

Essays in Education* Call for Papers!

Essays in Education (EIE) welcomes your submission of papers and manuscripts. We are a professional, peer-reviewed journal intended to encourage practitioner dialogue on current and relevant issues across human services professions. EIE seeks to engage education practitioners across disciplines to aid in the timely dissemination and practical application of current and relevant research and study. Our goal is to encourage both novice and experienced educators to share their ideas and insights with a thoughtful and receptive audience.

Submissions within the scope of this journal include original articles, book reviews, summaries and recombinations of capstones, theses or dissertations, editorials, white papers, and other gray literature. If you are interested in submitting a manuscript, please visit the EIE website using the following link: <https://openriver.winona.edu/cgi/submit.cgi?context=eie>
