

There are those who support the idea, arguing that it is necessary to stem the flow of illegal immigrants into the country. Others believe that such a program would encourage more people to come to the United States illegally.

The United States Senate has been debating the issue for weeks, with some senators calling for a vote on the proposal.

Amnesty for whom? Income tax traitors?

To the editor

WASHINGTON — Ladies and gentlemen, welcome to TV Land, that's what I call it. "Amnesty?" Am I the worst deserter of his country? What else could I possibly be? I've been hiding every place I could think of, but now I'm going to come clean and ask the government to give me another chance. It's not that I don't love my country, but I just can't bear the thought of losing my freedom. I want to live my life again, without the constant fear of being caught. I promise to pay my taxes and never betray my country again. I just want to be free. Mercy, sir, mercy."

LOSE 20 POUNDS IN TWO WEEKS!

Famous U.S. Weight Slim Team Diet

During the summer of 1971, the U.S. Weight Slim Team conducted a study to determine the most effective diet and exercise program for weight loss. The results of the study were presented at the National Academy of Sciences in Washington, D.C.

The study included a group of 100 volunteers who were randomly assigned to one of four diet and exercise programs. The programs were:

1. The Low-Fat, High-Carbohydrate Diet
2. The Low-Carbohydrate, High-Fat Diet
3. The Low-Protein, High-Fat Diet
4. The Low-Protein, Low-Fat Diet

The study was conducted over a period of two weeks, and the volunteers were weighed daily. The results showed that the Low-protein, low-fat diet was the most effective for weight loss, with an average weight loss of 3.5 pounds per week.

The study also showed that exercise was important for weight loss, and that a combination of diet and exercise was the most effective approach. The study concluded that a weight loss of 20 pounds in two weeks was possible with the right diet and exercise program.

Israeli, Syrian gunners continue artillery duels

By United Press International

Quirin and Syrian divisions opened up on the Golan Heights at dawn on Monday, in the worst artillery battle in the area since the 1967 war. Israeli forces pushed forward Damascus in the Golan Heights, the site of the Israeli-Syrian border, in the early morning hours. The United Nations observers witnessed the battle.

The Israeli military said the action was "in response to Syrian attacks that forced us to return fire in self-defense." The observers said that both sides had sustained casualties.

The battle was described as "intense" by the U.N. observers, who said that the Israeli military had taken "precautionary measures." The observers also said that the battle had lasted for more than two hours.

Dear Abby: But the whole world goes crazy if I say, "Look at the funny glasses on those school girls as we do a vol-tenberg stomp!" Do we have to dance like savages?

Dear Abby: I am a high school student who received a branded cookie for Christmas. I keep it in my bedroom, which seems to create a problem. My parents say that because it would not be there over the holidays, they should not have bought it.

How do you feel about this?

RUGGED

Dear Abby: I think you are wrong. Furthermore, your solution could give you a hairache. You depend too much on your parents for your development.

Dear Abby: A "Commercial" from Austin, Ga.,

recently wrote to express his concern about the metal plates that people have to wear over their hearts. He said that he wished they could be removed because he found it difficult to wear certain types of clothing. Would you have any advice for him?

Dear Abby: It is impossible to say without knowing more about your situation. However, I can tell you that there are devices available on the market that can help some people. It is best to consult a cardiologist for guidance.

WFL draft has everything

By FRANK RUSEY

NEW YORK (AP) — Many things had to happen for the WFL draft to have anything like the quality it had on the 39th round.

The Pooler, Georgia, residen t turned pro Dallas Stars, had nothing to do with the draft.

Northwestern North Caroli State's Mike Stallings was selected by the San Antonio Lightning.

The select draft was the last of the season, and even as the season ended, the pool of talent was much better than that of the final round.

Several WFL teams had scouts on hand, and at least one team has a non-WFL.

All the teams have to pick a two-round prize package off the shelf, and this year's package included three players who have already made a name for themselves.

In the 39th round,

WFL picks 9 Packers

NEW YORK (AP) — Green Bay Packers, regulars and prospects, will be chosen by the WFL.

The eight-round draft will be held Sunday, with the pickings starting at 8 a.m. in the Packers' dressing room.

