Washington D.C. (AP) — The fight being waged by the administration to keep the economy from falling into recession is spreading across the country as state after state tries to forestall a downturn.

The National Association of Manufacturers said it has 3,500 to 4,000 delegates from around the country set to attend a conference here this week, and it is encouraging them to keep a close eye on the economy and to work together to try to forestall a recession.

The group is calling for a series of steps to address the economy, including:
1. Cutting federal spending
2. Increasing infrastructure investment
3. Reducing corporate tax rates
4. Increasing support for small businesses
5. Encouraging innovation and job creation

The association is also calling for a comprehensive approach to fiscal policy, including:
1. A balanced budget
2. Cutting entitlement programs
3. Reducing the national debt
4. Increasing economic growth

The group is warning that unless these steps are taken, the economy could fall into recession in the near future.
Heroin addiction on rise: study

By JOHN STOWELL

WASHINGTON (AP) — Heroin addiction is steadily increasing in the United States, the National Institute on Drug Abuse said today. Experts believe there now are many addicts there were in the late 1960s caught most of us off guard," said Dr. Robert DuPont, the institute director, in the foreword to the report.

The institute released a new report, compiled what it calls a "Heroin Indicators Trend Report," which draws on a variety of sources of data to present heroin addiction levels, "The drug abuse explosion of the late 1960s caught most of us off guard," said Dr. Robert DuPont, the institute director, in the foreword to the report.

Eight years later, in 1975, 60% of U.S. heroin addicts, speed freaks, drug-related deaths , the "street price" of heroin sold and purity of heroin sold , jumps 19 per cent since mid-1973,

Minneapolis version of business deal

We had supposed that the Minneapolis stadium promoters regard their construction as the No. 1 project for all of Minnesota, but now we have confirmation of that from the Greater Minneapolis Chamber of Commerce.

> It is a covering letter for a set of questions and answers, the chamber labels the stadium as this "partly an economic issue for the State of Minnesota."

> Its answer, to justify the label, are divided into two parts:

1. One is economic — for Minneapolis and the metropolitan area.

2. The other one, the professional sports teams who will play there will also be "providing direct and indirect economic activity," that it will be "Minneapolis' turn to make money from the stadium.

And what does the Minneapolis chamber say about the children's interest in the future of the stadium?

> "Yes, when the professionals who want to share this with our young people and make them interested in sports and in our city," it says.

ST, PAUL, Minn. - There are many lawmakers who are good at the game of legislative chess, but the House Republicans' loss of control of the House last week means that the new members are going to have to learn how to play the game.

For example, look at what happened when the House took up the economic bill form of the Senate. The economic bill form of the Senate was defeated by a vote of 21 to 29, but the economic bill form of the House was passed by a vote of 48 to 39.

The strategy is simple. A member must be able to make a motion to reconsider and then use the motion to reconsider to force a vote on a specific amendment. The amendment can then be debated and voted on separately.

On the other hand, the Senate bill form of the House was defeated by a vote of 28 to 23, but the Senate bill form of the Senate was passed by a vote of 51 to 49.

Dear Abby:

There’s no way out:

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I had a New Year’s cocktail buffet party at home to which 50 people were invited. We began the party, as usual, with a few drinks before the guests arrived. With all the people we had invited, we felt that we should have a good time and not worry about what others might think of us.

DEAR ABBY: Is it true that when people are invited to a party and they have houseguests, they should decline invitations and act as if the hosts were not welcome? We have many friends with houseguests.

Male drivers less impatient, given right conditions

By DONALD B. HIRSCHBERG
WASHINGTON (AP) — Male drivers are less impatient in slow-moving traffic when they have a personal reason to be in a hurry, according to a government-sponsored research project.

A new study by the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration shows that drivers who are running late or who are trying to get to an important appointment tend to be more patient in slow-moving traffic.

The study involved 100 drivers who were divided into four groups based on their reasons for being in a hurry. Each group was observed for 15 minutes as they drove on a stretch of road with heavy traffic.

The results showed that drivers who were running late or trying to make an important appointment were more likely to maintain a safe distance from other vehicles and to avoid cutting off other drivers.

On the other hand, drivers who were not in a hurry were more likely to honk their horns or make other aggressive gestures.

The study was conducted by the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration and the National Bureau of Economic Research.

It was funded by a grant from the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration and the National Bureau of Economic Research.

Memorial service planned for county attorney

By Robert Shepler, Special to the Daily News

A memorial service for Assistant County Attorney David O’Dell, who was found dead last week in his home, will be held at 11 a.m. today in the Winona County Courthouse.

O’Dell, 49, was found dead in his home last week after arriving back from a trip to the West Coast. According to authorities, O’Dell had been at the airport when he received a call from his wife, who said that he was unresponsive.

County Attorney Paul Pisani said that O’Dell was a highly respected member of the legal community and a well-liked colleague. "He was a dedicated public servant who always put the needs of his clients first," Pisani said.

