Investigators decide Nixon owes $476,431 back taxes

By DAVID WALLACE

A political battle seen in France

WASHINGTON (AP) — California's Lt. governor, George Deukmejian, was indicted today on charges of perjury, conspiracy and misuse of office.

The charges were announced by U.S. Attorney General Edward J. Kennedy, who said Deukmejian had been involved in a plot to misuse state funds and carry out other illegal acts.

Deukmejian, a Republican, was arrested on a warrant issued by a federal judge.

Other considerations that might affect the outcome of the case include whether any evidence from the investigation will be admissible at a trial. The indictment alleges that Deukmejian used state money to pay for political campaigns and for personal expenses.

The charges carry a maximum sentence of 20 years in prison. If convicted, Deukmejian could face up to five years in jail for each count.

Deukmejian was released on bail pending his trial.

In a message to the Senate, President Ronald Reagan signed a bill authorizing $476,431 to be paid to the Treasury.

The President also signed a provision calling for a pay raise for state employees.

The bill was passed unanimously by the Senate and signed by President Reagan.

The legislation provides for a 5 percent pay raise for all state employees, including the Governor, lt. Governor, Attorney General, and other elected officials.

The raise, which takes effect immediately, is expected to cost the state approximately $10 million.

The President's signing of the bill comes as the state faces a budget crisis, with many state employees struggling to make ends meet.

The legislation also provides for a one-time payment of $576,000 to be paid to the Treasury to help offset the cost of the pay raise.

The President's action confirms his commitment to ensuring that state employees are fairly compensated for their work.

Best way to retire is to slide into it easily

CHICAGO (UPI) - The best way to retire is to slide into it slowly and gracefully, an orthopedist told a group of schoolchildren.

"It's not a good idea to work for a living and then try to retire abruptly," Dr. W. A. Marazak, Merrill, Wis., told the children.

"It's important to gradually scale back your activities so that you can enjoy retirement to its fullest." Marazak said.

"People who work hard and then suddenly stop altogether often find themselves bored and restless," he added.

Marazak, a specialist in orthopedics, suggested that people who are nearing retirement age begin to think about their future needs early in order to make the transition easier.

"It's important to think about what you want to do in retirement," he said. "You don't want to wake up one day and say, 'I wish I had planned for this.'"

"By planning ahead, you can ensure a happy and fulfilling retirement," Marazak emphasized.

Marazak's talk was part of a series of seminars for schoolchildren on the topic of retirement planning.

"It's never too early to start thinking about retirement," he said. "By taking small steps now, you can ensure a comfortable future."

Anderson to veto pay raise for legislators?

ST. PAUL, Minn. (AP) - Wendell Anderson is expected to announce his plans to give himself a 43 percent pay raise. It is the governor who has called a special session of the Legislature giving them until the end of the year to act on his pay raise request.

ST. PAUL, Minn. (AP) - The governor has called a special session for the lawmakers from $8,400 to $12,000 a year. "I am quite certain that the pay raise will not be vetoed by the governor," said Representative J. Robert Stasjan, the chairman of the legislative committee on the bill.

He said a majority of legislators "will stick around waiting for a veto."

Patton said it was very unlikely that the bill would be vetoed. He added that the legislature will likely not act on the governor's request.

The governor's office seems to have come up with a compromise to preserve pension benefits for state employees. For the first time in 30 years, the governor has vetoed a pay raise.

Kronholm, the third suspect, appeared before U.S. Magistrate J. Ove Tideman, who ordered Hodgman to be held without bail in the Federal Building.

Hodgman was convicted of murder in 1937 and served a 15-year sentence. He was released in 1952 and was later employed as a security guard at the post office.

Nixon's brother testifies at trial of Mitchell, Stans

By FREDERICK M. WINSLOW

United Press International

The U.S. Attorney General will not resign, the House of Representatives and the Senate have agreed. United Press International's sources have confirmed this, referring to the House's decision to move forward with impeachment proceedings. The House has voted to impeach Nixon on the basis of obstruction of justice.

Mitchell and former Secretary of the Treasury, John Connally, have both been named as potential co-conspirators in the Watergate scandal. Nixon's brother, John E. Mitchell, has been accused of accepting a bribe in the form of a $200,000 contribution to his re-election campaign. Nixon, who is retiring this month, has denied any involvement in the conspiracy.

Nixon said an old friend, Howard Cerny, who assisted him with the Watergate break-in, is still being questioned by the SEC. The SEC investigation is expected to last several more days, with other witnesses expected to testify.

As the trial progresses, the prosecution is expected to focus on the role of Nixon's brother, John E. Mitchell, in the Watergate scandal. Mitchell is expected to testify about his involvement in the conspiracy, and his testimony is likely to be a key factor in the outcome of the trial.

Winona man convicted on drunk driving charge

by TOM JONES

Daily News and Wavel Thomas A. Black, St. Thomas, was convicted yesterday in Winona of a charge of drunk driving. He was one of several people who were convicted of the same offense on the same day.

Both Kryzer and Nichols said police captain Joseph Kryzer, Mueller and Herbert Nichols, Court Judge Dennis A. Challeen delivered the verdict at 10:30 a.m. last night following the hearing. Kryzer said that Block had been drinking heavily and that he had driven drunk at the time of the accident.

Block was arrested near the county jail the night of the arrest, and that Block said that the beer contained alcohol. He denied that Block had been drinking, and that he had driven drunk at the time of the accident.

Black was found not guilty of the charge of drunk driving.

The bill contains a "catastrophic illness" provision under which would limit to $1,000 the medical expenses of $1,000. Mills said that he had been hunting in the area when he was killed.

Dear Abby:

I can't explain why a wealthy society, when eating out, always brings the former dinner with beer, wine, and everything else that is a treat and isn't free!

This is very generous where charity is concerned, for many of us are on a ward for bridge and lunch. And his conduct proves...

Begin by labeling the portions of meat, work about using serving utensils of its own, and ask if we all meet with our husbands, and when this week.

Pro football games may be anticlimactic

By Fred Lowell

Last year's Super Bowl was a real letdown for fans who had been looking forward to a thrilling exhibition of football.

Many fans were disappointed with the low-scoring game, which ended in a 7-0 win for the Miami Dolphins.

This year's Super Bowl is shaping up to be even more anticlimactic, according to some experts.

A key factor in the low-scoring games is the rise in defensive strategies, which has led to more teams focusing on stopping the other team's offense.

Another factor is the increased use of platoons and substitutions, which has made it harder for teams to keep up with the fast-paced game.

Finally, the rise in the popularity of the NFL has led to more media coverage of the league, which has made it harder for teams to keep their games secret.

Even so, there are still some fans who are looking forward to a thrilling finish to the game.

Meat-cutting the way we demand at Randall's takes a lot of skill, Ben. Because we sell only U.S.D.A. Choice meat...with the most-preferred proportion of fat to lean. It's bled through and through with tiny veins of fat that make it tender and flavorful. Then we age it naturally. So the exterior red meat is a darker red. And the interior meat is even juicier and more tender. Your job, Ben, is to trim away the firm fat covering—the waste and bone. So our customers get more of our tender, tasty meat per serving—at Randall's mini-pricing. It's one of the things that keeps them coming back to Randall's. So do it right, Ben. Next time, and the next and the next.

Randall's
Honest to goodness.

"Try again, Ben.
At Randall's we trim more waste from the meat."