The Packers have been among the most successful WFL teams, winning three straight titles.

The draft will be televised on WFL, with the networks showing the draft for the first time.

Vogelsang hits 267 game

The American League's 267th home run, hit by the New York Yankees' Roger Maris, was a mammoth 562-foot shot that soared out of the park in the fifth inning against the Detroit Tigers. Maris' seventh home run of the season put the Yankees up 2-0 in a game that they would go on to win 7-2. It was Maris' second home run of the series, and he became the first player to hit 267 home runs in a single season.

KOREA CITY, Iowa (AP) - Lute Olson, former assistant coach of the University of Oregon basketball team, has been named head coach of the Iowa State University basketball team. He is expected to bring a new sense of excitement and energy to the team.

Wooden expects a hostile crowd

LOS ANGELES (AP) - UCLA basketball coach John Wooden is preparing for what he calls a "hostile" crowd when his team travels to play at the University of Texas in Austin. "We are used to hostile crowds," Wooden said. "I've been told that the fans in Texas are some of the most vocal and passionate in the country. It will be a tough challenge for us, but we are up for it."

Wall Street steadies after sharp drop

NEW YORK (AP) - Wall Street steadied after a sharp drop on Monday, following a week of volatile trading. The Dow Jones Industrial Average fell 104 points, or 1.2%, to close at 8,520. The S&P 500 lost 13 points, or 1.2%, to 1,063, while the Nasdaq composite index dropped 31 points, or 1.3%, to 2,305. The drop was attributed to concerns about the economy and the ongoing conflict in Ukraine. However, the market企s immediate reaction was muted, suggesting a cautious approach to the news.

Winona markets taking a rest

BERNARDINO (AP) - The Winona markets, which have been offering livestock and poultry for the past few years, are taking a break this week. "We need to take a rest and give the animals a chance to recover," said one of the market organizers. The markets will resume next week, with new animals ready to go. She heard voices monitored at Wounded Knee: woman

By PAUL MARA (AP) - A maintenance woman at the Wounded Knee Trading Post and Hotel heard the voices that are monitored in the building. She said they were speaking in a language that she could not identify. She said she thought they were part of a government wiretapping operation.

When she and the workers moved away from the restaurant, she began to suspect that the voices were coming from the hotel. She said she heard them early Monday morning, and then called her superior, who had heard them before. She said the voices continued throughout the day, and then she heard them again at night.

When she and the workers heard the voices again, she said she called her superior, who had heard them before. She said the voices continued throughout the day, and then she heard them again at night.

The hotel management said they called the police, who said they would investigate.

Plane hijacker gets sentence of 50 years

PHILADELPHIA (AP) - A federal judge has sentenced a California man to 50 years in prison for his role in a hijacking that killed five people.

The judge, who has sentenced four other hijackers to life terms, said the hijacker had been involved in a series of hijackings, including one in which he killed four people.

The hijacker, who was arrested in New York City in 1984, was charged with murder, kidnapping, and conspiracy.

One of the hijackers had been convicted last year of killing a flight attendant in 1983, and was sentenced to life in prison.

The hijacker had been on a run-up to the bombing of a U.S. Embassy in Manila in 1983, which killed four people.

Farmer employment continues at five-year high

Farm employment in Minnesota is expected to rise in the coming years, according to a report by the state's commissioner of agriculture.

The report, which is based on data from the U.S. Department of Agriculture, found that farm employment in Minnesota has increased by 4 percent since 1980.

The commissioner said that the increase in farm employment is due to a combination of factors, including increased demand for agricultural products, improved technology, and rising prices.

The report also found that the number of farm operators in Minnesota has declined by 11 percent since 1980, while the number of farm workers has increased by 7 percent.

The commissioner said that the decline in the number of farm operators is due to a number of factors, including increased consolidation of farming operations and decreased profitability.

The commissioner said that the increase in farm workers is due to a number of factors, including increased demand for agricultural products and improved technology.

The report also found that the average farm worker in Minnesota is paid $18,000 a year, which is higher than the national average of $15,000.

The commissioner said that the increase in farm worker pay is due to a combination of factors, including increased demand for agricultural products, improved technology, and rising prices.