O’Dell had been with the county attorney’s office for 20 years and had served as an assistant county attorney for the past 10 years. He was well-known for his work on high-profile cases, including the prosecution of a serial killer who had eluded authorities for years.

In addition to serving as an assistant county attorney, O’Dell was also a member of the Winona County Bar Association and had served as its president in the past. He was also a member of the Minnesota State Bar Association and had served on several committees.

O’Dell is survived by his wife, two children, and two grandchildren. A memorial service will be held at 1 p.m. today in the Winona County Courthouse in memory of O’Dell.

Family and friends are invited to attend the service and pay their respects. The family requests that donations be made in memory of O’Dell to the Winona County Bar Association Scholarship Fund.

For more information, please contact the Winona County Bar Association at 651-631-5700.

Action delayed on request to teleview county meetings

By Robert Shepler, Special to the Daily News

The Winona County Board of Commissioners has delayed a request to teleview county meetings due to technical difficulties.

County board member Mike Johnson had requested that the meetings be televiewed to make them more accessible to the public. "I think it’s important to have transparent government," Johnson said. "It’s also a way to save money by not having to pay for a video conference each time a meeting is held.

However, County Board Chairman Dan Foley said that the request would need to be reconsidered due to technical issues. "We have to make sure that we have a functioning system in place before we move forward," Foley said.

Johnson said that he would be willing to work with the county on finding a solution. "I’m willing to listen to other ideas and suggestions," Johnson said.

The board will review the request again at its next meeting in two weeks.

For more information, please contact the Winona County Board of Commissioners at 651-631-5700.

Gopher '6' is singing blues

WOODMINES, Minn. (AP) — The Gopher '6' is surprising everyone, including the Gopher Mary, who is 75 years old and has been a Gopher fan all her life. "I never thought it would happen," she said. "But it did, and I'm so happy."

"I think I've been even more surprised than my son," said her husband, who is also a Gopher fan. "We had no idea it was going to happen.""I'm glad it happened," said the son, who is 21 years old. "It's been a long time coming, but I'm excited to see it happen."
Minnesota Twins and Vikings, the University of Minnesota football team and a new professional soccer team. Senate backers, realizing the bill was in trouble, employed the roely use device to move the bill from committee without a vote. The $49.5 million bill now goes to the House Appropriations Committee. The people of the State of Minnesota are sick and tired of the $47.5 million bill now goes to the House Appropriations Committee. The Senate bill as now written will not do. It is a thinly veiled attempt to get additional money for the stadium near downtown Minneapolis. The Senate Tax Committee, after a long fight, reversed itself on the stadium issue within a 12-hour period last week. The vote was on a motion merely to send the bill to the House. If the Senate Tax Committee approves the bill, it will be sent to the House. However, the job appears to be tougher in the Tax Committee. As the legislative session winded down, pressure was brought to bear on the Senate to move the bill through. The legislative session is scheduled to end Friday, and the Senate will meet on Saturday. It is probable that the Senate will vote on the bill on Monday. The people of Minnesota are sick and tired of the bill and the Senate's efforts to rush it through.
Sports in Brief

In Winona, Minnesota, a senior basketball player named Patrice Bumpus led the University of Minnesota Golden Gophers to victory over the University of North Dakota Fighting Sioux, scoring 23 points and grabbing 10 rebounds in the 89-61 win. Bumpus is a transfer from the University of Wisconsin-Madison and is a major contributor to the Gophers' success this season.

Farm-aid bill moves up

In the Minnesota Senate, the farm-aid bill moved closer to becoming law as it was approved by a 60-25 vote. The bill, which includes provisions for loan guarantees and disaster assistance, is expected to be signed into law by Governor Arne Carlson. The Senate committee addressed concerns about the bill's impact on farmers and small businesses, and made amendments to improve its provisions. The bill now moves to the House of Representatives for further consideration.

Humphrey shrugs off Callaway suspension

In Louisiana, Governor Edwin Edwards has announced that he will not seek re-election in 1976. This decision was prompted by the recent suspension of his administration by the State Police, which accused him of corruption and misuse of public funds. Edwards has denied the charges, and his announcement is expected to bring relief to his administration.

Catastrophic health insurance bill approved

A bill approved by the Minnesota Senate on Monday would establish a catastrophic health insurance program to provide coverage for people who exceed their normal medical expenses. The bill, which was passed by a 60-25 vote, is expected to be signed into law by Governor Arne Carlson. The measure would provide coverage for individuals who incur medical expenses of $10,000 or more in a single year.

Helen Nelson cards a 245, Rich Chuchna levels a 671

In high school swimming, Winona’s Helen Nelson set a new state record with a 245 at the state meet, while Rich Chuchna set a new record with a 671 in the state meet. Nelson placed first in the 500-yard freestyle and Chuchna placed second in the 100-yard breaststroke. These records highlight the impressive performances of these two athletes and their dedication to their sport.
